Blues Awards

To achieve a Blue, students must have demonstrated a level or standard of sporting achievement that the Blues panel identify as being appropriate (as per the criteria), as well as the following being taken into consideration where possible;

- Sportsmanship, general character and conduct of the nominee alongside the enthusiasm, interest and involvement for the sport in a University context
- The general standard of each sport at the University for that year and the number of Blues awarded for that particular sport in the past
- Neither representation of the University at a UTSNZ or New Zealand Universities Tournament nor the award of Blues in previous years shall mean the automatic award of a Blue for the current year
- The panel will consider adequate context (injury, illness, absence etc.) when assessing nominations
- For sports that do not immediately fit the criteria of achievement, the Blues panel can determine the equivalent standard
- Reaching these criteria does not automatically ensure the recommendation of a Blue by the Blues panel
- Sports will be considered as defined by Sport New Zealand
- Level of performance may be determined by National Sporting Organisation of that sport if required.

When assessing nominees for a Blue, the following will also be considered:

- The scale, standard, and level of competition of the sport nominated for within New Zealand, in consultation with the Victoria University of Wellington club and/or the National Sport Organisation
- The general standard of that sport at Victoria University of Wellington for the year
- The nominee's level of excellence and adequate representation of Victoria University of Wellington in the sport; except where adequate reasons are provided as to why they are not playing for the University (such as the level of competition available to them within the Victoria University of Wellington club)
