Course Content

MBUS 301 is for undergraduate students who have an interest in the Treaty of Waitangi claims process for hearing and settling grievances by Maori against the Crown. As at June 2005 there are over 1000 Treaty claims lodged with the Waitangi Tribunal. This course provides a comprehensive overview of the process of having a claim lodged, accepted, heard, reported on and when appropriate, settled.

The relationship between Maori and the Crown however, and rights and responsibilities stemming from that relationship encompass a much broader sphere than Treaty claims. The course also examines therefore, mechanisms other than the Tribunal process to address and redress Maori Treaty issues.

The course begins with discussion on the functions and objectives of the major institutions involved in Treaty claims including relevant Crown entities as well as the ways in which Iwi/Maori claimant groups organise themselves in a claims process. It then progresses into examining the importance of research to progressing a successful claim and identifies the key organisations and methodologies involved in claims research.

A key component to this course is to provide practical experience to participants of aspects of the claims process. Accordingly there will be presentations from claimants involved in both historical as well as contemporary Treaty claims.

The settlement process will then be examined with guest speakers outlining the Crown's approach to settlement and the experience of claimants who have already negotiated a settlement or are in the process of negotiating a settlement. The course will conclude with a discussion on the implications of a greater number of Maori planning their future in a post-settlement society.

Course Objectives

- To build an understanding of the key institutions and processes, Crown and Maori, involved in the addressing and redressing of Treaty of Waitangi claims;
- To provide methodologies for researching a claim and a claim settlement formula;
- To develop each students skills in undertaking a significant research project; and
- To provide a framework for analysing implications for Maori managing their resources in a post-settlement society.

Readings

The course provides a comprehensive reading folder to assist students to learn more about the course content:

These publications and other readings and case materials will be distributed during the course. Students are expected to read any assigned readings before the scheduled lectures.

Students are also encouraged to access the following relevant Internet websites at regular intervals throughout the course to keep informed of developments and locate resources for their research projects.

The Waitangi Tribunal www.waitangi-tribunal.govt.nz

The 'Tribunal's website is comprehensive and provides access to copies of all previously published Tribunals reports.

Te Puni Kokiri www.tpk.govt.nz

Provides access to current government initiatives, speeches and legislation relevant to Maori and contains a substantive link to relevant sites within New Zealand and around the world.

The Treaty Information Programme www.treatyofwaitangi.govt.nz

NZI governmental site established in May 2003 to enhance public knowledge of the Treaty

Materials and Equipment

There are no extra materials or equipment for this course

Assessment Requirements

MBUS 301 is 100% internally assessed. Assessment aims to test a variety of skills and enable students to exhibit their diverse strengths. Mark allocations

Journal	15%
Review Test	15%
Research Report	50%
Final Test	20%

Mandatory Course Requirements:

To fulfil the mandatory course requirements for MBUS 301 you must;

- Complete the review test and submit the research report by the due dates and attain at least a 'C' average
- Participate in the lectures.
- Attend and participate in the workshop
- Complete the final test and attain at least a 'C'

One day Workshop: Students will be expected to attend and participate in the MBUS 301 one-day workshop. Exemption from this workshop will only be given in extreme circumstances. If you anticipate you will have a problem attending the workshop, please contact the course co-ordinator before the workshop.

Penalties

Assignments: Assignments submitted after the due date will receive a penalty of 25% of the total mark for that assignment per day or part day, that they are late.

When calculating the late penalty Saturday, Sundays and public holidays WILL BE INCLUDED when counting the number of days that an assignment is late.

Assignments received more than seven (7) days after the deadline will not be accepted and the student will automatically fail terms.

Communication of Additional Information

Additional information or any changes to this course will be conveyed to students either during lecture times, postings on the notice board outside RH 1027, or on the Maori Business notice board on the mezzanine floor Rutherford House.

Requirements for Written Work

Marking

Staff aim to mark assignments promptly and return them to you in plenty of time for you to utilise the feedback in preparing your next assignment. Markers look for professionally presented work displaying a thorough understanding of the topic, a strong argument supported by sound evidence (appropriately referenced) and an ability to evaluate material.

A mark of 50 is a pass and indicates an adequate performance. Most students will meet an 'acceptable' standard of work throughout the year and a number will maintain an excellent standard. There are no "quotas" on any of these categories, so make use of the information available to you, and aim for the top.

Grades are awarded according to the following range of marks:

Mark	Grade	Comment
A+	85+	Exceptional
A	80-84	Outstanding
A-	75-79	Very good
B+	70-74
B	65-69	Competent
B-	60-64
C+	55-59	Acceptable
C	50-54
D	40-49	Flawed
E	below 40	Deficient

Presentation

All assignments should be typed and double-spaced with an adequate margin on the left-hand side of the page for markers' comments. Write on only one side of the page. Students should familiarize themselves with the standard University assignment writing procedures.

Referencing

Use of other people's ideas and material must be acknowledged. There are many different styles of referencing and the Faculty of Commerce & Administration at VUW has decided to make APA (American Psychological Association) referencing style the common standard across the Faculty. The Commerce and Central Libraries hold the APA Style Guide. You can also access the information from the online VUW library site (<http://www.vuw.ac.nz/library/resources/virtualref.shtml#style>)

Faculty of Commerce and Administration Offices

Railway West Wing (RWW) - FCA Student Administration Office

The Student Administration Office is located on the ground and first floors of the Railway West Wing. The ground floor counter is the first point of contact for general enquiries and FCA forms. Student Administration Advisers are available to discuss course status and give further advice about FCA qualifications.

Easterfield (EA) - FCA/Law Kelburn Office

The Kelburn Campus Office for the Faculties of Commerce & Administration and Law is situated in the Easterfield Building - it includes the ground floor reception desk (EA005) and offices 125a to 131 (Level 1). The office, will be open from 9:00 am to 5:00 pm during Trimester 2, offers the following:

- Duty tutors for student contact and advice.
- Information concerning administrative and academic matters.
- FCA Student Administration forms (e.g. application for academic transcripts, requests for degree audit, COP requests).
- Examinations-related information during the examination period.

Please note:

There will be a Student Administration Adviser, from the RWW office, based in EA005 from Monday 27 June to Friday 1 July (9:00 am to 5:00 pm) and from Monday 4 July to Friday 22 July (11:00 am to 1:00 pm).

General University Policies and Statutes

Students should familiarise themselves with the University's policies and statutes, particularly those regarding assessment and course of study requirements, and formal academic grievance procedures.

Student Conduct and Staff Conduct

The Statute on Student Conduct together with the Policy on Staff Conduct ensure that members of the University community are able to work, learn, study and participate in the academic and social aspects of the University's life in an atmosphere of safety and respect. The Statute on Student Conduct contains information on what conduct is prohibited and what steps can be taken if there is a complaint. For queries about complaint procedures under the Statute on Student Conduct, contact the Facilitator and Disputes Advisor. This Statute is available in the Faculty Student Administration Office or on the website at:

www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/StudentConduct.

The policy on Staff Conduct can be found on the VUW website at:

www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/StaffConduct.

Academic Grievances

If you have any academic problems with your course you should talk to the tutor or lecturer concerned or, if you are not satisfied with the result of that meeting, see the Head of School or the Associate Dean (Students) of your Faculty. Class representatives are available to assist you with this process. If, after trying the above channels, you are still unsatisfied, formal grievance procedures can be invoked. These are set out in the Academic Grievances Policy which is published on the VUW website:

www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/AcademicGrievances.

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism

Academic integrity is about honesty – put simply it means no cheating. All members of the University community are responsible for upholding academic integrity, which means staff and students are expected to behave honestly, fairly and with respect for others at all times.

Plagiarism is a form of cheating which undermines academic integrity. Plagiarism is prohibited at Victoria.

The University defines plagiarism as follows:

Plagiarism is presenting someone else's work as if it were your own, whether you mean to or not.

'Someone else's work' means anything that is not your own idea, even if it is presented in your own style. It includes material from books, journals or any other printed source, the work of other students or staff, information from the Internet, software programmes and other electronic material, designs and ideas. It also includes the organization or structuring of any such material.

Plagiarism is not worth the risk.

Any enrolled student found guilty of plagiarism will be subject to disciplinary procedures under the Statute on Student Conduct (www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/studentconduct) and may be penalized severely. Consequences of being found guilty of plagiarism can include:

- an oral or written warning
- suspension from class or university
- cancellation of your mark for an assessment or a fail grade for the course.

Find out more about plagiarism and how to avoid it, on the University's website at: www.vuw.ac.nz/home/studying/plagiarism.html.

Students with Disabilities

The University has a policy of reasonable accommodation of the needs of students with disabilities. The policy aims to give students with disabilities an equal opportunity with all other students to demonstrate their abilities. If you have a disability, impairment or chronic medical condition (temporary, permanent or recurring) that may impact on your ability to participate, learn and/or achieve in lectures and tutorials or in meeting the course requirements, then please contact the Course Coordinator as early in the course as possible. Alternatively you may wish to approach a Student Adviser from Disability Support Services to confidentially discuss your individual needs and the options and support that are available. Disability Support Services are located on Level 1, Robert Stout Building, or phoning 463-6070, email: disability@vuw.ac.nz. The name of your School's Disability Liaison Person can be obtained from the Administrative Assistant or the School Prospectus.

Student Support

Staff at Victoria want students' learning experiences at the University to be positive. If your academic progress is causing you concern, please contact the relevant Course Co-ordinator, or Associate Dean who will either help you directly or put you in contact with someone who can.

The Student Services Group is also available to provide a variety of support and services. Find out more at www.vuw.ac.nz/st_services/ or email student-services@vuw.ac.nz.

VUWSA employs two Education Coordinators who deal with academic problems and provide support, advice and advocacy services, as well as organising class representatives and faculty delegates. The Education Office is located on the ground floor, Student Union Building, phone 463 6983 or 463 6984, email education@vuwsa.org.nz.

Maori and Pacific Mentoring programme (Manaaki Pihipihinga)

This is a free programme of mentoring for Maori and Pacific students doing first year courses within the Faculty of Commerce and Administration. Weekly one hour mentoring sessions: drafting and editing assignments/discussing any questions that you might have from tutorials or lectures and going over every aspect of essay writing, either in small group sessions or on a one-to-one basis.

This includes:

- A computer suite hooked up to cyber commons for students to use to produce their assignments.
- Regular skill-based workshops with a learning adviser from Student Learning Support Services.
- Networking with other Maori and Pacific support groups throughout the university.
