MARK 314 CONCEPTUAL FOUNDATIONS OF MARKETING

Trimester 1 2006

COURSE OUTLINE

Contact Details

Peter November, Senior Lecturer in Business Administration, room 1124 in Rutherford House, telephone: 463-5431, email: peter.november@vuw.ac.nz. Leave an answer phone message if I am not in or a message on my door. In either case give information on how I can contact you.

Class Times and Room Numbers

Each week there will be a seminar from 9.30 to 10.20 pm on Monday and Friday in RLWY 501. In some weeks we may have an additional seminar from 3.40 to 4.30 pm on Wednesday, depending on what progress we make in the main two seminars. Each student will join a discussion group that will meet for one hour each week. In addition I expect to see each student individually at least three times during the course.

Course Objectives

Students will be able to:

1. Develop skills in critically analysing academic journal articles
2. Give an outline of the development of foundation concepts in the marketing literature.
3. Explain what marketing knowledge is and where it comes from.
4. Argue for their own conclusions on conceptual development in marketing.
5. Respond creatively and reflectively to marketing journal articles.

Course Content

An examination and overview of selected topic areas within the published marketing literature. The course traces the development of marketing thought and practice, and identifies topical areas of theoretical and empirical enquiry within the discipline.

Readings

All reading material will be provided or made available through the library.

Assessment Requirements

You will be expected to write a personal journal each week throughout this course in response to the course material. This must be available on demand throughout the course and always at our seminar. I regard the thoughts and reflections that you write in your journal a prime source of knowledge both for you and for other members of the course. There will be organised times when members of the course will read and comment on the journals of others. You may also be asked to read extracts from a journal to the class. However if you find another person's journal you should not read it but return it to the owner or hand it to me.

Your final mark will be entirely based on your journal. I will expect to read your journal regularly throughout the course. Your journal is 100% of course assessment.

Mandatory Course Requirements

There are no TERMS requirements for this course. However, attendance at seminars is only permitted if you have completed the required work for that seminar and have proof of this with you in your journal.

Communication of Additional Information

Any additional information on this course will be posted on the Marketing notice board in Rutherford House.

Faculty of Commerce and Administration Offices

Railway West Wing (RWW) - FCA Student Administration Office

The Student Administration Office is located on the ground and first floors of the Railway West Wing. The ground floor counter is the first point of contact for general enquiries and FCA forms. Student Administration Advisers are available to discuss course status and give further advice about FCA qualifications. To check for opening hours call the office on (04) 463 5376.

Easterfield (EA) - FCA/Law Kelburn Office

The Kelburn Campus Office for the Faculties of Commerce & Administration and Law is situated in the Easterfield Building - it includes the ground floor reception desk (EA005) and offices 125a to 131 (Level 1). The office is available for the following:

- Duty tutors for student contact and advice.
- Information concerning administrative and academic matters.
- FCA Student Administration forms (e.g. application for academic transcripts, requests for degree audit, COP requests).
- Examinations-related information during the examination period.

Check with the Student Administration Office for opening times (04) 463 5376.

General University Policies and Statutes

Students should familiarise themselves with the University's policies and statutes, particularly those regarding assessment and course of study requirements, and formal academic grievance procedures.

Student Conduct and Staff Conduct

The Statute on Student Conduct together with the Policy on Staff Conduct ensure that members of the University community are able to work, learn, study and participate in the academic and social aspects of the University's life in an atmosphere of safety and respect. The Statute on Student Conduct contains information on what conduct is prohibited and what steps can be taken if there is a complaint. For queries about complaint procedures under the Statute on Student Conduct, contact the Facilitator and Disputes Advisor. This Statute is available in the Faculty Student Administration Office or on the website at: www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/StudentConduct. The policy on Staff Conduct can be found on the VUW website at: www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/StaffConduct.

Academic Grievances

If you have any academic problems with your course you should talk to the tutor or lecturer concerned or, if you are not satisfied with the result of that meeting, see the Head of School or the Associate Dean (Students) of your Faculty. Class representatives are available to assist you with this process. If, after trying the above channels, you are still unsatisfied, formal grievance procedures can be invoked. These are set out in the Academic Grievances Policy which is published on the VUW website: www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/AcademicGrievances.

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism

Academic integrity is about honesty – put simply it means no cheating. All members of the University community are responsible for upholding academic integrity, which means staff and students are expected to behave honestly, fairly and with respect for others at all times.

Plagiarism is a form of cheating which undermines academic integrity. Plagiarism is prohibited at Victoria.

The University defines plagiarism as follows:

Plagiarism is presenting someone else's work as if it were your own, whether you mean to or not.

'Someone else's work' means anything that is not your own idea, even if it is presented in your own style. It includes material from books, journals or any other printed source, the work of other students or staff, information from the Internet, software programmes and other electronic material, designs and ideas. It also includes the organization or structuring of any such material.

Plagiarism is not worth the risk.

Any enrolled student found guilty of plagiarism will be subject to disciplinary procedures under the Statute on Student Conduct (www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/studentconduct) and may be penalized severely. Consequences of being found guilty of plagiarism can include:

- an oral or written warning
- suspension from class or university
- cancellation of your mark for an assessment or a fail grade for the course.

Find out more about plagiarism and how to avoid it, on the University's website at: www.vuw.ac.nz/home/studying/plagiarism.html.

Students with Disabilities

The University has a policy of reasonable accommodation of the needs of students with disabilities. The policy aims to give students with disabilities an equal opportunity with all other students to demonstrate their abilities. If you have a disability, impairment or chronic medical condition (temporary, permanent or recurring) that may impact on your ability to participate, learn and/or achieve in lectures and tutorials or in meeting the course requirements, then please contact the Course Coordinator as early in the course as possible. Alternatively you may wish to approach a Student Adviser from Disability Support Services to confidentially discuss your individual needs and the options and support that are available. Disability Support Services are located on Level 1, Robert Stout Building, or phoning 463-6070, email: disability@vuw.ac.nz. The name of your School's Disability Liaison Person can be obtained from the Administrative Assistant or the School Prospectus.

Student Support

Staff at Victoria want students' learning experiences at the University to be positive. If your academic progress is causing you concern, please contact the relevant Course Co-ordinator, or Associate Dean who will either help you directly or put you in contact with someone who can.

The Student Services Group is also available to provide a variety of support and services. Find out more at www.vuw.ac.nz/st_services/ or email student-services@vuw.ac.nz.

VUWSA employs two Education Coordinators who deal with academic problems and provide support, advice and advocacy services, as well as organising class representatives and faculty delegates. The Education Office is located on the ground floor, Student Union Building, phone 463 6983 or 463 6984, email education@vuwsa.org.nz.
