Dates:	27th February to 29th May 2006
Times:	5.40pm – 7.30pm
Venue:	RWW 129

Course Objectives:

Laws and ethics relating to the management and use of information and information systems. Topics may include: contract management; privacy and confidential information; intellectual property; electronic business; systems integrity; the regulatory environment; services provider liability; and telecommunication and Internet issues.

More specifically stated the course objectives are:

1. To create an opportunity for students to explore the legal and ethical issues arising from the availability and use of a variety of information technologies.

2. To understand how ethics and the law relate to one another, and therefore how IT is driving ethical considerations and legislation
3. To create awareness of the problems associated with procurement contracts, service level agreements and other legal documents integral to Information Systems management and electronic commerce.
4. To provide opportunities for students to explore issues relating to Intellectual property rights, Privacy laws, the Electronic Transactions Act, Legal Deposit and Archives Acts and similar legislation as it impacts on, or is affected by, Information Technology.
5. To understand the role of national jurisdictions in these international concerns.

Note that this course is not a course in either ethical philosophy or in jurisprudence. It is intended to sensitize students to legal and ethical issues that impact on management considerations in an information age.

Learning Outcomes:

By the end of this course students should be able to:

- Undertake library and Internet research and record their findings according to standard academic requirements.
- Discuss intelligently legal and ethical issues in Information Management, what they are, what makes them important, what Information Managers should be doing about them, and what the consequences are for managers in business and government.
- Understand some of the important ethical principles upon which nations are building their legislative response to information and communications technological developments.
- Evaluate the opportunities and limitations that this legislation places upon managers both within New Zealand and elsewhere.

Paper Content and schedule:

Modules will more or less equate to lectures, depending on progress made each week

1. Introduction to the course and preparing for undertaking and writing up academic research.
2. Electronic commerce and Information Management – some philosophical principles as a point of departure. Lessig’s paradigm
3. Some ethical issues in Information Systems management. Ethics and legality.
4. Some ethical approaches to ethical issues.
5. Case study
6. Where is government in this? Some ethical nightmares. International jurisdictions and legislation
7. Ethics and the law. Contracts. Identifying the problem.
8. RfPs and invitation to tender. IT contracts, the tendering process, outsourcing and service level agreements. Evaluating responses.
9. Intellectual property rights, Privacy, Electronic Transactions Acts and legislation affecting individuals and businesses. Legal Deposit and Archives Acts, and laws affecting government, etc.
10. Legal and ethical conflicts – considerations for the future

11. Sum up and consequences for managers
12. Final case study

Paper Resource Materials:

The set work for this course will be:-

Rosenberg, R S (2004) The social impact of computers. 3rd ed. London; Elsevier Academic Press. (ISBN 0-12-597121-4)

Extensive use will also be made of the Internet to obtain current legal material. Student assignments will also be prepared from information available in the library and on the Internet, but care should be taken to ensure that only authoritative sources are used. Because the topics dealt with change so fast, where appropriate, readings will be handed out to students. Use will also be made of the teaching and communications potential available through Blackboard software on the VUW website.

It is expected that students will have ready access to a personal computer as well as Internet access. This will be necessary for receiving and sending course-related email, for accessing the course web site on Blackboard, and for other similar purposes.

Course website:

Full course details and course materials are, or will be, available on Blackboard at :

<http://blackboard.vuw.ac.nz>

Please check the web site regularly.

Course assignment:

Depending on numbers, students may be divided into groups. There will be two class assignments – a spoken class presentation and a discussion of another class presentation. The major written assignment will be an investigation into privacy statements of banks. The various submissions will contribute to the course mark of each student according to the assessment ratio given below. Details will be made in class as soon as the student numbers of the class are known.

Assessment:

- | | |
|-------------------------------|-----|
| • Class presentation | 15% |
| • Discussion and bibliography | 15% |
| • Individual written project | 30% |
| • Mid-term case study | 20% |
| • Final case study | 20% |

Terms:

- Attendance at 75% of lectures.

- Completion of all assignments on time and in format required
- A minimum of 45% for both the mid-term and the final case studies

Grading standards:

Letter Grade	Number grade	Approx Dist'n *	Simple Description	More Complete Description
A+	Over 84	4%	Outstanding	Far exceeds requirements, flawless, creative
A	80-84	10%	Excellent	Polished, original, demonstrating mastery
A-	75-79	14%	Very Good	Some originality, exceeds all requirements
B+	70-74	22%	Good	Exceeds requirements in some respects
B	65-69	26%	Satisfactory	Fulfills requirements in general
B-	60-64	18%	Acceptable	Only minor flaws. Unoriginal
C+	55-59	4%	Pass	Mistakes, recapitulation of course material
C	50-54	2%	Minimum pass	Serious mistakes or deficiencies
D	40-49	1%	Unacceptable	Little understanding, poor performance
E	00-39	1%	Fail	Below the minimum required

* This is the hypothetical percentage of students that would attain the various levels of performance, over several repetitions of the course, under similar conditions. It is recognised that the distribution in a particular course, particularly with small enrolment, may differ markedly from the long-term distribution.

 The lecturer will develop a more complete or specific description of the meaning of the various levels of performance based upon the specific nature of the assessment in a course. For example, performance may be determined by the qualities of a written report, a classroom presentation, or work in a group project. The words used to describe these kinds of assessments will obviously vary.

Faculty of Commerce and Administration Offices

Railway West Wing (RWW) - FCA Student Administration Office

The Student Administration Office is located on the ground and first floors of the Railway West Wing. The ground floor counter is the first point of contact for general enquiries and FCA forms. Student Administration Advisers are available to discuss course status and give further advice about FCA qualifications. To check for opening hours call the office on (04) 463 5376.

Easterfield (EA) - FCA/Law Kelburn Office

The Kelburn Campus Office for the Faculties of Commerce & Administration and Law is situated in the Easterfield Building - it includes the ground floor reception desk (EA005) and offices 125a to 131 (Level 1). The office is available for the following:

- Duty tutors for student contact and advice.
- Information concerning administrative and academic matters.
- FCA Student Administration forms (e.g. application for academic transcripts, requests for degree audit, COP requests).
- Examinations-related information during the examination period.

Check with the Student Administration Office for opening times (04) 463 5376.

General University Policies and Statutes

Students should familiarise themselves with the University's policies and statutes, particularly those regarding assessment and course of study requirements, and formal academic grievance procedures.

Student Conduct and Staff Conduct

The Statute on Student Conduct together with the Policy on Staff Conduct ensure that members of the University community are able to work, learn, study and participate in the academic and social aspects of the University's life in an atmosphere of safety and respect. The Statute on Student Conduct contains information on what conduct is prohibited and what steps can be taken if there is a complaint. For queries about complaint procedures under the Statute on Student Conduct, contact the Facilitator and Disputes Advisor. This Statute is available in the Faculty Student Administration Office or on the website at: www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/StudentConduct.

The policy on Staff Conduct can be found on the VUW website at: www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/StaffConduct.

Academic Grievances

If you have any academic problems with your course you should talk to the tutor or lecturer concerned or, if you are not satisfied with the result of that meeting, see the Head of School or the Associate Dean (Students) of your Faculty. Class representatives are available to assist you with this process. If, after trying the above channels, you are still unsatisfied, formal grievance procedures can be invoked. These are set out in the Academic Grievances Policy which is published on the VUW website:

www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/AcademicGrievances.

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism

Academic integrity is about honesty – put simply it means no cheating. All members of the University community are responsible for upholding academic integrity, which means staff and students are expected to behave honestly, fairly and with respect for others at all times.

Plagiarism is a form of cheating which undermines academic integrity. Plagiarism is prohibited at Victoria.

The University defines plagiarism as follows:

Plagiarism is presenting someone else's work as if it were your own, whether you mean to or not.

'Someone else's work' means anything that is not your own idea, even if it is presented in your own style. It includes material from books, journals or any other printed source, the work of other students or staff, information from the Internet, software programmes and other electronic material, designs and ideas. It also includes the organization or structuring of any such material.

Plagiarism is not worth the risk.

Any enrolled student found guilty of plagiarism will be subject to disciplinary procedures under the Statute on Student Conduct (www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/studentconduct) and may be penalized severely. Consequences of being found guilty of plagiarism can include:

- an oral or written warning
- suspension from class or university
- cancellation of your mark for an assessment or a fail grade for the course.

Find out more about plagiarism and how to avoid it, on the University's website at: www.vuw.ac.nz/home/studying/plagiarism.html.

Students with Disabilities

The University has a policy of reasonable accommodation of the needs of students with disabilities. The policy aims to give students with disabilities an equal opportunity with all other students to demonstrate their abilities. If you have a disability, impairment or chronic medical condition (temporary, permanent or recurring) that may impact on your ability to participate, learn and/or achieve in lectures and tutorials or in meeting the course requirements, then please contact the Course Coordinator as early in the course as possible. Alternatively you may wish to approach a Student Adviser from Disability Support Services to confidentially discuss your individual needs and the options and support that are available. Disability Support Services are located on Level 1, Robert Stout Building, or phoning 463-6070, email: disability@vuw.ac.nz. The name of your School's Disability Liaison Person can be obtained from the Administrative Assistant or the School Prospectus.

Student Support

Staff at Victoria want students' learning experiences at the University to be positive. If your academic progress is causing you concern, please contact the relevant Course Co-ordinator, or Associate Dean who will either help you directly or put you in contact with someone who can.

The Student Services Group is also available to provide a variety of support and services. Find out more at www.vuw.ac.nz/st_services/ or email student-services@vuw.ac.nz.

VUWSA employs two Education Coordinators who deal with academic problems and provide support, advice and advocacy services, as well as organising class representatives and faculty delegates. The Education Office is located on the ground floor, Student Union Building, phone 463 6983 or 463 6984, email education@vuwsa.org.nz.
