Assignments should not be sent to the above address; see the details under 'Assessment' below. Non-assignment material being delivered by courier or in person should go to the SIM Administration Office, EA 121, Easterfield Building, Kelburn Campus, Victoria University of Wellington.

Course description

INFO 534 is intended to give students a broad acquaintance with two main areas in record keeping:

- the history, theories, and concepts guiding the management of records;
- the methodologies and practices underlying the acquisition, selection, arrangement and description, preservation, and use of archives.

The emerging emphasis in the literature on the relationship of the records management and archives professions to the broader discipline of recordkeeping will underlie the discussions in the above areas.

Learning objectives

By the end of the INFO 534 course, students should:

1. Gain an overview of the basic concepts and theories of recordkeeping, and its historical development, with an emphasis on archives administration.
2. Be aware of the relationships between the archivist's work and the work of records managers and other information professionals.
3. Be able to define the distinctive characteristics of records/archives in relation to other forms of recorded information.
4. Develop an introductory knowledge of the major archives management functions, principles, and techniques.
5. Gain an understanding of the major considerations, tools, and processes involved in organising and managing an archives programme.
6. Be aware of the major issues facing archivists, particularly marketing and electronic records.
7. Develop an appreciation of the ethical and bicultural considerations in the management of archives.

Time commitment

To achieve satisfactory grades, you should not need to spend more than twelve hours per week on INFO 534, including the time spent in the weekly session. The balance of your time should be spent reading the material in the CD-ROM and on the Internet, and doing your assignments and preparation for the weekly sessions.

Each week, discussion will be based on both:

- required readings from the material provided;
- introductory material, discussion points and exercises.

In addition, the Blackboard Web-based learning environment will be used to post course information notices, and enable ongoing electronic discussion forums on topics or issues introduced in or out of class. Students are also encouraged to use Blackboard for information sharing, and to post questions for electronic and in-class discussion.

Please note: All other course information and any updates or announcements are available only on the course Blackboard website. See 'Online information' for more on this.

Course resources

The material for INFO 534 includes: this course information section (in which the contents of the INFO 534 course are discussed along with course-specific administrative information and Internet conference or internal session details); and a CD-ROM containing readings associated with each of the 12 modules. The CD-ROM is augmented with material on the Blackboard website for INFO 534, available at <http://blackboard.vuw.ac.nz>

See 'Online information' for more on this. Within the module course notes, readings are indicated as follows:

Now read Greene, M. (2002). The power of meaning: The archival mission in the postmodern age. American Archivist 65(1), 42–55.
(Reading 4)

You should complete the reading before continuing with the module notes. These readings are either included as a PDF on the CD-ROM in the study module to which they apply (as in this case), or are available on the Internet. Boxes in this format:

Based on readings by Duranti and Greene, what is your initial perception and understanding of the role and the mission of the archivist? Do the writers differ in their views? If so, how?

contain self-review questions. You should consider these, and jot down your answers or conclusions, before continuing with the module text. These self-review questions will usually be discussed during the weekly session for the module.

The study notes for each module include a section entitled 'Preparation for the weekly session'. You should make sure that you prepare the work listed in this section, including all the practical exercises and discussion points, before the weekly session for that module. Reading this section before starting work on the module will help you to use your study time effectively.

In addition, the Blackboard Web-based learning environment will be used to post course information notices, and enable ongoing electronic discussion forums on topics or issues introduced in or out of class. Students are also encouraged to use Blackboard for information sharing, and to post questions for electronic and in-class discussion.

Using or quoting material from the course notes

The course notes used in the LIM programmes have been developed over a period of time, and as a result are likely to include new material contributed by the coordinator and staff involved in the current offering of the course, as well as material contributed by staff involved in earlier offerings. Every effort has been made by our academic and editorial staff to ensure that all material is correctly attributed and complies with the University's copyright license obligations.

If quoting or referring to material written for this course, you should treat it as being contributed anonymously rather than being attributable to the person delivering the particular module in which it appears, unless the authorship is clearly indicated.

General University Policies and Statutes

Students should familiarise themselves with the University's policies and statutes, particularly the Assessment Statute, the Personal Courses of Study Statute, the Statute on Student Conduct and any statutes relating to the particular qualifications being studied; see the Victoria University Calendar available in hard copy or under 'About Victoria' on the VUW home page at www.vuw.ac.nz.

Student and Staff Conduct

The Statute on Student Conduct together with the Policy on Staff Conduct ensure that members of the University community are able to work, learn, study and participate in the academic and social aspects of the University's life in an atmosphere of safety and respect. The Statute on Student Conduct contains information on what conduct is prohibited and what steps are to be taken if there is a complaint. For information about complaint procedures under the Statute on Student Conduct, contact the Facilitator and Disputes Advisor or refer to the statute on the VUW policy website at www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/studentconduct. The Policy on Staff Conduct can be found on the VUW website at www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/staffconduct.

Academic Grievances

If you have any academic problems with your course you should talk to the tutor or lecturer concerned; class representatives may be able to help you in this. If you are not satisfied with the result of that meeting, see the Head of School or the relevant Associate Dean; VUWSA Education Coordinators are available to assist in this process. If, after trying the above channels, you are still unsatisfied, formal grievance procedures can be invoked. These are set out in the Academic Grievances Policy which is published on the VUW website at <http://www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/academicgrievances>.

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism

Academic integrity is about honesty – put simply it means no cheating. All members of the University community are responsible for upholding academic integrity, which means staff and students are expected to behave honestly, fairly and with respect for others at all times.

Plagiarism is a form of cheating which undermines academic integrity. The University defines plagiarism as follows:

The presentation of the work of another person or other persons as if it were one's own, whether intended or not. This includes published or unpublished work, material on the Internet and the work of other student or staff.

It is still plagiarism even if you re-structure the material or present it in your own style or words.

Note: It is however, perfectly acceptable to include the work of others as long as that is acknowledged by appropriate referencing.

Plagiarism is prohibited at Victoria and is not worth the risk. Any enrolled student found guilty of plagiarism will be subject to disciplinary procedures under the Statute on Student Conduct and may be penalised severely. Consequences of being found guilty of plagiarism can include:

- an oral or written warning
- cancellation of your mark for an assessment or a fail grade for the course
- suspension from the course or the University.

Find out more about plagiarism, and how to avoid it, on the University's website at www.vuw.ac.nz/home/studying/plagiarism.html.

Students with Impairments

The University has a policy of reasonable accommodation of the needs of students with disabilities. The policy aims to give students with disabilities the same opportunity as other students to demonstrate their abilities. If you have a disability, impairment or chronic medical condition (temporary, permanent or recurring) that may impact on your ability to participate, learn and/or achieve in lectures and tutorials or in meeting the course requirements, please contact the Course Coordinator as early in the course as possible. Alternatively you may wish to approach a Student Adviser from Disability Support Services (DSS) to discuss your individual needs and the available options and support on a confidential basis. DSS are located on Level 1, Robert Stout Building, telephone (04) 463 6070, email disability@vuw.ac.nz. The name of your School's Disability Liaison Person is in the relevant prospectus or can be obtained from the School Office or DSS.

Student Support

Staff at Victoria want students to have positive learning experiences at the University. Each Faculty has a designated staff member who can either help you directly if your academic progress is causing you concern, or quickly put you in contact with someone who can. Assistance for specific groups is also available from the Kaiwawao Māori, Manaaki Pihipihinga or Victoria International. In addition, the Student Services Group (email student-services@vuw.ac.nz) is available to provide a variety of support and services.
