Course Objectives

At the end of the course, you will be able to:

- 1. Apply the concept of human communications as a multilevel activity that can be facilitated by communications technologies. The communications levels are: Intrapersonal, Interpersonal, Group, Intercultural, Organisational, National, Regional, and Global;
- 2. Apply the concept of information technology (with special reference to the Internet) as a parallel communications activity that is developing;
- 3. Apply the theories behind these concepts to communication phenomena in a written assignment;
- 4. Present these ideas in a face to face mode that matches the new ways of new media with the old ways of old media.

Course Content

The course examines communications theories and information technology in parallel as they apply to human communications at intrapersonal, interpersonal, group, cultural, organisational, national, regional and global levels. At each level, the impact of old media such as print, radio and television, and new media and applications such as nanotechnology, HyperReality, clever clothes and artificial intelligence (AI) will bring about changes in how we communicate. The course seeks the balance between localisation and globalisation.

Expected Workload

Per week: Contact time: 2 hours lectures; 1 hour tutorial; Private Study: 8-10 hours working on readings, assignments, and seeking academic resources on the Internet.

Readings

You are required to do the readings before classes, not after.

Set Text: COMM 201 (Human Communications and Information Technology) 2007 Students Notes and Readings, to be purchased from the Students Notes Centre Kelburn Campus.

- 1. You are required to search the Web for additional resources and post on Blackboard. Handouts will be distributed in class when appropriate
- 2. Powerpoints and other relevant information will be posted on Blackboard. Additional readings are available from the three-day loan section in the Library, Kelburn Campus.
- 3. Check Blackboard daily.

Assessment Requirements

This is an internally assessed course. All assignments will relate to the Course Objectives, Lectures and Readings. Grading schedule: 85%+ is A+; 80-84 is A; 75-79 is A-; 70-74 B+; 66-69 B; 60-65 B-; 55-59 C+; 50-54 C (the pass grade).

You are expected to attend all lectures, tutorials and complete the readings. As this course deals with new developments and ideas, you need to be there in order to learn so that you can improve your own communications skills and share ideas with your lecturers, tutors and peers.

Student work provided for assessment in this course may be checked for academic integrity by the electronic search engine, http://www.turnitin.com to detect plagiarism and identify material that may have been copied from other sources without attribution including the Internet, books, journals, periodicals or the work of other students.

Assignments

NOTE: The assignments and Test will cover ideas and concepts covered in lectures, tutorials AND Readings. No extensions will be granted except for illness (with doctor's certificate) or bereavement.

Marking Criteria

- Content (breadth and depth of treatment)
- Style (presentation, format, syntax, referencing etc)
- Organisation (structure of argument/thesis)
- Impact (on reader, audience etc)

1. Log for inter and intrapersonal and group communications. You will apply the theories that explain Intra, Inter and Group communications by keeping a log of your lectures and tutorials so that you can at the end of week 5 say why you think a particular theory does or does not work for you. For each of these levels select two theories and apply them to the way you communicate with yourself, with a significant other and in tutorial or group activities. To what extent do the theories explain how you communicate? Use MS Word, double spacing and hand in hard copy to me. You may include diagrams and pictures.

Max 2000 words Mark 30 % Due: 15 August

2. Oral Presentation

To be conducted during tutorials. You have five minutes exactly to convince the senior management of a NZ company (or a company in your own country) to invest in an information technology. You may choose the company and the technology and you may use any resources that are practical in the tutorial room. You will be assessed for content and presentation. You are required to hand in a hard copy of your presentation (including powerpoints). There are no second chances.

Mark: 30%

Due dates: 12 September to 5 October. The order of presentations will be arranged, and if student numbers are high, we may have to arrange this exercise on a Saturday. See Blackboard for announcements.

3. TEST

This will be in two parts. Part 1 will test your knowledge of the concepts and theories in the form of multiple choice, and short answer questions. Part 2 will test, in writing, your ability to apply the concepts to the three questions set.

Time: 50 minutes Mark: 40 % Date: 10 October

Penalties

Exceeding word or time limits for assignments will be penalised by loss of 1 mark for every 30 words more, and 1 mark for every 2 minutes more (for assignment 2).

Mandatory Course Requirements

Complete ALL the assignments (including the test) and gain a 'C' pass grade in each.

Communication of Additional Information

Blackboard will be used for class communications and all course related information for COMM 201. You are expected to log on to Blackboard and check the course website daily and use the Discussion Board.

Faculty of Commerce and Administration Offices

Railway West Wing (RWW) - FCA Student and Academic Services Office

The Faculty's Student and Academic Services Office is located on the ground and first floors of the Railway West Wing. The ground floor counter is the first point of contact for general enquiries and FCA forms. Student Administration Advisers are available to discuss course status and give further advice about FCA qualifications. To check for opening hours call the Student and Academic Services Office on (04) 463 5376.

Manaaki Pihipihinga Programme

Manaaki Pihipihinga is an academic mentoring programme for undergraduate Māori and Pacific students in the Faculties of Commerce and Administration, and Humanities and Social Sciences. Sessions are held at the Kelburn and Pipitea Campuses in the Mentoring Rooms, 14 Kelburn Parade (back courtyard), Room 109D, and Room 210, Level 2, Railway West Wing. There is also a Pacific Support Coordinator who assists Pacific students by linking them to the services and support they need while studying at Victoria. Another feature of the programme is a support network for Postgraduate students with links to Postgraduate workshops and activities around Campus.

For further information, or to register with the programme, email manaaki-pihipihinga-programme@vuw.ac.nz or phone (04) 463 5233 ext. 8977. To contact the Pacific Support Coordinator, email pacific-support-coord@vuw.ac.nz or phone (04) 463 5842.
