ECON 414 THEORIES OF GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT

Trimester One 2008

COURSE OUTLINE

---

Contact Details

COORDINATOR/LECTURER: Dr. Geoff Bertram, office RH 423, telephone:
4635814; Email: Geoff.Bertram@vuw.ac.nz

Class Times and Room Numbers

TIMETABLE:

Thursdays 9.30-11.20 in RWW 126.

EXAM PERIOD: 2 – 25 June 2007

Course Objectives

The course covers modern mainstream theories of economic growth, including the neoclassical Solow-Swan mode, the intertemporal-optimisation Ramsey-Koopmans-Cass model, simple endogenous models with constant returns to capital (AK models), “new” endogenous models with endogenous technical progress and/or population, and recent developments in debates on the convergence hypothesis and the quest for a “unified theory”. For the first half of the trimester the main text and related material will be covered in lectures. In the second half, class members will give prepared presentations on book chapters, monographs and journal articles from the reading list to be supplied in class.

Course Content

For the first half of the trimester the main text and related material will be covered in lectures. In the second half, class members will give prepared presentations on chapters from the Aghion/Durlauf Handbook, and/or selected journal articles and monographs from the reading list to be supplied in class. PDF files of key readings will be posted on the course Blackboard site.

Expected Workload

Honours study is generally expected to require at least 12.5 hours per week. The class will normally meet for two hours each Thursday morning. Students will be expected to put in at least two hours each week reading the background material for the session, in addition to which each student will be expected to prepare detailed presentations, summarising and evaluating allocated pieces from the literature and leading discussion. The presentation notes may be revised following the session but must then be handed in to form part of the assessment material for the course. At certain points in the course problems from the textbook may be set as assignments, and good marks on these assignments may be credited as part of a student's assessment material.

Group Work

Students are encouraged to collaborate in reviewing material and preparing for presentations, but all assessment will rest on individual performance and contributions.

Readings

The set text is Robert Barro and Xavier Sala-i-Martin, Economic Growth, MIT Press, 2nd ed 2004. Students are expected to purchase a copy, which may be taken into the final examination. (No other material may be taken into the examination room.)

The main supplementary text is Philippe Aghion and Steven Durlauf (eds) Handbook of Economic Growth Volumes 1A and 1B, North Holland, 2005 and 2006. Photocopies will be distributed of key chapters selected for study, and copies of both volumes are on closed reserve in the Commerce Library.

SUPPLEMENTARY TEXTBOOK TREATMENTS OF THE FIELD:

Romer, David, Advanced Macroeconomics, McGraw-Hill, 2nd ed 2001, Chapters 1-3. (A rigorous graduate-level treatment of the neoclassical and endogenous-growth models.)

Jones, C.I., Introduction to Economic Growth (2nd edition, Norton, 2002). (An undergraduate-level text.)

Maddison, Angus, The World Economy: Historical Statistics, OECD 2003. No hard copy in the library, but available online through SourceOECD via the Library; the link you should be able to access from on-campus computers is <http://new.sourceoecd.org/9264104127> (Long-run data series for GDP per capita.)

Nelson, R.R., Technology, Institutions and Economic Growth (Harvard University Press 2005). (A heavy-duty critique of the whole neoclassical growth paradigm, emphasising technical change and disequilibrium.)

Snowdon, B., Conversations on Growth, Stability and Trade (Edward Elgar, 2003) Chapters 1-3. (An excellent layperson's guide to the current state of the growth literature.)

Miles, D. and Scott, A., Macroeconomics: Understanding the Wealth of Nations (John Wiley & Sons, 2002) Chapters 4-7. (A general applied approach to growth economics.)

Easterly, W., The Elusive Quest for Growth: Economists' Adventures and Misadventures in the Tropics (MIT Press 2002). (An issue-by-issue engagement with the relationship of theory to reality, by a former World Bank economist.)

For a wide-ranging set of papers on issues that will turn up in ECON 415, see Journal of Monetary Economics 50(1): 1-308, January 2003.

Assessment Requirements

The final mark will be on the basis of the final two-hour examination and marks given on oral and written presentations and/or assignments. Presentations/assignments will be weighted 35% and the final examination 65%.

Mandatory Course Requirements

Each student must prepare and deliver two in-class presentations.

Communication of Additional Information

All necessary information will be placed on Blackboard

Notice of Turnitin Use

Student work provided for assessment in this course may be checked for academic integrity by the electronic search engine <<http://www.turnitin.com>>. Turnitin is an on-line plagiarism prevention tool which identifies material that may have been copied from other sources including the Internet, books, journals, periodicals or the work of other students. Turnitin is used to assist academic staff in detecting misreferencing, misquotation, and the inclusion of unattributed material, which may be forms of cheating or plagiarism. At the discretion of the School, handwritten work may be copy typed by the School and subject to checking by Turnitin. You are strongly advised to check with your tutor or the course coordinator if you are uncertain about how to use and cite material from other sources. Turnitin will retain a copy of submitted materials on behalf of the University for detection of future plagiarism, but access to the full text of submissions will not be made available to any other party.

General University Policies and Statutes

Students should familiarise themselves with the University's policies and statutes, particularly the Assessment Statute, the Personal Courses of Study Statute, the Statute on Student Conduct and any statutes relating to the particular qualifications being studied; see the Victoria University Calendar or go to www.victoria.ac.nz/home/about/policy/students.aspx

For information on the following topics, go to the Faculty's website www.victoria.ac.nz/fca under Important Information for Students:

- Academic Grievances
- Student and Staff Conduct
- Meeting the Needs of Students with Impairments
- Student Support

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism

Academic integrity is about honesty – put simply it means no cheating. All members of the University community are responsible for upholding academic integrity, which means staff and students are expected to behave honestly, fairly and with respect for others at all times.

Plagiarism is a form of cheating which undermines academic integrity. The University defines plagiarism as follows:

The presentation of the work of another person or other persons as if it were one's own, whether intended or not. This includes published or unpublished work, material on the Internet and the work of other students or staff.

It is still plagiarism even if you re-structure the material or present it in your own style or words.

Note: It is however, perfectly acceptable to include the work of others as long as that is acknowledged by appropriate referencing.

Plagiarism is prohibited at Victoria and is not worth the risk. Any enrolled student found guilty of plagiarism will be subject to disciplinary procedures under the Statute on Student Conduct and may be penalized severely. Consequences of being found guilty of plagiarism can include:

- an oral or written warning
- cancellation of your mark for an assessment or a fail grade for the course
- suspension from the course or the University.

Find out more about plagiarism, and how to avoid it, on the University's website:

Manaaki Pihipihinga Programme

Manaaki Pihipihinga is an academic mentoring programme for undergraduate Māori and Pacific students in the Faculties of Commerce and Administration, and Humanities and Social Sciences. Sessions are held at the Kelburn and Pipitea Campuses in the Mentoring Rooms, 14 Kelburn Parade (back courtyard), Room 109D, and Room 210, Level 2, Railway West Wing. There is also a Pacific Support Coordinator who assists Pacific students by linking them to the services and support they need while studying at Victoria. Another feature of the programme is a support network for Postgraduate students with links to Postgraduate workshops and activities around Campus.

For further information, or to register with the programme, email manaaki-pihipihinga-programme@vuw.ac.nz or phone (04) 463 6015. To contact the Pacific Support Coordinator, email pacific-support-coord@vuw.ac.nz or phone (04) 463 5842.
