This course has a 3-hour final examination. The examination period will be from 6- 25 June 2008.

Introduction

The Advanced Strategic Management course focuses on the longer term strategic management issues faced by an organisation operating in a complex and evolving environment. It will examine the range of decisions that are strategic to the organisation as well as the forces that influence the evolution of strategy over time. Understanding how strategies can be articulated and managed (through planning and control) is thus central to this course. After introducing some key ideas, the course will examine how the strategic management processes, to do with acquiring/accessing/developing new resources, differ in different contexts. The course takes a broad perspective and familiarises participants with the literature on strategic management. In particular, the course will challenge students to think critically about issues that impact on an organisation's long term strategic directions.

Programme and Course-related Learning Objectives

This course will provide students the opportunity:

- to develop oral and written and I-T communication skills
 - through leading and actively participating in class discussion;
 - through the development and presentation of oral and written reports, using narrative, rhetoric and diagrammatic and other schema as forms of presentation;
- to develop critical and creative thinking skills

- through exercises and assignments requiring analysis, evaluation, interpretation and synthesis;
- through debate and classroom discussion;
- to develop leadership skills
 - through structuring a project activity;
 - through leading a class discussion or group exercise;
 - through acting as a spokesperson for a group's activities or ideas.
- to develop an understanding of business in the global environment
 - through discussions based on international scholarship.

Overall Course Objectives

The objective of this course for BCA(Honours) in Management is to provide an overall understanding of strategic management as a field of scholarly enquiry in a way that prepares managers to think and manage strategically. The focus of the course will be on seminal works from the strategic management literature. The general areas of study cover: the definition of the strategy concept; strategic planning; strategic intent/vision; organisational purpose; resource allocation; tracking performance (through financial and strategic control systems) and stakeholder issues. Your essay on strategy will assess your understanding of these areas. These sessions provide perspectives on how organisations design, refine and elaborate their strategies as well as providing key mechanisms for both strategic momentum and change. Later, the course will consider some of the main ways in which organisations gain access to new/additional resources through strategic alliances, and internal development. As with ongoing strategy making, these initiatives involve implications for planning, resource allocation and control. The relevance of motivational drivers and the management processes are explored through a case study. Other topics in strategic management will be addressed in MGMT 418.

Course-related Student Learning Objectives

On successful completion of the course, students should be able:

- to demonstrate an understanding of the major theoretical frameworks and concepts relevant to strategy;
- to use these frameworks to critically evaluate or develop strategic initiatives in real management situations;
- to develop an ability to communicate/ reason/ argue/ and give recommendations on strategy formation within an overarching strategic framework.
- to recognise the importance of critical analysis techniques and management processes in strategy development.
- to develop an understanding of academic research and the capability to access developments in the field of strategy through the appropriate international literature.

Expected Workload

Students can expect the workload to be approximately 12 hrs per week of student work, including both scheduled contact time (lectures, tutorials, workshops) and outside class.

Group Work

While the course has a tradition of collaboration in preparing for class discussions, there are important elements in the assessment process that are strictly individual. Collaboration on individual assignments is not allowed beyond general discussion as to how one might interpret the nature of the assignment question. Please do not work together to formulate a response and do not lend your completed assignments. You will be expected and encouraged to work in groups on in-term cases and assignments; however reports must be individual submissions.

Readings

The class will meet once a week and each week will be devoted to the topic as listed in the schedule below. A reading list for each topic will be distributed along with copies of selected articles/book extracts. You are expected to have studied each of the readings distributed, and to contribute to the seminar's discussion of each of these readings.

Approximately every second or third week, you will be expected to prepare a brief (500 word – no more than 2 pages) summary of one of the assigned readings and will be asked to lead the seminar's discussion of that article or book chapter. A copy of your summary should be made for each participant in the course.

When studying an article (or book chapter), pay close attention to:

- the theoretical justifications provided for the research questions;
- defining the author's contribution to the literature;
- points of convergence with, and departure from, the other articles;
- aspects of the article that you feel deserve critiquing;
- what the article leaves unfinished.

and additionally, for empirical analyses,

- address how well the concepts actually measure the constructs they are aiming to;
- the implications of the research methodology and data collection methods for the findings and interpretations; and
- possible empirical issues for future research.

In order to complete an effective summary and lead the discussion, it may be necessary to do some additional reading from other articles referenced by your article (or book chapter).

Examination of case material will focus on the issues raised in the readings for that week and typically occur in the last part of the class.

Assessment Requirements

Assignment	Title	% of Marks Available	Due Date
1	Contributions to class discussion	15%	Each class
2	Essay: The concept of Strategy	20%	18 th April 2008
3	Group Diversification analysis	10%	30 th April 2008
4	Case Analysis	15%	14 th May 2008
5	Final Examination	40%	6-25 June 2008
	TOTAL	100%

1. Contributions to Class Discussion

Date: Each class

Marks: 15%

As is appropriate for a post-graduate course, classes will be conducted on the basis that course members have as much to learn from each other as well as from the course director. Course members will be expected to lead class discussions and also contribute to these discussions when others lead. When you are leading a discussion you will need to carefully read the materials/case studies prior to the class, provide a detailed analysis of your assigned reading, and assemble your ideas into a structured form that allows you to effectively lead the discussion. A two page summary of the key issues (no more than two pages) is to be circulated to other class members at the time of presentation.

I encourage you to discuss the readings with other class members prior to class, as this will help to reinforce your understanding, as well as provide an opportunity for other interpretations to be considered.

I undertake to provide you with feedback on your in-class contributions after Session 6; and will make an effort to facilitate your class contributions and to ensure that each student has the opportunity to contribute to the discussions. Contributions will be assessed on the quality of the insights offered by the course member, over the whole semester, into strategic management concepts/theory and other issues raised by the reading material and case histories.

2. Individual Assignment - Essay: The Concept of Strategy

Due: 5:00 p.m. Friday, April 18th

Marks: 20%

Word Limit: 4,000

During the first part of the semester, you will be required to write a short essay that defines and describes the strategy concept as you understand it. Similarities with, and differences from, the existing definitions in the literature should be clearly indicated. The essay should also describe what is considered to be part of strategy/strategic management and what is not and why. In doing this, it may be useful to link strategy to other key aspects of the strategic management process. Feedback will be given on your draft so that it can be revised before a grade is assigned. On March 26th, also be prepared to make a short presentation, up to 10 minutes, on the key aspects of your concept of strategy. Length guide for essay: 3000-4000 words (see note below on word limits).

I will comment on an essay draft if it is e-mailed to me from March 23rd - March 28th.

3. Group Diversification Presentation

Due: For class Wednesday Apr 30th

Marks: 10%

On, April 30th each group (2-3 per group) will do a 20-minute presentation on the history, motives, implementation and success (current and future) of a diversified company. Your analysis should assess how the current diversification posture was achieved, the modes through which it was achieved (mergers, acquisitions, internal development) as well as the gathering of information on the processes used to create value through diversification. Only a presentation is required, but please keep all documentation, as it may be useful for generating case histories in the future.

4. Individual Assignment - Case Analysis: Strategy Implementation

Due: 5:00 pm Wednesday May 14th

Marks: 15%

Word limit: 2,500

On Wednesday May 7th, a case study and associated questions will be distributed. You will have one week to analyse the case and answer the questions. Due on Wednesday May 14th, 2007 (see note below on word limits).

5. Examination

Date: 6- 25 June 2008

Marks: 40%

The examination is worth 40% of the total marks available for this course. It is closed book 3-hour examination and no computers (except with prior written approval for medical reasons) or electronic calculators will be allowed in the examination room. Essay style answers are expected.

A course and exam review session will be held on Wednesday May 28th 2008. The areas covered in the review will still be somewhat broad and you will need to do some reading in addition to that covered in class. An extended bibliography for each session will direct you to some potentially relevant articles.

Handing in assignments:

Assignments should be emailed to me at sean.devine@vuw.ac.nz before 5 pm on the due date, or if this creates problems, a hard copy can be placed into my mail pigeon hole on the 9th floor Rutherford House. If I do not acknowledge the receipt of the assignment within 24 hours please contact me immediately. All completed assignments must include the title of the assignment, the student name and student ID number. Students must also keep an electronic copy of their work archived in case the original assignment goes missing. Failure to do so will jeopardise any claim by you that your work was submitted in the rare cases where your work goes astray.

Mandatory Course Requirements

To meet Mandatory Course Requirements, students are required to:

- a. Meet the assignment requirements including length and deadlines, subject to the penalties outlined in the Penalties section below;
- b. Submit one individual assignment by the within the required timeframe;
- c. Obtain at least 40 per cent (i.e. 20 marks out of 50) of the final examination marks available.

Students who fail to satisfy the mandatory requirements for this course but who obtain 50% or more overall, will be awarded a "K" grade.

Standard fail grades (D or E) will be awarded when the student's overall course mark falls below the minimum pass mark, regardless of whether the mandatory course requirements have been satisfied or not.

Notice of Failure to meet Mandatory Course Requirements will be posted on Blackboard or on the Mezzanine Floor Notice-board.

Penalties- for Lateness & Excessive Length of Assignments

- (i) In fairness to other students, work submitted after any deadline will incur a penalty for lateness. The penalty is 2 of the marks available for an assignment submitted after the due time on the due date for each part day or day late. (Marks available means the marks the assignment contributes to the course marks. If an assignment worth 20 marks [i.e. 20% of the course] is one day late, and it receives a mark corresponding to 50%, the mark will now be out of 18 and the student will receive 50% of 18). Saturdays, Sundays and public holidays will be included when counting the number of days late. Assignments received more than 7 days after the due date will not be accepted and the student will automatically fail the Mandatory Course Requirements.
- (ii) Course Outlines provide a signal to student of forthcoming workload, dates of submission etc, and thus student study plans should take account of course requirements across all courses. Consequently, workload issues related to other courses and employment will not be accepted as reason for dispensation from mandatory requirements or waiver of penalties. Extensions to submission deadlines for any assigned work will only be granted in exceptional circumstances.
- (iii) Students who are unable to comply with any of the mandatory requirements should make a written application for an extension to the due date for submission of assigned work or for waiver of a penalty, in advance, to the Course Coordinator, providing documentary evidence of the reasons of their circumstances.

All such applications must be made before the deadline and be accompanied by documentary evidence, eg a medical certificate, or counsellor's report that indicates the degree of impairment, and for how long the student has been impaired. Please be sure to ask at the time of consultation for the degree of impairment to be stated in any certificate you provide to support your case.

- (iv) In the event of unusual or unforeseeable circumstances (e.g. serious illness, family bereavement or other exceptional events), that precludes an application in advance, students should make contact with the Course Coordinator as soon as possible, and make application for waiver of a penalty as soon as practicable.

- (v) Word limits should be adhered to, especially so when they provide a guide to limiting the student's coverage of a topic. Word limits do not include the references. The penalty will be 5% of the grade for an assignment which is X% over the word limit. Since a style of writing suitable for professional reports is required, significant departures from an economical style or inattention to spelling, grammar, punctuation can also result in a lower grade.

Grading Guidelines

The following broad indicative characterisations of grade will apply in grading assignments and the exam:

A+	excellent performance in all respects at this level
A	excellent performance in almost all respects at this level
A-	excellent performance in many respects at this level
B+	very good, some aspects excellent
B, B-	good but not excellent performance at this level
C+, C	work satisfactory overall but inadequate in some respects
D	poor performance overall, some aspects adequate
E	well below the required standard
K	failure to achieve mandatory course requirements and have achieved at least an average "C" over all the assessment. Note this is a failing grade.

Policy on Remarking:

Application for remarks must be made within 5 days after the marks are available. To apply for a remark, complete the request for re-examination of assessed work form (Annex C) stating which sections (criteria listed in the mark sheet) you wish re-examined. Write on why you think the mark does not, in your view, fairly reflect the quality of your work. Hand this with your assignment into the following place:-

- Pipitea Campus – the Reception Desk on Level 10 Rutherford House where your assignment will have the time, date and signature noted on the front cover by the person receiving it.

Allow up to 5 days for remarks to be completed.

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism

Academic integrity is about honesty – put simply it means no cheating. All members of the University community are responsible for upholding academic integrity, which means staff and students are expected to behave honestly, fairly and with respect for others at all times.

Plagiarism is a form of cheating which undermines academic integrity. The University defines plagiarism as follows:

The presentation of the work of another person or other persons as if it were one's own, whether intended or not. This includes published or unpublished work, material on the Internet and the work of other students or staff.

It is still plagiarism even if you re-structure the material or present it in your own style or words.

Note: It is however, perfectly acceptable to include the work of others as long as that is acknowledged by appropriate referencing.

Plagiarism is prohibited at Victoria and is not worth the risk. Any enrolled student found guilty of plagiarism will be subject to disciplinary procedures under the Statute on Student Conduct and may be penalized severely. Consequences of being found guilty of plagiarism can include:

- an oral or written warning
- cancellation of your mark for an assessment or a fail grade for the course
- suspension from the course or the University.
