Course Content

This course examines the impact of the Internet on traditional methods of marketing and the related business functions that enable and support it. It will explore the existing and future uses of the Internet for the marketing of various goods and services. In addition we will investigate the utility of the Internet as a tool for businesses to increase their effectiveness and efficiency. The focus of the course is not on mastering the technologies themselves, but on understanding their business applications. A user-based understanding of the Web and associated information technology and the ability to use the Internet for research purposes is required.

The course will incorporate lectures, class discussions, cases, text material, on-line material, guest speakers, in-class exercises, assignments, and projects.

Course Learning Objectives

By the end of this course, students should be able to:

- 1) Describe the opportunities and limitations of applying Internet Marketing concepts to companies (assessed through Tutorials, Internet Marketing Strategy project and final examination)
- 2) Explain how an Internet Marketing strategy fits into an organisation's overall marketing framework (Individual web assessment, final examination)
- 3) Explore how the Internet can be used to provide added value to B-B and B-C business models (Group presentation)
- 4) Gain insight into recent and expected technological changes and how these alter the traditional marketing practices (Tutorial participation, final examination)
- 5) Identify ways in which global marketing techniques must adapt to electronic – Internet channels (Group presentation, Internet Marketing Strategy project and final examination)
- 6) Design an Internet marketing strategy and prepare an implementation plan (Internet Marketing Strategy project).

Expected Workload

Students can expect to spend between 12 and 14 hours per week on this course outside the classroom. This should include assigned reading, 3 – 4 hours; preparing for tutorials 2 – 3 hours; researching and reviewing additional material, 2 – 3 hours; preparing assignment 3 – 4 hours; group meetings 2 – 3 hours.

Group Work

There are two group assessments in this course. Preparation outside of class time for the group presentation is expected to take no more than 2 hours per week. The group will be assessed based on the final document as well as on individual presentation of the material. Each individual is expected to contribute equally to the final outcome. Details for this assignment can be found on Blackboard under Course Assessment.

The first part of the Internet Marketing (IM) strategy paper also includes a group work component. The group must find and agree on a business in order to research and prepare an IM strategy. It is expected that the preparation time for this group work will encompass 2 – 3 hours per week. The group will work together, write up the situational analysis and deliver the IM situational analysis document on the due date. This portion of the IM strategy will be group assessed; each individual will receive the same mark for the piece of work.

Readings

Required text: This text can be purchased from the University Bookshop.

Roberts, M. L. (2008). Internet marketing: Integrating online and offline strategies (2nd ed.). Southbank, Victoria, AU: Thomson.

Additional materials such as case studies, readings, etc. will be made available to course participants and listed on Blackboard during the course.

Materials and Equipment

Students are required to have access to personal computers and the Internet in order to prepare material for assignments, presentations and tutorial preparation. Students will not require computers or additional material for the MARK 306 final examination.

Assessment Requirements

MARK 306 is assessed on the basis of tutorial participation; an individual paper; one major group project and presentation; and a final examination as outlined below:

Assessment		Due Date
Tutorial participation (ongoing)	10%	Ongoing
Individual web site assessment	15%	Tuesday 7 April – in class
Assigned group presentation	10%	As assigned
Internet marketing situation analysis	10%	Thursday 30 April – 4pm
Internet marketing strategy - individual	25%	Thursday 28 May – 4pm
Final Examination (2 hours)	30%	12 June – 1 July
Total	100%

It is particularly important that you read the assigned material before attending each lecture and tutorial. The success of the course itself, as well as the depth of understanding you take away from it, is dependent on your preparation for and participation in each class session. Written assignments should be delivered in class, to my office, or in Box 3 Mezzanine Floor, Rutherford House by 4pm on the due date, an electronic copy must also be submitted.

Detailed assignment requirements and assessment criteria are available on Blackboard, under Course Assessment.

Examinations

Students who enrol in courses with examinations are obliged to attend an examination at the University at any time during the formal examination period. Examination dates for trimester one are from Friday, 12 June to Wednesday, 1 July 2009 (inclusive).

Penalties

In fairness to other participants, work submitted after the deadline will incur a penalty for lateness. Late assignments will carry a penalty of 5% for each day late. In the event of unusual circumstance e.g., serious illness, family bereavement, participants should discuss waiver of the penalty with the course co-ordinator.

Mandatory Course Requirements

To meet mandatory course requirements in MARK 306, students must:

1. Attend five (5) of the seven scheduled tutorials and for each tutorial submit a one-page synopsis of the tutorial issues to be discussed.
2. Submit all of the assigned work.
3. Obtain a minimum mark of 40% in the final examination.

Communication of Additional Information

Any additional information or changes will be communicated at the beginning of lectures, added to the MARK 306 Blackboard announcements and/or communicated through e-mail. You will be able to access the course outline, course notes, and other learning material via Blackboard. The address is: <http://blackboard.vuw.ac.nz>

You will be asked for your SCS username and student ID. Click on the MARK 306 course name under My Courses.
