Class Times and Room Numbers

Lectures are scheduled for:

- Tuesday 9.30 a.m. to 12.20 a.m. in RWW 315.

Course Learning Objectives

Students who are successful in this course will:

- Develop an understanding of the body of literature which studies accounting in a social and political context ;
- Examine a variety of theoretical perspectives on the nature of accounting and its role(s) in organisations and society;
- Examine the values and assumptions underpinning current accounting practices; and
- Explore the possibilities of ‘alternative accountings’

The above objectives will be assessed via a research essay, critique of a prescribed reading and end of year examination.

Course Content and Programme

This course focuses on the values and assumptions underlying accounting systems at both the micro and macro levels of society, by examining ethical, social, and cultural bases underlying the technical dimension of accounting. Consideration is given to a number of sociological, political, philosophical and cultural studies and their likely impact on the way that we think about the nature and roles of accounting in organisations and society.

Each student will be required to prepare and circulate to the class a critique of one prescribed reading (maximum: 1,500 words). These are to be typed and distributed no later than noon on the Friday preceding the scheduled class discussion. Since these papers constitute the basis for our weekly seminars it will not be possible to seek extensions.

In addition, students must select a specific theme for intensive research. A preliminary outline of this project is to be submitted by August 18. This should be 1-2 pages long and identify the research topic, the issue(s) to be addressed and include an initial list of references. Research essays should be a maximum of 5,000 words and will be presented in the final three weeks of the course (maximum presentation length 35 minutes with 20 minute discussion).

Note: The table (overleaf) indicates the expected order of topics and the estimated time spent on each topic. However, actual times may vary from that stated.

Week	Topic	Lecturer	Readings/Programme*
1	Introduction	MF/JB
2	Accounting and Education	MF/JB	Humphrey, Lewis & Owen (1996)

* The readings schedule will be finalised after all students have identified themes for critique.

Guidelines for Critique Presentation & Class Discussion

Class Presenters (for circulation to all class members +MF/JB by noon on the Friday preceding the scheduled class discussion; 10-15 minute oral presentation)

- outline the author's main arguments
- discuss major areas of agreement/disagreement you have with the author's arguments
- select what is to you the most interesting or significant sentence in the article and explain why you find this sentence interesting
- identify questions and issues raised in your mind by the article
- relate the article to other areas of your study in accounting

ALL Other Students (typed copies for all class members + MF/JB on day of scheduled class discussion)

- select what to you is the most interesting or significant sentence in each article
- formulate two questions for group discussion

Expected Workload

The average weekly workload for ACCY 413 is estimated at 12 hours. This includes attendance at lectures, reading assigned material and revision.

Assessment Requirements

The final grade awarded for this course will be determined on the following basis:

Item of Assessment	Weighting	Due
• Critique of prescribed reading	15%	12:00 Friday prior to presentation
• Research essay	40%	One week prior to presentation
• Class participation	15%
• Final Examination (2 hours)	30%	To be advised

Note: Your assessed work may also be used for quality assurance purposes, such as to assess the level of achievement of learning objectives as required for accreditation and audit purposes. The findings may be used to inform changes aimed at improving the quality of FCA programmes. All material used for such processes will be treated as confidential, and the outcome will not affect your grade for the course.

Mandatory Course Requirements

To pass the course you must complete all assessment items. You are also expected to participate and prepare fully for all classes. This includes reading all readings assigned irrespective of whether you are presenting the critique.

Communication of Additional Information

Additional information will be given in lectures and may be posted on Blackboard.

Use of Turnitin (if applicable)

Student work provided for assessment in this course may be checked for academic integrity by the electronic search engine <<http://www.turnitin.com>>. Turnitin is an on-line plagiarism prevention tool which compares submitted work with a very large database of existing material. Turnitin will retain a copy of submitted materials on behalf of the University for detection of future plagiarism, but access to the full text of submissions will not be made available to any other party.
