Specific Course-related Student Objectives

This course is a study of the commercial and non-commercial entities set up by Maori and by the Crown to administer Māori resources and iwi.

This course has several objectives. These include the student:

- Having a basic knowledge of current management practices and how they relate to managing Māori entities;
- Understanding the role, structure and statutory requirements relating to Māori authorities;
- Examining the reasons why and how both the government and Māori set up entities to administer iwi and iwi resources;
- Gaining an understanding of the statutes which are essential for good business practice and examining the Acts which are of particular importance to Māori business and development;
- Being able to evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of the current system and how this may need to be changed/improved to assist Māori development; and
- Examining a Māori authority in-depth and accurately reporting on its legal status, its objectives and performance.

In particular MBUS 202 will provide students with up to the minute legislative changes from government, who are currently reviewing the relevant Acts and statutes

Course Content

MBUS 202 is for undergraduate students who have an interest in the management and operations of Māori entities and how they operate within the New Zealand economy. It will introduce students to the historical, theoretical and practical perspectives of organisations for management and explore the structures, role and management techniques appropriate for Māori authorities.

With Māori fast becoming major players within the New Zealand economy, traditional Māori trusts, incorporations and companies are finding their current structures are not always suitable for carrying out the commercial operations needed to enhance their economic development.

MBUS 202 begins with an overview of the Māori authorities established under the Te Ture Whenua Māori Land Act 1993 (e.g. Ahu Whenua Trusts) and then examines the non-commercial entities that were set up by government and Māori respectively to cater for specific Māori needs, e.g. Māori Womens' Welfare League, Māori Council, Māori Congress.

An analysis of the development and management of these authorities and how successful they have been in achieving their goals follow this overview.

The course also examines past, current and proposed statutes that have both helped and hindered Māori development by placing unprecedented restrictions on Māori authorities.

Expected Workload

Students can expect the workload to be approximately 15hrs per week including both scheduled contact time (lectures, tutorials, workshops) and outside class.

Requirements for Written Work

Marking

Staff aim to mark assignments promptly and return them to you in plenty of time for you to utilize the feedback in preparing your next assignment. Markers look for professionally presented work displaying a thorough understanding of the topic, a strong argument supported by sound evidence (appropriately referenced) and an ability to evaluate material.

The following broad indicative characterisations of grade will apply in grading:

A+	excellent performance in all respects
A	excellent performance in almost all respects
A-	excellent performance in many respects
B+	very good, some aspects excellent
B, B-	good but not excellent performance
C+, C	work satisfactory overall but inadequate in some respects
D	poor performance overall, some aspects adequate
E	well below the required standard
K:	Failure to achieve mandatory course requirements and have not achieved at least an average "C" over all the assessment. Note this is a failing grade.

A mark of 50 is a pass and indicates an adequate performance. Most students will meet an 'acceptable' standard of work throughout the year and a number will maintain an excellent standard. There are no "quotas" on any of these categories, so make use of the information available to you, and aim for the top.

Assignment marks will be sent to you via email and posted on the notice board located on the Mezzanine Floor, Rutherford House.

Presentation

All assignments should be typed and double-spaced with an adequate margin on the left-hand side of the page for markers' comments. Write on only one side of the page.

Handing in of Assignments

Assignments should be submitted, in hard copy form to Box 12 located on the Mezzanine floor. Assignments received after that time will be deemed to be late, and must be handed to Room 1021 or Reception, Level 10, Rutherford House.

All Hand-Ins should have: an Assignment Cover Sheet stating your name, the course name, lecturers name, assignment name and number, a word count and due date. You should also put page numbers on each page, and use in-text referencing and include a list of references at the end. Preferred referencing style is APA system. You can access the information from the online VUW library site (<http://www.vuw.ac.nz/library/resources/virtualref.shtml#style>)

Students will prepare two copies of each hand-in and keep the second copy for their own reference. Students must also keep an electronic copy.

Note: Your assessed work may also be used for quality assurance purposes, such as to assess the level of achievement of learning objectives as required for accreditation and audit purposes. The findings may be used to inform changes aimed at improving the quality of FCA programmes. All material used for such processes will be treated as confidential, and the outcome will not affect your grade for the course.

Communication of Additional Information

Additional information or any changes to this course will be conveyed to students either during lecture times, via email or postings on the noticeboard Mezzanine Floor Rutherford House.

Use of Turnitin

Turnitin is an on-line plagiarism prevention tool which compares submitted work with a very large database of existing material. At the discretion of the Head of School, handwritten work may be copy-typed by the School and subject to checking by Turnitin.
