Course Content

The primary objective of this course is to enhance students' management potential by studying the application of current management theories (OB) in relation to the modern workplace context.

The focus is on the development, use and integration of theory and practice. Throughout the course, the emphasis is on taking a managerial view of the situation, and providing a critical perspective that reflects students' experiences, the relevance of OB concepts to actual organisations and creative solutions to organisational issues in the modern information age. As such, the course will adopt an approach that blends theory, critical perspective and application. In particular, the course will challenge students to think critically about issues on the nature of individuality on work activities, motivational processes, the ways groups form and interact for organisational effectiveness, management issues on leadership, impact of change on people and the power, political and control dimensions of organisational activity.

This course aims to provide students with a solid theoretical base upon which a practical framework for managing and succeeding in the modern workplace can be established. Students will be expected to come to class with readings prepared and to engage in class discussion.

See Annex A for details on course schedule.

3	Final Examination	60%	10 th June to 2 July 2011
	TOTAL	100%

Mid-Term Test (25%): It is a closed book 1½ hours test. Essay style answers are expected. You need to answer two out of three questions that will require you to draw on different OB theories and concepts covering from weeks 1 - 5 (Chapters 1, 2, 3, 5, & 8).

Group Assignment (15%)

The objective of this assignment is to encourage you to work with others to develop a more in-depth understanding of organisational issues. It is expected that different study groups will tackle different topic areas under the OB discipline.

In accordance with Victoria Post-Experience programmes policy, students must obtain a minimum of fifty percent of the marks available on the final examination in order to pass the course.

Your assessed work may also be used for quality assurance purposes, such as to assess the level of achievement of learning objectives as required for accreditation and audit purposes. The findings may be used to inform changes aimed at improving the quality of FCA programmes. All material used for such processes will be treated as confidential, and the outcome will not affect your grade for the course.

Assignments more than one week late will not be accepted. A “zero” mark will be applied. In the event of unusual, unforeseen circumstances (e.g., serious illness, family bereavement), students should discuss waiver of the penalty with the course coordinator prior to the deadline date.

At the discretion of the Head of School, handwritten work may be copy-typed by the School and subject to checking by Turnitin. Academic Integrity and Plagiarism

Academic integrity is about honesty – put simply it means no cheating. All members of the University community are responsible for upholding academic integrity, which means staff and students are expected to behave honestly, fairly and with respect for others at all times.

Plagiarism is a form of cheating which undermines academic integrity. The University defines plagiarism as follows:

The presentation of the work of another person or other persons as if it were one's own, whether intended or not. This includes published or unpublished work, material on the Internet and the work of other students or staff.

It is still plagiarism even if you re-structure the material or present it in your own style or words.

Note: including the work of others will not be considered plagiarism as long as the work is acknowledged by appropriate referencing.

Plagiarism is prohibited at Victoria and is not worth the risk. Any enrolled student found guilty of plagiarism will be subject to disciplinary procedures under the Statute on Student Conduct and may be penalised severely. Consequences of being found guilty of plagiarism can include:

- an oral or written warning
- cancellation of your mark for an assessment or a fail grade for the course
- suspension from the course or the University.

Find out more about plagiarism, and how to avoid it, on the University's website:
