Course Learning Objectives

By the end of this course, students should be able to

- (a) explain and apply the basic principles and policies of income tax law in New Zealand;
- (b) provide reasoned arguments concerning whether particular transactions give rise to assessable income or to deductible expenditure or loss;
- (c) explain and contrast the manner in which different entities (including Māori entities) are taxed;
- (d) explain how transactions can be arranged legally to minimise a tax liability.

Course Delivery

Tuition in this course is provided by way of lectures and tutorials. Students should ensure that they attend all scheduled lectures and tutorials to maximise their learning opportunities.

Expected Workload

You should expect to spend on average 150 hours studying over the whole course which is broken down as follows:

- 24 hours in scheduled lectures;
- 9 hours of tutorial classes;
- 36 hours for background reading outside classes;
- 46 hours for tutorial preparation;
- 35 hours preparing for the test and examination.

Group work

Tutorial presentations

Tutorials require you to actively participate and contribute; otherwise, you will not meet the Mandatory Course Requirements (see page 5).

Tutorials 2 to 9 are conducted as follows: Generally 2 students (depending on the size of the tutorial) will be required to lead the discussion on the topic nominated for the tutorial. Over 8 tutorials each student will have led one tutorial.

At Tutorial 1, tutors will outline their expectations of your presentations and your bullet-point summary solutions (see below). You will also have an opportunity to exchange email addresses, telephone numbers and other contact details with other students in your tutorial for the purpose of planning your presentations.

The success of your tutorial presentations depends on you getting together with the other students in your group before the presentation to plan the content and how the presentation will be run. Hence, it is expected that you will contact each other once the tutorial lists are published on Blackboard, using your VUW student email address. If you do not use your VUW email address, you must ensure that you create a diversion within the VUW email system to your preferred email address, e.g. G-Mail, Yahoo, Hotmail, etc.

Your tutorial presentation contributes to 10% of your final mark for the course. In determining the mark for your presentation, your tutor will take into account the accuracy of the material you present, the quality of your presentation (as a group) and your ability to lead and promote discussion in your tutorial. At the conclusion of the tutorial in which you present, your tutor will discuss your presentation and the mark to be awarded.

If you are unhappy with your mark, you must first discuss, and attempt to resolve, the matter with your tutor before the following tutorial. If you cannot reach a satisfactory resolution with your tutor, the tutor will forward the matter to the Course Coordinator for consideration.

If you have a compelling reason for not attending the regular tutorial group in which you are enrolled in a particular week, and you are not presenting in that week, you may attend another tutorial group run by the same tutor (subject to seating capacity in that group). You must not make a habit of switching tutorials.

Tutorial participation and bullet-point summaries

For each tutorial in which you are not giving a presentation, you must prepare in electronic form a bullet-point summary solution to the tutorial questions and send it to the assignment folder on Blackboard before 5pm on Friday of the week preceding the tutorial. Late summaries will not be accepted. Blackboard will accept MS Word and .pdf files. Note that Blackboard automatically provides us with the date and time that you submitted your bullet-point summaries and automatically declines submissions after the due time.

Your bullet point summaries must be written in comprehensible and legible English. They must also be your own work - group submissions are not permitted. Bullet point summaries that contain evidence of plagiarism will be subject to the University's disciplinary procedures.

To assist your participation in the tutorials, you should retain a hard copy of your bullet-point summary solution for use at the tutorial.

No suggested solutions to tutorial questions are provided on Blackboard or elsewhere, or distributed by tutors. Therefore, you need to attend the tutorials to ensure that you get the full benefit of the discussion and debate on the subject material. Tutors have notes to ensure that the presentations and discussion in the tutorials adequately cover the topic.

Your tutorial participation and bullet-point summary solutions are part of the Mandatory Course Requirements (see below).

Readings

The following textbook and materials are required for this course:

1. Alley et. al., New Zealand Taxation 2011: Principles, Cases and Questions, Thomson Reuters, Wellington, 2011. (The 2010 edition of this text would suffice for this year's course.)
2. New Zealand Taxation 2011 Legislation Handbook, Thomson Reuters, Wellington, 2011. Alternatively you can use the CCH New Zealand Income Tax Legislation 2011. (The 2010 editions of these texts would suffice for this year's course.)
3. Handouts distributed in lectures and/or posted on Blackboard.

Note: The above texts will also be used in TAXN 303 (International Tax) this trimester.

The Thomson Reuters publications listed in (1) and (2) above may be purchased as a set at a discount.

You are permitted to take the income tax legislation into the mid-trimester test and final examination, and are strongly recommended to do so. If you want to use your legislation in the test and final exam, you must not write in it other than emphasis marks by underlining and/or highlighting parts of the text.

With respect to using this legislation in the test and final exam, please note:

1. The tax legislation will be checked at the beginning of the test and exam.
2. Legislation containing notes of any kind will not be allowed to be used. Only emphasis marks by a highlighter pen or by underlining are permitted.
3. The indexing of the legislation by tabs whether by use of "Post-it" notes or any other means is prohibited.
4. If you do not have tax legislation to use in the test or exam because your text did not meet the above conditions or you forgot to bring your legislation, you will not be able to borrow a replacement copy from the examiners or to share a copy with another student.

Materials and Equipment

Most course materials can be downloaded online from Blackboard. The course lecturers do not hold spare copies of any course materials in their offices. If you are having any trouble obtaining course materials, please contact the Course Administrator, who is available Monday to Friday between 8.30am-5.00pm.

Electronic calculators and non-electronic foreign language dictionaries may be used in both the test and final examination. Calculators must be battery powered and silent in operation. Calculators with alphanumeric keyboards and programming functions are not permitted. Mobile phones are prohibited. No electronic device may connect to the Internet. If you are in doubt, check with the Course Coordinator.

Assessment Requirements

To pass this course, you must obtain a weighted average mark of 50% or more from the 3 pieces of assessment in the course as follows:

	Percentage of final grade	Date
Tutorial presentations	10%
Test (75 minutes)	25%	5.30pm Tuesday, 16 August
Examination (2 hours)	65%	During the mid-year examination period– actual date and time to be advised later during the Course.

Assessment of your ability in the test and final examination takes a variety of forms to cater for different aptitudes of different students. The assessment methods may include multiple choice questions, short-answer questions, calculation questions, and essay questions.

In addition to obtaining a weighted-average mark of 50% or more across the tutorial presentation, test and final examination, you must also meet the Mandatory Course Requirements (see below). If you obtain a weighted-average mark of 50% or more but fail to meet the Mandatory Course Requirements, you will fail the course and be given a 'K' grade.

If your performance is affected by sickness or other personal difficulties (e.g. bereavement of a close relative) you should contact the Course Coordinator as soon as possible. You must not delay this until the end of the course or when final results are posted. In case of sickness, it is essential that you see a registered medical practitioner as soon as possible while you are sick and obtain a medical certificate that certifies that in the opinion of the doctor you are sick and the extent of disability suffered by you during the period of sickness.

Note: Your assessed work may also be used for quality assurance purposes, such as to assess the level of achievement of learning objectives as required for accreditation and audit purposes. The findings may be used to inform changes aimed at improving the quality of FCA programmes. All material used for such processes will be treated as confidential, and the outcome will not affect your grade for the course.

Examinations

Students who enrol in courses with examinations are obliged to attend an examination at the University at any time during the formal examination period. The final examination for this course will be scheduled at some time during the period from Friday 21 October – Saturday 12 November 2011.
