Course Learning Objectives

This course is an introduction to the economic analysis of law and legal institutions. It has the objectives that at the conclusion of the course students should be able to

C1	comprehend and articulate the framework that economics provides for the assessment of legal rules and institutions C2	comprehend and articulate economic principles sufficient to apply economic analysis to seemingly disparate areas of the law
C3	explain and appraise economic bases of legal systems
C4	explain and use the economic basis of property law
C5	explain and use the economic basis of contract law
C6	explain and use the economic basis of tort law
C7	explain and use the economic basis of criminal law
C8	explain and use the economic basis of law relating to competition and regulation
C9	explain and use the economic basis of corporate and bankruptcy law
C10	evaluate case outcomes in the context of law and economics

These expectations for the course reflect the fact that written and oral English skills are essential. Like most law courses, there is a lot of reading of complex materials, and cases often contain arcane language and convoluted argument. Like most economics courses, you need to be able to identify key issues and to present well-structured written or oral analysis succinctly and cogently. Familiarity with the principles of economics and of the legal system is helpful, but not essential, as they are taught in the course.

The more practice you get at applying economic reasoning to the law and legal issues, the better you will do in this course. Read the materials before you come to lectures and prepare answers to the questions that will be asked in class. Come to all the lectures and contribute to class discussion - it will help your economic reasoning and hone your ability to present oral analytical arguments. Make sure that you complete all the coursework. It is designed to help build your economic thinking and ability to present written economic analysis of the law and legal issues.

Course Delivery

Generally two lectures per week and a structured Question-Discussion period. The Question-Discussion period will be replaced with a lecture in at most three weeks. It will often be offered jointly by a lawyer and economist.

Expected Workload

Over the 15 week period of the course and study time an average workload might reasonably be 150 hours.

There will be non-assessable assignments provided for discussion at the Question-Discussion sessions.

Your assessed work may also be used for quality assurance purposes, such as to assess the level of achievement of learning objectives as required for accreditation and audit purposes. The findings may be used to inform changes aimed at improving the quality of University programmes. All material used for such purposes will be treated as confidential and the outcome will not affect your grade for the course.

Examinations

Students who enrol in courses with examinations are obliged to attend an examination at the University at any time during the formal examination period. The final examination for this course will be scheduled at some time during the period from Friday 15th of June – Wednesday 4th of July 2012 (inclusive).

Penalties

No essay that is handed in late will be marked.

Mandatory Course Requirements

Completion of both the test and essay is mandatory.

Class Representative

A class representative will be elected in the first class, and that person's name and contact details will be available to VUWSA, the Course Coordinator and the class. The class representative provides a communication channel to liaise with the Course Coordinator on behalf of students.

Communication of Information

Course information will be conveyed by Blackboard

Use of Turnitin

Student work provided for assessment in this course may be checked for academic integrity by the electronic search engine http://www.turnitin.com. Turnitin is an online plagiarism prevention tool which compares submitted work with a very large database of existing material. At the discretion of the Head of School, handwritten work may be copy-typed by the school and subject to checking by Turnitin. Turnitin will retain a copy of submitted materials on behalf of the University for detection of future plagiarism, but access to the full text of submissions will not be made available to any other party.
