Course Content

MBUS 301 is for undergraduate students who have an interest in the Treaty of Waitangi Claims process for the hearing and settling of historical and contemporary grievances by Maori against the Crown. This course provides a comprehensive overview of the process of having a claim lodged, accepted, researched, heard, reported and settled. In particular, this Course explores the importance of Treaty claims and settlements in Maori development and in terms of the future management of Maori resources.

The relationship between Maori and the Crown, and rights and responsibilities stemming from that relationship, encompass a much broader sphere than Treaty claims. The course also examines mechanisms other than the Tribunal process to address and redress Maori Treaty issues, such as public policy and relevant international processes.

The Course begins with discussion on the functions and objectives of the major institutions involved in Treaty claims, including relevant Crown entities. The Course also examines the ways in which iwi/Maori claimants organize themselves for the purpose of Treaty claims and settlements.

A key component to this Course is to provide participants with exposure to those involved in the claims process. Depending on class size, there will be guest presentations, from claimants and Crown agencies, as well as site visits to the Treaty Room at Archives New Zealand, Tribunal hearings (when schedules allow) and other organizations.

The Course then focuses on the settlement process from both the Claimants point of view as well that of the Crown. Past settlements are highlighted and there is a discussion on the implications for New Zealand and for Maori development of having a greater number of Maori able to plan their futures in a post-settlement society.

Programme-related Learning Objectives

This programme will provide students the opportunity to:

- Develop oral, written and IT-related communication skills through;
 - Active participation in tutorial and class discussion
 - The development and presentation of oral and written reports, using narrative, rhetoric and diagrammatic and other schema as forms of presentation
 - Formal and informal classroom debate
- Develop critical and creative thinking skills through;
 - Exercises and assignments requiring analysis, evaluation, interpretation and synthesis
 - Debate and classroom discussion
- Develop leadership skills through
 - Structuring independent study: a project activity, a practicum, an internship etc
 - Leading a tutorial, project or group exercise
 - Fulfilling spokesperson duties, reporting on a group's activities or ideas to a class

Specific Course-related Student Objectives

This course content will also assist students by:

- Building an understanding of the key institutions and processes involved in Treaty of Waitangi Claims and settlements;
- Providing methodologies for researching Treaty claims and settlements;
- Developing students skills in undertaking a significant under-graduate research project;
- Providing a framework for analysis of media coverage and civil society understandings of the Treaty of Waitangi Claims process;
- Exposing students to Treaty Claims processes or other similar constitutional arrangements between indigenous peoples and States, in other countries;
- Examining current policies regarding the management of Maori resources before, during and after Treaty claims and settlements.
- Gaining experience in conducting academic research

These objectives will be assessed through the writing of assignments, attendance and active participation in lectures and through informal class presentations.

Expected Workload

Students can expect the workload to be approximately 15hrs per week including both scheduled contact time (lectures, tutorials, workshops) and outside class.

Mandatory Course Requirements

MBUS 301 is 100% internally assessed. Assessment aims to test a variety of skills and enable students to exhibit their diverse strengths.

To meet the mandatory requirements for MBUS 301, students are required to:

- Sit and submit the review test;
- Complete the two assignments (Journal & Research Report) by the due dates and attain at least a C average;
- Attend the Student Seminar 18 October
- Sit and submit the final test and attain at least a 'C'

Journal	25 %	20 August 2012 – Monday	4pm
Research Report (3500 words)	45 %	21 September 2012 – Friday	4pm
Review Test	25 %	15 October 2012 - Monday
Seminar	5%	18 October 2012 - Thursday

Assignment and report topics and due dates will be distributed to students during the first lecture.

Notice of failure to meet Mandatory Requirements will be emailed to students or posted on the Mezzanine floor notice-board. Students will be expected to check both places for notification.

Penalties

Assignments: Any assignments that are handed in late will receive a penalty loss of 5% for every day after the due date. Please communicate with course lecturer if you are unable to meet the deadline.

Seminar: 5% course marks will NOT be awarded towards final mark if you are not at the workshop.

Quality Assurance Note

Your assessed work may also be used for quality assurance purposes, such as to assess the level of achievement of learning objectives as required for accreditation and audit purposes. The findings may be used to inform changes aimed at improving the quality of FCom programmes. All material used for such processes will be treated as confidential, and the outcome will not affect your grade for the course.

Requirement for Written work

Marking

Staff aim to mark assignments promptly and return them to you in plenty of time for you to utilise the feedback in preparing your next assignment. Markers look for professionally presented work displaying a thorough understanding of the topic, a strong argument supported by sound evidence (appropriately referenced) and an ability to evaluate material.

A mark of 50 is a pass and indicates an adequate performance. Most students will meet an 'acceptable' standard of work throughout the year and a number will maintain an excellent standard. There are no "quotas" on any of these categories, so make use of the information available to you, and aim for the top.

The following broad indicative characterisations of grade will apply in grading:

A+	excellent performance in all respects
A	excellent performance in almost all respects
A-	excellent performance in many respects
B+	very good, some aspects excellent
B, B-	good but not excellent performance
C+, C	work satisfactory overall but inadequate in some respects
D	poor performance overall, some aspects adequate
E	well below the required standard
K:	Failure to achieve mandatory course requirements and have achieved at least an average "C" over all the assessment. Note this is a failing grade.

Presentation

Presentation matters, especially in this Course. All assignments should be typed and double-spaced with an adequate margin on the left-hand side of the page for markers' comments. Good presentation enables the marker to better understand your content so please make an effort to present your assignments in a professional manner. Write on only one side of the page.

Handing in of Assignments

Assignments should be submitted in hard copy form to Rutherford House on the Mezzanine Floor assignment Box 12, late assignments to be handed to Tania Loughlin at the Reception, Level 10, Rutherford House. An electronic copy of the Research Report should also be sent to the Course Director at: aroha.mead@vuw.ac.nz.

All Hand-Ins should have: an Assignment Cover Sheet stating your name, the course name, lecturers name, assignment name and number, a word count and due date. You should also put page numbers on each page, and use in-text referencing and include a list of references at the end. Preferred referencing style is APA system. You can access the information from the online VUW library site (<http://www.vuw.ac.nz/library/resources/virtualref.shtml#style>)

Students should prepare two copies of each hand-in and keep the second copy for their own reference. Students must also keep an electronic copy of their work

Communication of Additional Information

Additional information or any changes to this course will be conveyed to students either during lecture times, via email, or on the Maori Business notice board located on the Mezzanine Floor Rutherford House.

Use of Turnitin

Student work provided for assessment in this course may be checked for academic integrity by the electronic search engine <http://www.turnitin.com> Turnitin is an on-line plagiarism prevention tool which compares submitted work with a very large database of existing material. At the discretion of the Head of School, handwritten work may be copy-typed by the School and subject to checking by Turnitin. Turnitin will retain a copy of submitted materials on behalf of the University for detection of future plagiarism, but access to the full text of submissions will not be made available to any other party.

Class Representative

A class representative will be elected in the first class, and that person's name and contact details will be available to VUWSA, the Course Coordinator and the class. The class representative provides a communication channel to liaise with the Course Coordinator on behalf of students.
