• Workshop Presentations:
○ Individual Presentation	15%
• Workshop: Non-presenters' assessment
○ Participation and bullet-point preparation	10%
• Exam (2 hours; Open book)	60%
	100%

Quality Assurance Note

Your assessed work may also be used for quality assurance purposes, such as to assess the level of achievement of learning objectives as required for accreditation and audit purposes. The findings may be used to inform changes aimed at improving the quality of FCom programmes. All material used for such processes will be treated as confidential, and the outcome will not affect your grade for the course.

Mid-Trimester Test

The test will be a short answer written test in week six beginning 20 August 2012 covering material in the first five weeks of the course.

Marks will be posted on Blackboard along with the suggested solutions. If you are not satisfied with your mark after reviewing your paper against the suggested solutions you will need to complete the form at page 9 of this Course Outline and submit it to the Course Administrator.

Workshop Presentation

Presentations will take the form of a case study where all students will be given the background material two weeks before the workshop. Case studies will focus on topics addressed in lecture and in the text, but they are also intended to bring multiple audit issues together in the context of an audit situation. The case study will be presented by a group of 3 or 4 students.

Presenting students will have 90 minutes (maximum) to allow sufficient debate on the topic(s). This will consist of 4 individual presentations and each student in the presentation team will be expected to present on one aspect of the case. Individual presentations, including discussion, are expected to last 15 minutes to 20 minutes (maximum). During and after the presentation, the other students in the class are expected to debate the case study with the presenting students.

The success of case study presentations largely depends on students getting together before the presentation and planning as to how it will be run. Hence, you should contact one another once the workshop lists are published. The success of the case study also depends on the quality the research you have carried out and your analysis of the situation. Whilst you will not be assessed as a team, your presentation skills and the debate/discussion with the class will also be put to the test. This means that the presenters must devise means by which they can engage with others in the class to ensure all students not presenting have appropriate opportunities to contribute their own ideas to the case topics and the debate thereon.

Presentation teams and dates for your presentations will be determined in the first lecture.

No publication or otherwise of the suggested solutions to presentations will be given on Blackboard or distributed by lecturers. However, lecturers will ensure that the topics are covered adequately during the presentation and in the accompanying debate. Hence you will need to attend the classes at which presentations are made to ensure you can expand and/or clarify your understanding of the case study topic.

The mark for each presentation out of 15 will be discussed with the presenting students immediately following their presentations. If you are not satisfied with your mark you will need to complete the form at page 9 of this Course Outline and submit it to the Course Administrator.

Workshop Participation and Bullet-point Solutions: Non-presenters

Students (other than those presenting who do not need to prepare bullet-point solutions) are required to prepare a bullet-point solution (no more than 3-4 pages) and email them to the lecturer taking the class by Friday 12 noon of the week immediately preceding the presentation. To assist in your learning of the presentation topic you should retain a copy of your bullet-point solution for use at the presentation.

Student Assessment Areas for Presentations and Participation

1. Marks for Presenting Team

Each team member can receive a possible 15 marks in total. That which tutors will be looking for during presentation can be found below.

Each presenting team member will be assessed on the quality of their individual presentation and discussion based on the following criteria:

(i) Strength of and support for positions taken (7 marks possible)

This will be based on evidence of reasonable logic to support position(s) adopted or key issues identified from background material and evidence of having used the literature* to support these positions with sound logic and must demonstrated a good understanding of the topic

(ii) Discussion leadership (5 marks possible)

A structure or format that establishes the basis for meaningful class discussion (games, setting up opposing positions or debates or other innovative structures are encouraged); and that responses demonstrate an appropriate knowledge of the topic (the student could also involve other team members or references as appropriate to the situation)

(iii) Presentation issues (3 marks possible)

On time and present throughout the entire workshop, that the presenter speaks clearly and that the student does not rely on reading notes (reading your presentation from notes will result in a failing mark for your presentation) and flow of presentation.

* The 'literature' referred to above could include references from peer-reviewed journals, professional journals, verified media reports (i.e., not Wikipedia, blogs or unsubstantiated sources), company material, your text or a combination thereof.

Please submit copies of your presentation material to your lecturer/tutor at the end of your group presentation.

2. Marks for Non-Presenters: Workshop Participation and Bullet-point Solutions

Non-presenters will be emailed by the lecturer following the class if their bullet-point solution and/or participation in the class discussion was inadequate.

Students will receive either 10 marks or 0 marks which will be based on their participation in the presentation discussion and the bullet-point solutions they submitted for the workshops in which they were not presenting. Should students have any problems with their marks, they must contact the Course Coordinator immediately by email.

Group Discussions

Four group discussions will be held during lecture times on a topic to be advised at least a week before the group discussions. Students need to prepare a bullet-point summary on the topic to be discussed but will not be required to be submitted in advance for group discussions. These do not carry a mark.

Examinations

Students who enrol in courses with examinations are obliged to attend an examination at the University at any time during the formal examination period.

The final examination for this course will be scheduled at some time during the period from Friday 26 October – Saturday 17 November (inclusive).

Penalties

If you fail to submit your bullet-point summary on time you are unlikely to be considered for the 10% mark.

Mandatory Course Requirements

You must:

- Obtain at least 45% of the total marks available both in the test and exam e.g. if the test is out of 30 marks and the exam is out of 70 marks, you will need to get 45 of the 100 marks available.
- Give one presentation

Class Representative

A class representative will be elected in the first class, and that person's name and contact details made available to VUWSA, the Course Coordinator and the class. The class representative provides a communication channel to liaise with the Course Coordinator on behalf of students.

Communication of Additional Information

Additional information concerning this course will be provided in lectures and posted on Blackboard: <http://blackboard.vuw.ac.nz>. Urgent notices will be circulated by email.

Use of Turnitin

Student work provided for assessment in this course may be checked for academic integrity by the electronic search engine <http://www.turnitin.com>. Turnitin is an on-line plagiarism prevention tool which compares submitted work with a very large database of existing material. At the discretion of the Head of School, handwritten work may be copy-typed by the School and subject to checking by Turnitin. Turnitin will retain a copy of submitted materials on behalf of the University for detection of future plagiarism, but access to the full text of submissions will not be made available to any other party.
