Course Delivery

In the first eight weeks of the trimester, students will be part of an international virtual team exercise called X-CULTURE. Students will work with their allocated virtual team to develop an economically viable business proposal for a company of your team's choice. Each student in IBUS404 will be allocated a different team. Class discussions during the X-culture exercise will draw on students' experiences and the challenges they face interacting in their virtual team and link them to cultural theory from papers found by the students or provided by the Lecturer.

The remainder of the course will focus on expatriate management theory and the challenges of adapting management behaviour in new cultures. This section of the course will use the concepts of problem based learning and students will seek answers to the problems they discover. Students will interview some expatriates. The Course Coordinator's role will be to facilitate and act as a guide to problem identification and solution.

Group Work

Part of your final course grade (10%) will be related to assessment item 1 where you will be allocated to a global virtual team to develop an economically viable business proposal for a company of your team's choice. Your team mates will be distributed across time zones. Please see details on Blackboard for the required time commitments.

Expected Workload

You should expect to invest about 15 hours per week of time to this course.

Attendance at class:	3 hours per week
Research:	4-6 hours per week
Assignments:	4-6 hours per week

Prescription

This course focuses on management in a cross-cultural context. The emphasis is on developing intercultural competence through analysis of the role of culture in international management and the influence of culture on communication, leadership and negotiating in a diverse environment.

Course Learning Objectives

By the end of this course, students should be able to:

1. Critically discuss the empirical and conceptual comparative and cross-cultural management literature.
2. Examine the main themes and issues in cross-cultural management.
3. Apply theories and concepts to argue the role of culture in international business.

Course Content

We will look at various international business and management issues mainly through the prism of culture. We will explore the concept of culture in depth and analyse its influence on both interpersonal and inter-organisational interaction, with the objective of developing analytical and practical skills for managing effectively in a multicultural workplace.

It is expected that having completed this course you will have a greater appreciation of the "hidden" aspects of international business and management and that you will appreciate that various interpretations exist to seemingly simple issues. You should leave this course not only well-versed in the literature on cross-cultural management, but also well prepared for intercultural encounters in an international business setting.

The following topics will be covered during this course:

- The concept of culture, cultural values.
- Intercultural interaction and communication
- Cross-cultural negotiation
- Cross-cultural leadership
- Expatriate issues

Penalties

Late assignment submissions will not be accepted. Exceptions will be made only for special circumstances (bereavement, illness, etc.) where documentation is provided. In other cases, ten marks will be deducted (out of 100) for each day, or part day, that the assignment is late.

Use of Turnitin

Student work provided for assessment in this course may be checked for academic integrity by the electronic search engine <http://www.turnitin.com>. Turnitin is an on-line plagiarism prevention tool which compares submitted work with a very large database of existing material. At the discretion of the Head of School, handwritten work may be copy-typed by the School and submitted to Turnitin. A copy of submitted materials will be retained on behalf of the University for detection of future plagiarism, but access to the full text of submissions will not be made available to any other party.

Mandatory Course Requirements

If you cannot complete an assignment or sit a test or examination, refer to www.victoria.ac.nz/home/study/exams-and-assessments/aegrotat

Class Representative

A class representative will be elected in the first class, and that person's name and contact details made available to VUWSA, the Course Coordinator and the class. The class representative provides a communication channel to liaise with the Course Coordinator on behalf of students.

Communication of Additional Information

See the course site on Blackboard. Announcements pertaining to the course will be posted there. Because almost all of your course documents are on this site please make sure that you have access to Blackboard during the first week of class. No additional materials will be permitted during the final examination.

Student feedback

Student feedback on University courses may be found at www.cad.vuw.ac.nz/feedback/feedback_display.php

Note to Students

Your assessed work may also be used for quality assurance purposes, such as to assess the level of achievement of learning objectives as required for accreditation and academic audit. The findings may be used to inform changes aimed at improving the quality of VBS programmes. All material used for such processes will be treated as confidential, and the outcome will not affect your grade for the course.
