Course Delivery

This course runs as a discussion and lecture programme

Sessions feature traditional lectures, cases, and scenarios. They include focussed student lead discussion on readings plus lecture and some practical exercises in class to bridge theory to practice. Students are expected to read assigned readings before class and be prepared to answer questions.

Group Work

There is a group project in this course. Please go to the Commerce Faculty website's 'Group work' resource for advice on group skills <http://www.victoria.ac.nz/vbs/teaching/group-work>.

In particular, look at the student resources on time management, setting meeting agendas, and project timelines for ideas on group skills.

If there are issues within your groups, the lecturer will be available to assist. However, you are asked to make a reasonable attempt to resolve the issue before you approach the lecturer.

Students are expected to maintain trust and effective working relationships with team members. Students may also be required to leave the group and to submit a complete assignment on their own, or may be allocated a mark that differs from other group members to match their level of contribution. Lecturers may take the views of other team members into account when making this decision.

Expected Workload

Workload expectations for this course are 10 hours per week for the 12 teaching weeks and 30 hrs during the mid-trimester break. Students are expected to do the week's readings before class.

Prescription

Topics include: job design, recruitment, selection and orientation; career management, development, managing performance and remuneration, health and safety, and employee retention, exit and retirement.

Communicate and lead HR projects (assessed by group presentation, scoping paper and major project)

Course Content

This course focuses on human resource management practices in contemporary organizations. More specifically it aims to:

- provide an understanding of contemporary human resource management issues
- evaluate how recent theoretical and research developments inform HR decisions
- analyze HR issues and develop the ability in students to think about the trade-offs involved in HR decisions

Readings

Students are advised to purchase the course text:

Crawshaw, J., Budhwar, P., & Davis, A. (2014). Human resource management: strategic and international perspectives: Sage.

The core text should be helpful throughout your studies. It is, however, only a starting point. You are expected to read more widely around the course topic areas drawing on academic journal articles, books, reports and case studies.

The need for more evidence (research) based HR practice is an important course theme. Research knowledge is an important part of doing well in the course, and you should expect to be familiar with the library and databases such as Pro-quest.

Proposal	Week 4 (3 August)	5%
Group presentation	Weeks 9 & 10 (21, 28 September)	10%
Individual case study	5 October	35%
Final examination	Exam period	50%

Class participation

You are expected to prepare for each weekly topic by reading the relevant textbook chapter(s), other assigned readings and to contribute to class discussion.

For some weeks, questions provided on Blackboard will be used as discussion points, and cases will be provided for advance reading. Further details will be provided in course and on Blackboard.

Group presentation

2-6 students will be selected to facilitate a discussion on a designated reading or application of HR theory to a public issue. All students, however, are expected to read and think about the material in advance and come prepared to participate. Please provide, prior to class, materials (such as power point slides) and a 'takeaway' such as a two page summary sheet to help learning transfer.

The evaluation of your group presentation will depend on your overall contribution, as demonstrated by:

- Relating the reading to practical implications
- Facilitating a discussion that is engaging, memorable, and within time
- The in-class materials and takeaway
- Your contribution to the project. Where student contributions widely differ, individual, rather than a common group mark, may be given.

Students are expected to work in diverse groups to enhance their learning experience. Students who are confident in the subject can expect to gain a deeper understanding through explaining concepts to their group, some of which may be relevant to the exam.

Individual case study

You will be required to select an organisation or firm and critically analyse three of its HRM practices in the context of the business issues facing the organisation/firm.

(a) Initial proposal - 5%: due on 3th August in class.

You are to write a two-page proposal indicating:

- which organisation or firm (a private, public or voluntary sector one) you intend to study;
- strategic issue facing the organisation
- the HRM practices and processes you intend to focus on – select three interconnected practices (this will be explained further at the first class session)
- how those three interconnected issues might relate to the strategic issue facing the organisation
- what sort of information you will collect and how you will collect it. Use, as appropriate, primary and secondary information sources, e.g. interviews, company reports, business and strategic plans, stock market information, company brochures, collective agreements, union newsletters, newspaper articles, available surveys, books, journals, case studies, etc. Report on the availability of those data sources for the organisation you intend to study.

(b) Detailed case study – 35%: due 5th October in class.

You are to prepare a case analysis (Maximum 5,000 words, including references) that contains the following:

- A brief description of the organisation or firm and its context/environment.
- An identification of the major business or strategic issues facing the organisation or firm and their current or potential impacts on it.
- A description of each of your selected HRM practices - this is a "current state" description.
- A brief analysis of the complementarity of the HRM practices i.e. how effective they are (or otherwise) in complementing/reinforcing each other and in addressing strategic/business goals.

- A detailed analysis of the effectiveness or otherwise of the HRM practices in contributing to (a) the overall business strategy and (b) addressing the business issues facing the organisation/firm.
- An outline of the implications of your findings for the organisation and recommendations (as appropriate) relating to addressing any HRM gaps.

In your analysis you should ensure that you include the material and topics covered in class including the applicable theories.

Handing in assignments

Assignments should be handed in during class AND via Turnitin. Students are required to keep electronic copies of their work.

Use of Turnitin

Student work provided for assessment in this course may be checked for academic integrity by the electronic search engine <http://www.turnitin.com>. Turnitin is an on-line plagiarism prevention tool which compares submitted work with a very large database of existing material. At the discretion of the Head of School, handwritten work may be copy-typed by the School and submitted to Turnitin. A copy of submitted materials will be retained on behalf of the University for detection of future plagiarism, but access to the full text of submissions will not be made available to any other party.

Grading and Assessment Structure

Penalties - for Lateness & Excessive Length of Assignments

- (i) In fairness to other students, work submitted after any deadline will incur a penalty for lateness. The penalty is 10% of the marks available (marks available means what the assignment is worth e.g. 20 marks) for an assignment submitted after the due time on the due date for each part day or day late. For example if an assignment is out of 20 and the assignment receives a mark of 14 i.e. 70% of 20, then one day late means the mark will be out of 18 and the student will receive 70% of 18). Saturdays, Sundays and public holidays will be included when counting the number of days late. Assignments received more than 7 days after the due date will not be accepted and the student will automatically fail the Mandatory Course Requirements.
- (ii) Course Outlines provide a signal to students of forthcoming workload, dates of submission etc, and thus student study plans should take account of course requirements across all courses. Consequently, workload issues related to other courses and employment will not be accepted as reason for dispensation from mandatory requirements or waiver of penalties. Extensions to submission deadlines for any assigned work will only be granted in exceptional circumstances.
- (iii) Students who know that they may be unable to comply with any of the mandatory requirements should make a written application for an extension to the due date for submission of assigned work or for waiver of a penalty, in advance, to the Course Supervisor or Course Administrator, providing documentary evidence of the reasons of their circumstances.

All such applications must be made before the deadline and be accompanied by documentary evidence, e.g. a medical certificate, or counsellor's report clearly stating the degree of impairment, and the dates the illness or event prevented you from undertaking your academic studies. This can be applied retrospectively.
- (iv) In the event of unusual or unforeseeable circumstances (e.g. serious illness, family bereavement or other exceptional events), that precludes an application in advance, students should make contact with the Course Supervisor or Course Administrator as soon as possible, and make application for waiver of a penalty as soon as practicable.

- (v) Specified word limits should be adhered to, especially so when they provide a guide to limiting the student's coverage of a topic. The penalty will be 10% of the grade for an assignment which is more than 200 words over the word limit.

Examinations

Students who enrol in courses with examinations are obliged to attend an examination at the University at any time during the formal examination period. The final examination for this course will be scheduled at some time during the following period:

Friday 23rd October – Saturday 14th November (inclusive)

Mandatory Course Requirements

The Assessment Handbook will apply to all VUW courses: see <http://www.victoria.ac.nz/documents/policy/staff-policy/assessment-handbook.pdf>.

To meet mandatory course requirements, students must:

- (i) participate in the group presentation,
- (ii) submit all assessments on the due dates, and
- (iii) obtain at least 40 per cent of the final examination marks available.

Students who fail to satisfy the mandatory requirements for this course but who obtain 50% or more overall, will be awarded a "K" fail grade.

Standard fail grades (D or E) will be awarded when the student's overall course mark falls below the minimum pass mark of 50 percent, regardless of whether the mandatory course requirements have been satisfied or not. Notice of Failure to meet Mandatory Course Requirements will be posted on Blackboard.

If you cannot complete an assignment or sit a test or examination, refer to

Referencing

There are many different styles of referencing and the Faculty of Commerce at VUW has decided to make APA (American Psychological Association) referencing style the common standard across the Faculty. The Commerce and Central Libraries hold the APA Style Guide. You can also access the information from the online VUW library site

(<http://www.vuw.ac.nz/library/resources/virtualref.shtml#style>).

Individual Work

While this programme has a tradition of study group collaboration, there are important elements in the assessment process that are strictly individual. Collaboration on individual assignments is not allowed beyond general discussion as to how one might interpret the nature of the assignment question. Please do not work together to formulate a response to written work and do not loan out your completed assignments.

Class Representative

A class representative will be elected in the first class, and that person's name and contact details made available to VUWSA, the course coordinator and the class. The class representative provides a communication channel to liaise with the course coordinator on behalf of students.

Communication

Information on course-related matters will be announced at class and posted on the Blackboard website at <http://blackboard.vuw.ac.nz/>. It will be crucial for you to regularly check Blackboard for messages, announcements and materials.

Email Contact

Students wishing to contact staff by email should adhere to the following instructions: Include the Course Code, your Name, your Student ID and the Topic in the subject area of the email, e.g.

MGMT300_Smith_Pauline_3000223344_Ass1 Query

All students must use their VUW SCS email account and ID. Otherwise, email will be classified as Spam and will be dumped without being read. All emails with attachments will be dumped, unless requested by staff.

Student feedback

Student feedback on University courses may be found at www.cad.vuw.ac.nz/feedback/feedback_display.php

Note to Students

Your assessed work may also be used for quality assurance purposes, such as to assess the level of achievement of learning objectives as required for accreditation and academic audit. The findings may be used to inform changes aimed at improving the quality of VBS programmes. All material used for such processes will be treated as confidential, and the outcome will not affect your grade for the course.
