MMAF 528 CURRENT TOPICS IN CORPORATE FINANCE

Trimester 2, 2016

COURSE OUTLINE

Prescription

An intensive examination of modern research in corporate finance based on information asymmetries. Topics include agency costs, financial contracting, security issuing, security design, liquidity, and corporate governance.

Course Learning Objectives

By the end of this course, students should be able to:

1. Explain the key question, contribution, set-up, mechanism, and empirical results from the scholarly papers discussed in class;
2. Apply information economics to problems in corporate finance;
3. Formulate empirical tests of finance theory;
4. Interpret the statistical and economic implications of econometric results;
5. Communicate the key implications of modern corporate finance to a non-specialist audience; and
6. Critique current finance research and develop possible extensions.

Course Content

Modern corporate finance is concerned about information and how that information affects incentives. In contrast, classical finance assumes all agents commonly observe and interpret information. Furthermore, classical finance assumes agents act upon a common information set by trading assets in frictionless markets that fully span all future states. In this course, we relax these assumptions and explore the effect on decision making using information economics, which yields new and more realistic insights into the following topic areas:

- The implications of market incompleteness to corporate finance;
- Market frictions, connections, information, and news;
- Agency costs and Initial Public Offerings (IPOs) ;
- Agency costs and capital structure;
- Financial flexibility and cash holdings; and
- Institutions and economic outcomes.

Examinations

Students who enrol in courses with examinations are obliged to attend an examination at the University at any time during the formal examination period. The final examination for this course will be scheduled at some time during the following period:

Friday 21st October – Saturday 12th November (inclusive)

Penalties

- Students, who do not present their assigned articles on the assigned dates, will receive a mark of zero.
- The Critical Paper Review and all ten assignments are due at the start of class.
 - Assignments not submitted by the start of class will receive a mark of zero.
 - If the Critical Paper Review is not submitted by the start of class on the due date, then it will be marked down by 5% for each day late. One week after the due date, the Critical Paper Review will not be accepted and a grade of zero will be recorded.
- If the student provides a satisfactory medical certificate to the instructor, then the student's
 - Paper presentation will be rescheduled without penalty,
 - Assignment will be given full credit, and
 - The due date of the Critical Paper Review will be extended.

Use of Turnitin

Student work provided for assessment in this course may be checked for academic integrity by the electronic search engine <http://www.turnitin.com>. Turnitin is an on-line plagiarism prevention tool which compares submitted work with a very large database of existing material. At the discretion of the Head of School, handwritten work may be copy-typed by the School and submitted to Turnitin. A copy of submitted materials will be retained on behalf of the University for detection of future plagiarism, but access to the full text of submissions will not be made available to any other party.

Student feedback

Student feedback on University courses may be found at www.cad.vuw.ac.nz/feedback/feedback_display.php.

Class Representative

A class representative will be elected in the first class, and that person's name and contact details made available to VUWSA, the course coordinator and the class. The class representative provides a communication channel to liaise with the course coordinator on behalf of students.

Communication of Additional Information

Course documents and other information will be available on Blackboard. Announcements and presentations will be posted there.

For general information about course-related matters, go to <http://www.victoria.ac.nz/vbs/studenthelp/general-course-information>

Note to Students

Your assessed work may also be used for quality assurance purposes, such as to assess the level of achievement of learning objectives as required for accreditation and academic audit. The findings may be used to inform changes aimed at improving the quality of VBS programmes. All material used for such processes will be treated as confidential, and the outcome will not affect your grade for the course.
