AIMS AND LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

This course will examine gender relations from a sociological perspective. It will draw on a variety of sociological approaches and perspectives to examine key concepts, issues and themes in the contemporary study of gender. Readings, lectures and tutorials will focus on a new topic each week. Topics will include knowledge, experience, identity, sex, gender, embodiment, reproduction, intimacy, consumption, mothering, home and work.

On completing this course students will be able to:

- ✓ Explain conceptual debates in gender analysis.
- ✓ Explain methodological debates in gender analysis.
- ✓ Analyse political debate and policy practice regarding gender in New Zealand.
- ✓ Describe changing New Zealand policy and practice regarding gender in the context of international politics.

MANDATORY COURSE REQUIREMENTS

To meet the mandatory course requirements students must average 50% or more of the assessments.

WORK LOAD

This is a 12-week course. 200-level students should expect to spend, on average, 15 hours per week and 300-level students should expect to spend, on average, 18 hours per week (including class contact hours), which is in accordance with the guidelines put forward by the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences

COURSE ASSESSMENT

This course is marked out of 100% in-term work. Your final mark will be made of three components:

1. Journal Weighting: 30%

The Journal assignment requires you to select 4 (215) or 5 (315) of the required readings and:

Firstly, e-mail questions and comments about the required reading to your tutor before 9am on the day of the tutorial where that reading will be discussed. Questions and comments should be no more than 200 words and may be in list format (e.g. bullet points).

Secondly, write a short (less than 500 words) response paper about this reading.

Short papers must develop an argument that responds to the reading expressed in fully rounded sentences and paragraphs. Typically, papers should consist of 2-3 paragraphs.

All quotations and references must be properly cited using an author date, page number format. For example,

Okin (1982, 72) argues that ideological and social changes in the European family in the late 17th and the 18th century had “catastrophic implications” for women’s rights.

If, and only if, you are summarising an entire article, you do not have to include the page number.

Okin (1982) shows how classical democratic theorists such as Locke and Rousseau sentimentalised women’s special contribution to family life. She argues that the status of these theorists in democratic theory has ideologically obscured social and economic restrictions on women.

Students must submit 4 (215) or 5 (315) short papers (500 words) in total. Students may submit one extra paper and drop their lowest mark.

Submissions must include a print out of the initial e-mail comments as well as the short paper.

Due date: Short papers with hard copies of the e-mail comments attached must be submitted by 4pm on the Friday one week after that reading was set. For example, if you write a paper on Gatens, or Okin that paper must be submitted by 4pm Friday 25th July. If you write a paper on Young or Baker that paper must be submitted by 4pm August 1st.

Additionally, you must have submitted at least 3 short papers, with initial questions and comments attached, before 19th September 2008

2. In-Class Test - 9 October Weighting: 30%

3. Research Essay Weighting: 40%
2500 words for SOSC/SPOL215; 3000 words for SOSC/SPOL315

The research essay allows you to investigate a chosen topic from the course in more depth. Suggestions for topics will be distributed in class or students may develop their own topics, which must be approved by Dr Harrington. Completion of the research essay requires submission of two pieces of work: a plan and the final version. Your research essay will not be marked if you have not first submitted an essay plan.

Due dates:	Essay Plan:	19 September 2008	(5%)
	Final Version:	17 October 2008	(35%)

Please note: Exam timetable clashes provide a valid reason for an extension on the final date for this assignment, however evidence of such clashes will be required.

Research Essay: Plan

The plan need not be more than one page.

The plan must include: Your research question and a statement of why this question is interesting or significant; A bibliography of sources relevant to the topic.

The plan may include:

- an outline of the paper.
- a list of planned content.
- diagrams or flow charts of ideas about the topic

Research Essay: Citations and Bibliography

Your research essay must contain proper citations. Students may use either in-text citations, or footnotes or endnotes for the research paper. Your citation format must be consistent. A good rule to remember is that you should provide enough information about your sources for your reader to be able to trace them.

Both essays must include an alphabeticised bibliography listing works cited in the essay. The bibliography should not include works consulted but not cited.

If you are uncertain about how to do citations please consult the course coordinator.

HANDING IN WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS

It is the policy of the School of Social and Cultural Studies that all written assignments must be handed in by 4 pm on the due date.

You must submit a hard copy and an electronic copy of your essays. Hard copies must be placed in the assignment box located to the side of the lifts on level 9, Murphy Building. Electronic copies must be e-mailed to carol.harrington@vuw.ac.nz.

Assignments MUST NOT be placed in individual staff pigeonholes, or under staff office doors, or handed to lecturers or tutors. This is to ensure that all work is properly recorded when submitted, and to avoid problems that have arisen in the past when work has "gone missing".

At 4 pm the assignment box is emptied, the work date-stamped and its receipt recorded, and then handed to the appropriate markers.

School Cover Sheet

Please include a School Cover sheet when submitting your assignments. You may wish to have your own front sheet, but please ensure you place the School's cover sheet on the top as this ensures critical identifying information is provided. A sample School Cover sheet is at the end of this Outline. Further copies may be found at the School Administration office, and on the Assignment Box, on level 9 of Murphy building.

Students MUST keep a photocopy of every written assignment

Unless students have followed this procedure, the School will not accept responsibility for pieces of written work claimed to have been handed in.

GRADES

The Social Policy Programme follows University policy in giving letter grades for all internally assessed work instead of giving numerical marks. The following table sets out the range of marks within which each letter grade is assigned. Your final grade and marks for the course will be an aggregate of the grades you achieve during the course.

Pass	A+	85% or over	Evidence of familiarity with relevant reading and sound understanding of concepts, plus individual interpretation and insights of a higher order. An A grade will not be achieved without such insight. Work well presented with logical structure and clarity of expression.
	A	80%-84%

B+	70-74%		As above, but less individual insight and preparation.
B	65%-69%		High level of understanding exhibited. Assignment well presented.
B-	60%-64%
C+	55%-59%		Work lacks originality, individual insights and not strong on understanding. However, material used is relevant and presentation is satisfactory.
C	50%-54%
Fail	D	40%-49%	Little evidence of reading or comprehension. No insight. Poor presentation.

LATE PENALTIES

Late submissions for student assignments in all Sociology and Social Policy undergraduate courses are subject to a penalty. The exact deduction will be calculated on the basis of one half mark per day late for each 10 marks, i.e. 1 mark will be deducted each day for an assignment worth 20% of the total course mark.

Note that assessment work will not be accepted for marking more than 7 days after the due date or 7 days after an approved extension date. Work must still, however, be submitted to meet the mandatory course requirements.

EXTENSIONS

If you are given an extension, a new submission date will be identified and you will have to submit the work in the same manner as above by 4 p.m. on that day. Failure to do so will result in penalties being applied in the same manner as those for the original submission date. If you need an extension ask Dr Harrington before the due date.

Exam timetable clashes will be taken into account in extensions for the Research Essay.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY AND PLAGIARISM

The University defines plagiarism as follows:

The presentation of the work of another person or other persons as if it were one's own, whether intended or not. This includes published or unpublished work, material on the Internet and the work of other students or staff.

It is still plagiarism even if you re-structure the material or present it in your own style or words.

Note: It is however, perfectly acceptable to include the work of others as long as that is acknowledged by appropriate referencing.

Plagiarism is prohibited and if you are found guilty you will be subject to disciplinary procedures under the Statute on Student Conduct and may be penalized severely. Any plagiarised work submitted for this course will result in a fail and referred for further disciplinary action by the university

Find out more about plagiarism, and how to avoid it, on the University's website: www.vuw.ac.nz/home/studying/plagiarism.html

Use of Turnitin

Student work provided for assessment in this course may be checked for academic integrity by the electronic search engine <<http://www.turnitin.com>>. Turnitin is an online plagiarism prevention tool which identifies material that may have been copied from other sources including the Internet, books, journals, periodicals or the work of other students. Turnitin is used to assist academic staff in detecting misreferencing, misquotation, and the inclusion of unattributed material, which may be forms of cheating or plagiarism. At the discretion of the head of School, handwritten work may be copy typed by the School and subject to checking by turnitin. You are strongly advised to check with your tutor or the course coordinator if you are uncertain about how to use and cite material from other sources. Turnitin will retain a copy of submitted materials on behalf of the University for detection of future plagiarism, but access to the full text of submissions will not be made available to any other party.
