WEBSITE

The School's website is at: <http://www.victoria.ac.nz/sacs>. On the same page you will find Sociolog, <http://www.victoria.ac.nz/sacs/about/sociolog.aspx>, a chronicle of reflections written by Sociology, Social Policy, Social Science Research staff and postgraduate students.

CLASS REPRESENTATIVE

A class representative will be recruited in consultation with the class at the beginning of the course. The class representative's name and contact details will be available to the Victoria University of Wellington Students' Association (VUWSA), the course coordinator and the class (on BlackBoard). The class representative provides a communication channel to liaise with the course coordinator on behalf of students.

COURSE WITHDRAWAL PROCEDURES

If you decide for ANY reason at ANY stage to withdraw from SOSC/SPOL 318 (or any other course) please see the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences for a Change of Course Form. Failure to do so may have consequences for enrolment, bursaries, allowances, loans, etc., i.e. you will get credited with a fail, not a withdrawal, on your record if you do not act promptly.

COURSE WORKLOAD EXPECTATIONS

The design of the course is based upon an assumption that students will need to spend a minimum of 16 hours a week. This workload is in accordance with the guidelines put forward by the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences for half-year courses at the 300-level.

PART B: LEARNING OBJECTIVES AND COURSE DELIVERY

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

This course will use both empirical studies of social movements and theoretical treatments of key issues to examine the social and political context of protest. The focus will be on key questions such as: Under what circumstances do social movements emerge? How do activists choose political tactics and strategies? And, how do movements affect social and political change?

At the end of the course students should be able to:

- reflect and critique a range of theories explaining social movement emergence and operation;
- critically reflect on political processes and explore power dimensions in these processes within New Zealand;
- demonstrate knowledge of the theories of state, including pluralism, neo-liberal governance, and public choice;
- have an understanding of when and how collective action has impacted upon social policy decisions in New Zealand;
- and have the skills to evaluate the normative claims made by New Zealand social movements and interest groups in the social policy realm.

Within the course students will:

- Develop critical analysis skills;
- Collect, collate, and analyse both primary and secondary data;
- Be encouraged to write clearly and in a sound academic style, i.e. to produce an argument and marshal evidence for it;
- And be encouraged to attend lectures to understand social policies issues and debates, and to appreciate different viewpoints.

ILLNESS AND MEETING THE ASSESSMENT REQUIREMENTS OF THE COURSE

If illness or bereavement prevents you from submitting an assignment by the due date, then you may be given an extension of time. Extensions on the basis of personal circumstances will also be considered. Any requests for extension must be discussed with Sandra Grey. Note however, that extensions must be applied for before the date on which the assignment is due, and that the period of extension will not exceed the period of illness. You may be asked to produce a medical certificate.

PART C: COURSE REQUIREMENTS AND ASSESSMENT

MANDATORY COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Students must fulfill the following requirements:

- a) completion of two written assignments
- b) complete a journal summary of at least 20 of the required lecture readings

A list of any students who have not achieved requirements a) and b) of the above by the end of the trimester teaching period will be posted on the Social Policy notice board on level 9 of Murphy Building. Students who have not met these requirements will not pass the course and will be given a K grade.

DETAILS OF ASSESSMENT

Assessment will be by a combination of in-term assessment and an end of year examination. The schedule of work and the manner in which the final grade will be calculated is shown below:

	Weighting	Due Date
Journal	20%	Weekly, as outlined in lecture reading schedule
Assignment One	40%	4pm, Thursday, April 22, 2010
Assignment Two	40%	4pm, Thursday, 3 June 2010

JOURNAL

Double entry journals are to be completed by each student. A half page entry should be written for each of the readings completed by a student. Up to 10 marks will be allocated on the basis of the level of understanding and insight within the student's journal entries. The remaining marks will be allocated at one mark for every three journal articles/book chapters read and critiqued, up to a maximum of 10 marks. As a minimum student's must read at least 20 of the required lecture readings listed in this course outline, however you are encouraged to read more widely than this.

Students will be given both a hard copy version and an electronic version of the Double Entry Journal Template at the start of the course.

Double Entry Journal Template (Sample only) SPOL 304 - 2006

Instructions:

- Outline in the left-hand column the key points of the article.
- Opposite each point, include a response of some sort. Comments can be informal or formal.

(For more on double entry journals see Barbara J. Millis, US Air Force Academy)

ESSAYS ASSIGNMENTS

The objective in the first and second assignments is to foster problem solving and analytical abilities by requiring students to apply course learning to a specific social policy context.

ASSIGNMENT ONE – ESSAY

Due: 4pm, Thursday 22 April, 2010 Length: 3,000 words Weighting: 40%

Choose ONE of the following three options:

1. Discuss the key components of political opportunities theorising and then apply this theorising to a social movement in New Zealand?
2. Compare and contrast the major differences between the European and American traditions of social movement theorising.
3. Explore Nancy Fraser's claim that 'justice today requires both redistribution and recognition'? Where possible relate Fraser's claim to the New Zealand women's or GLBT movements.

ASSIGNMENT TWO – ESSAY

Due: 4pm, Thursday 3 June, 2010 Length: 3,000 words Weighting: 40%

Choose ONE of the following three options:

1. Trace the claims-making of a social movement or social movement organisation in New Zealand over one decade using the collective's own newsletters, pamphlets, publications, and press releases. For example, use selections from Salient to follow the student movement at Victoria University of Wellington from 1970 to 1980; or Broadsheet from 1995 to 2005 to look at the women's movement in New Zealand.
2. Explore the role of social movements in one area of social policy (for example, social security; superannuation; housing; education).
3. It is often argued that one of the greatest achievements of social movements has been opening up the political sphere to both new forms of claims-making and new groups. Is this 'impact' evident in New Zealand?

PART D: COURSE ASSESSMENT PROTOCOLS AND PROCEDURES

HANDING IN ESSAY AND OTHER WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS

When?

It is the policy of the School of Social and Cultural Studies that all written assignments must be handed in by 4 pm on the due date.

Where?

Assignments must be place in the assignment box located to the side of the lifts on level 9, Murphy Building.

Assignments MUST NOT be placed in individual staff pigeonholes, or under staff office doors, or handed to lecturers or tutors. This is to ensure that all work is properly recorded when submitted, and to avoid problems that have arisen in the past when work has "gone missing".

At 4 pm the assignment box is emptied, the work date-stamped and its receipt recorded, and then handed to the appropriate markers.

School Assignment Cover Sheet

Please include a School Assignment Cover sheet when submitting your assignments. You may wish to have your own front sheet, but please ensure you place the School's cover sheet on the top as this ensures critical identifying information is provided. A sample School Assignment Cover sheet is at the end of this Outline. Further copies may be found at the School Administration office, and on the Assignment Box, on level 9 of Murphy building.

Students MUST keep a photocopy of every written assignment

Unless students have followed this procedure, the School will not accept responsibility for pieces of written work claimed to have been handed in.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY AND PLAGIARISM

Academic integrity means that university staff and students, in their teaching and learning are expected to treat others honestly, fairly and with respect at all times. It is not acceptable to mistreat academic, intellectual or creative work that has been done by other people by representing it as your own original work.

Academic integrity is important because it is the core value on which the University's learning, teaching and research activities are based. Victoria University's reputation for academic integrity adds value to your qualification.

The University defines plagiarism as presenting someone else's work as if it were your own, whether you mean to or not. 'Someone else's work' means anything that is not your own idea. Even if it is presented in your own style, you must acknowledge your sources fully and appropriately. This includes:

- Material from books, journals or any other printed source
- The work of other students or staff
- Information from the internet
- Software programs and other electronic material
- Designs and ideas
- The organisation or structuring of any such material

Find out more about plagiarism, how to avoid it and penalties, on the University's website:

<http://www.victoria.ac.nz/home/study/plagiarism.aspx>

GRADES

The following table sets out the range of marks within which each letter grade is assigned. Your final grade and marks for the course will be an aggregate of the grades you achieve during the course.

Pass	A+	85% or over	Evidence of familiarity with relevant reading and sound understanding of concepts, plus individual interpretation and insights of a higher order. An A grade will not be achieved without such insight. Work well presented with logical structure and clarity of expression.
	A	80%-84%
	A-	75%-79%
	B+	70-74%	As above, but less individual insight and preparation. High level of understanding exhibited. Assignment well presented.
	B	65%-69%
	B-	60%-64%	Work lacks originality, individual insights and not strong on understanding. However, material used is relevant and presentation is satisfactory.
	C+	55%-59%
C	50%-54%
Fail	D	40%-49%	Little evidence of reading or comprehension. No insight. Poor presentation.
	E	Below 40%	A clear failure to reach an adequate standard on the criteria set out.

Appendix A includes information about the preferred format for referencing and bibliographies for this course.

LATE PENALTIES

Late submissions for student assignments in all Sociology and Social Policy undergraduate courses are subject to a penalty. The exact deduction will be calculated on the basis of one half mark per day late for each 10 marks, i.e. 1 mark will be deducted each day for an assignment worth 20% of the total course mark.

Note that assessment work will not be accepted for marking more than 7 days after the due date or 7 days after an approved extension date. Work must still, however, be submitted to meet the mandatory course requirements.

EXTENSIONS

If you are given an extension, a new submission date will be identified and you will have to submit the work in the same manner as above by 4 p.m. on that day. Failure to do so will result in penalties being applied in the same manner as those for the original submission date.

GENERAL UNIVERSITY POLICIES AND STATUTES

Students should familiarise themselves with the University's policies and statutes, particularly the Assessment Statute, the Personal Courses of Study Statute, the Statute on Student Conduct and any statutes relating to the particular qualifications being studied; see the Victoria University Calendar or go to the Academic Policy and Student Policy sections on: <http://www.victoria.ac.nz/home/about/policy>

The AVC(Academic) website also provides information for students in a number of areas including Academic Grievances, Student and Staff conduct, Meeting the needs of students with impairments, and student support/VUWSA student advocates. This website can be accessed at:

GOVERNMENT AND OTHER WEB SITES

All government departments have their own websites where you can access the latest information on policies and strategies. Most departments also have publications such as policy documents, briefing papers etc. listed on their web page which you can usually view, download, save or print out. All government websites have a web address that goes www.[and then an abbreviation of the department's name]govt.nz. For example:

Ministry of Social Development is <http://www.msd.govt.nz>

Child Youth and Family it is <http://www.cyf.govt.nz/>

Te Puni Kokiri it is <http://www.tpk.govt.nz>

For Cabinet press releases and ministerial speeches go to www.beehive.govt.nz

In addition the website: www.stuff.co.nz, which is the combined website of a number of New Zealand newspapers, has on-line access to both national and international headlines and news. You can also get free 'headlines alert' emailed to you daily. Scoop, <http://www.scoop.co.nz/> is a Wellington based Internet news agency, which also offers a free emailing service for news on current events.

A selection of website for non-government organisations that may be of interest during the course, though bear in mind this is a very limited selection of the interest groups in New Zealand society.

APPENDIX A

REFERENCES

The preferred style of referencing for this course is in-text rather than footnotes, i.e. information about the source of the reference is added into the text. This includes the author, date of publication and, where appropriate, the page number. For example:

A study of organisational behaviour showed (Howat 1985) a link between...

Clerehan (1989) showed in her study...

In a study of gender differences ... (Mills 1988:22).

You may use footnotes instead, but make sure you are consistent with format.

Full details of all references are to be listed in the bibliography at the end of the assignment.

Please make sure you reference not only direct quotes and statistics, but also all ideas and information sourced from other material.

BIBLIOGRAPHIES

A bibliography is a list of all the references sources you have used in preparation for the assignment, including those not directly cited in the essay. All references from the assignment should be listed on a separate page at the end of the assignment in alphabetical order by the author's surname.

An acceptable format is: Author's surname, initials (date of publication) Title of book (in italics) Publisher: place published. See the list of recommended readings in this course outline for examples of references in this format.

For information sourced from websites, the format is: Name of website, author (if given) title or heading of article (if given), full web address, the date (day/month/year) you accessed the information.

The main thing to remember is to be consistent and careful with your presentation, particularly with punctuation. Depending on the type of reference source used, a different format may be required.

Student Learning Support Services has an excellent on-line guide to references and bibliographies at http://www.victoria.ac.nz/st_services/slss/whats-on/study-skills.aspx.

Due Date:	Word Length:
Comments

Description & Coverage of Essay Topic	Excellent (Range: A+ to A; 80-100): Concise and thorough description of key themes; synthesizes across readings where appropriate.	Very Good (Range: A- to B; 65-79): Concise and thorough description of key themes; occasional synthesis across readings.	Satisfactory (Range: B- to C; 50-64): Adequate description of key themes; misses opportunities for synthesis across readings.	Unsatisfactory (Range: D to E; 0-49): Insufficient description of key themes; not an appropriate topic for the assigned essay; no synthesis across readings.
Organisation	Excellent (Range: A+ to A; 80-100): Clear outline of essay including a thesis statement and organisational sentences; follows organisational plan through to the end of the essay.	Very Good (Range: A- to B; 65-79): Clear outline of essay including a thesis statement and organisational sentence; carries the majority of the organisation through to the end of the essay.	Satisfactory (Range: B- to C; 50-64): An outline of the essay including a thesis statement and organisational sentences are present, but demonstrates difficulty pulling the organisation through to the end of the essay.	Unsatisfactory (Range: D to E; 0-49): Inadequate organization of ideas and arguments.
Expression & Argumentation	Excellent (Range: A+ to A; 80-100): Makes an argument clearly supported by appropriate evidence.	Very Good (Range: A- to B; 65-79): Makes an argument and attempts to support with evidence.	Satisfactory (Range: B- to C; 50-64): The argument is not clear OR the argument is not supported adequately with evidence.	Unsatisfactory (Range: D to E; 0-49): No argument made AND these assertions made are not supported with evidence.
Insight & Interpretation	Excellent (Range: A+ to A; 80-100): Logical interpretation or application of themes in context of real world examples or theoretical frameworks/course concepts and readings.	Very Good (Range: A- to B; 65-79): Logical interpretation or application of themes, but not adequately discussed in context of real world examples or theoretical frameworks/course concepts and readings.	Satisfactory (Range: B- to C; 50-64): Logical interpretation or application of themes, but not discussed in context of real world examples or theoretical frameworks/course concepts and readings.	Unsatisfactory (Range: D to E; 0-49): Insufficient interpretation or application of themes; AND fails to set the essay in context of examples or theoretical frameworks/concepts and readings.
Style	Excellent (Range: A+ to A; 80-100): Clear and accurate writing; error free.	Very Good (Range: A- to B; 65-79): Minor writing problems that do not interfere with comprehension of the essay; minor typographical, spelling, and punctuation errors.	Satisfactory (Range: B- to C; 50-64): Writing problems that distract from comprehension of the essay; minor typographical, spelling, and punctuation errors.	Unsatisfactory (Range: D to E; 0-49): Writing problems inhibit comprehension of the essay; significant typographical, spelling, and punctuation errors.
Bibliography & Referencing	Excellent (Range: A+ to A; 80-100): Contains proper and consistent citation and a complete bibliography.	Very Good (Range: A- to B; 65-79): Contains proper citation and a complete bibliography; some consistency errors.	Satisfactory (Range: B- to C; 50-64): Contains references to authors, but not proper citations. Complete bibliography; some errors in consistency and format.	Unsatisfactory (Range: D to E; 0-49): No references are used and no bibliography is included.
