Course delivery

This course is delivered through two lectures and one tutorial per week. The lectures will present a range of literary tendencies in Spanish and Latin American literature in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. Students will be presented with the general characteristics of these tendencies and will see how these apply to particular authors and short stories. The tutorials will focus on students' discussing and analysing a set of short stories which will be relevant to the topics covered in the lectures.

Communication of additional information

The Spanish noticeboard is in the corridor outside the Spanish Seminar Room (VZ 515). Additional information or information on changes will be conveyed to students either via class, noticeboards, Blackboard, or email.

Course content

SPAN 213 is a second trimester 20-point course. This course provides a first approach to Spanish and Latin American literary studies. It presents a range of short stories, which will be studied in their original versions, produced by Spanish and Latin American writers in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. In addition, this paper aims to give students a grounding in basic aspects of literary analysis.

For detailed information about week by week topics, see the Course Programme.

Learning objectives

Upon completing SPAN 213 successfully students will be able to:

- (i) demonstrate a detailed knowledge and understanding of the short stories studied;
- (ii) discuss these texts in spoken and written analysis;
- (iii) demonstrate a knowledge of selected aspects of the literary, political and social history of Spain and Latin America in relation to these texts;
- (iv) demonstrate an understanding of basic tools of literary analysis.

All of the pieces of assessment for SPAN 213 relate to all four of the course objectives.

Expected workload

The Humanities and Social Sciences Faculty Committee on Workloads and Assessment has laid down guidelines as to the number of hours per week which students are expected to devote to a course in order to maintain satisfactory progress. Students enrolling in a 200-level one trimester 20-point course should work on average 13 hours per week including contact hours - i.e., in the case of SPAN 213, 10 hours of private study outside class time.

2 hour final written examination	50%

The relevant dates for the pieces of assessed work are detailed in the Course Programme.

Penalties

The due dates for essays and seminar reports must be adhered to. Although work may be accepted late in special circumstances, the Course Co-ordinator should always be contacted on or before the due dates if there is a problem. The penalty for work presented late without prior approval is a 5% deduction per day. In addition, please note that up to a maximum of 5% may be deducted for poorly presented essays.

- (i) sit the test on the date scheduled;
- (ii) complete the two essays by the due dates;
- (iii) sit the final written examination.

Presentation of essays

Tidy presentation is essential. Work may be typed or neatly handwritten. Crossings-out indicate that a piece of work is still at draft stage. Allow space for corrections: leave a 4-centimetre margin and write or type on alternate lines. Do not write in pencil.

All assignments should include a cover sheet available from SLC Reception. Assignments are to be handed in to the Spanish assignment slot located to the left of the SLC Reception area on the 6th floor of Von Zedlitz. Detailed guidelines for the presentation of essays will be distributed with the essay topics.

Class Representative

A class representative will be elected in the first class, and that person's name and contact details will be available to VUWSA, the Course Coordinator and the class. The class representative provides a communication channel to liaise with the Course Coordinator on behalf of students.

Academic integrity and plagiarism

Academic integrity means that university staff and students, in their teaching and learning are expected to treat others honestly, fairly and with respect at all times. Academic integrity is important because it is the core value on which the University's learning, teaching and research activities are based. Victoria University's reputation for academic integrity adds value to your qualification.

The University defines plagiarism as presenting someone else's work as if it were your own, whether you mean to or not. 'Someone else's work' means anything that is not your own idea. Even if it is presented in your own style, you must acknowledge your sources fully and appropriately.

This includes:

- Material from books, journals or any other printed source
- The work of other students or staff
- Information from the internet
- Software programs and other electronic material
- Designs and ideas
- The organisation or structuring of any such material
