In-term work: Research project

Assessment: Research project (5,000-7,000 words) 100%

Work Guidelines: Workload

In accordance with Faculty Guidelines, this course has been constructed on the assumption that students will devote 200 hours across the trimester to INTP/POLS 359.

Mandatory Course Requirements:

Submission of research paper by 4.30 pm, Friday 11 February 2011 by hand and electronically.

Research Project:

This should be approximately 5,000-7,000 words in total. The research essay should be submitted electronically (as an attachment, and as a Word document) and in hard copy.

Admission to the course (see below) requires a written research project proposal, including a statement of the topic and a list of appropriate sources to be consulted. Students are encouraged to discuss possible research projects with the course organiser before settling upon a topic. The research project must be submitted no later than 4.30 pm, Friday 11 February 2011. It is the obligation of students to keep in touch (as appropriate) over the summer and to report on progress.

Penalties:

Students will be penalised for late submission of essays—a deduction of 5% for the first day late, and 2% per day thereafter, up to a maximum of 8 days. Work that is more than 8 days late can be accepted for mandatory course requirements but will not be marked. However, penalties may be waived if there are valid grounds, e.g., illness (presentation of a medical certificate will be necessary) or similar other contingencies. In such cases prior information will be necessary.

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism

Academic integrity means that university staff and students, in their teaching and learning are expected to treat others honestly, fairly and with respect at all times. It is not acceptable to mistreat academic, intellectual or creative work that has been done by other people by representing it as your own original work.

Academic integrity is important because it is the core value on which the University's learning, teaching and research activities are based. Victoria University's reputation for academic integrity adds value to your qualification.

The University defines plagiarism as presenting someone else's work as if it were your own, whether you mean to or not. 'Someone else's work' means anything that is not your own idea. Even if it is presented in your own style, you must acknowledge your sources fully and appropriately. This includes:

- Material from books, journals or any other printed source
- The work of other students or staff
- Information from the internet
- Software programs and other electronic material
- Designs and ideas
- The organisation or structuring of any such material

Find out more about plagiarism, how to avoid it and penalties, on the University's website: <http://www.victoria.ac.nz/home/study/plagiarism.aspx>

Use of Turnitin

Student work provided for assessment in this course may be checked for academic integrity by the electronic search engine <<http://www.turnitin.com>>. Turnitin is an online plagiarism prevention tool which identifies material that may have been copied from other sources including the Internet, books, journals, periodicals or the work of other students. Turnitin is used to assist academic staff in detecting misreferencing, misquotation, and the inclusion of unattributed material, which may be forms of cheating or plagiarism. At the discretion of the Head of School, handwritten work may be copy typed by the School and subject to checking by Turnitin. You are strongly advised to check with the course coordinator if you are uncertain about how to use and cite material from other sources. Turnitin will retain a copy of submitted materials on behalf of the University for detection of future plagiarism, but access to the full text of submissions will not be made available to any other party.

Aim and Course Objectives:

This is a supervised programme of research and study on selected themes in Political Science and International Relations. This directed individual study is primarily for those who have already studied intensively in Political Science or International Relations, but who need a course to finish their POLS or INTP major and/or their degree, and wish to complete a research project in the POLS or INTP area. This course takes place only in the summer trimester.
