Teaching learning summary

Students must attend 2 hours of lectures, 2 hours of tutorials and complete 2 guided multimedia sessions per week.

The two weekly lectures are dedicated to grammar and learning strategies related to vocabulary acquisition, reading and listening comprehension skills. The content of these lectures is designed to provide students with the learning tools to participate fully in the tutorials.

In the two weekly tutorials, students improve their communicative and oral skills. The tutorials also include small group activities, allowing students to put into practice the vocabulary, grammar acquired in each Deux mondes chapters and providing them with feedback. Active participation en français is crucial to get the most out of these sessions. Note that preparation work for the tutorials is essential as activities done in class will be based on the prepared tasks listed in the Course Programme (see pp.7-10).

Supervised Multimedia Session:

Students who did not attend FREN 112 are also required to attend a supervised multimedia session on Wednesday 18 July [TBA] in the LLC (Language Learning Centre, von Zedlitz Building, Level 0). This session is designed to help students familiarise themselves with the resources and use of equipment in the LLC. Please see information posted on the FREN 113 notice board (VZ Level 5 next to VZ510) and on Blackboard.

Communication of additional information

Further course information can be found on the French Programme notice board, VZ Level 5 next to vZ 510 and on Blackboard.

Course prescription

This intensive course follows on from FREN 112 and aims to further develop students' speaking, listening, reading and writing skills in French. It will enable students to reach a level comparable to NCEA Level 2-3. A minimum of 60% in FREN 112 is recommended.

Course content

This course aims to teach the four skills of the French language [listening, reading, speaking and writing] in an interactive and communicative way, to prepare students for the French language course FREN 115.

Teaching is based on the second half of Deux mondes Textbook (Chapter 8-14). Other materials, available at the Language Learning Centre (LLC, von Zedlitz, Level 0), are also used such as videos, CD-ROMs, magazines, etc.

Learning objectives

The course aims to enable students to reach a level comparable with that of Year 12-13.

In this course, students will:

- be proficient in the four skills of reading, writing, listening and speaking of French to a minimum proficiency level of A1-A2 in the Common European Framework
- master vocabulary acquisition skills
- transfer and adapt known structures to convey meaning in new contexts
- communicate orally and in writing
- reinforce and extend their knowledge of French grammar and work on reading and listening comprehension skills
- develop an awareness and understanding of some aspects of French culture

Expected workload

In line with the University Assessment Handbook, students are expected to do 6 hours of guided work (including the 4 hours of classes) as well as 7 hours of independent study per week for the duration of the whole trimester.

The guided work consists of

- 2 hours of lectures on Mondays and Wednesdays, 12 midday-12.50pm
- 2 hours of tutorials
- 2 hours of guided self-learning multimedia exercises * in the LLC
- 7 hours of independent study *

* see Weekly tasks listed in the Course Programme, pp.7-10

As part of the independent self-learning component of the course, students need to make regular use of the resources in the LLC to work on their particular learning needs and to self-monitor their learning. Students are also responsible for acquiring vocabulary, idioms and grammar as they are taught. Daily independent learning is necessary. All tasks are listed in the Course Programme of this Course Outline. Refer to it regularly.

Academic integrity and plagiarism

Academic integrity means that university staff and students, in their teaching and learning are expected to treat others honestly, fairly and with respect at all times. It is not acceptable to mistreat academic, intellectual or creative work that has been done by other people by representing it as your own original work.

Academic integrity is important because it is the core value on which the University's learning, teaching and research activities are based. Victoria University's reputation for academic integrity adds value to your qualification.

The University defines plagiarism as presenting someone else's work as if it were your own, whether you mean to or not. 'Someone else's work' means anything that is not your own idea. Even if it is presented in your own style, you must acknowledge your sources fully and appropriately. This includes:

- Material from books, journals or any other printed source
- The work of other students or staff
- Information from the internet
- Software programs and other electronic material
- Designs and ideas
- The organisation or structuring of any such material
