Tutorials: ONE per week.

Indicate your preferred times on the tutorial choice form distributed in the Tutorial lists will be posted on Blackboard and the Linguistics undergraduate notice board during the first week of teaching. Your first tutorial will be in the week beginning 23 July. Check the lists before that date. You may not change tutorials without consulting the course co-ordinator.

Teaching learning summary

The course consists of three lectures and one tutorial per week. Blackboard will be used for extra information.

In week 6 there will be no lectures or tutorials to enable you to work on your second assignment. This is shown in the lecture outline attached to the back of this document.

The course has a 2 hour exam which will take place during the examination period (26 October to 17 November 2012)

Communication of additional information

We will post additional information on Blackboard. The Linguistics undergraduate notice board is next to VZ 309. Keep an eye on it for any additional notices.

Course prescription

An introduction to sociolinguistics including the analysis of multilingualism, social dialects and attitudes to language.

Course content

This course aims to investigate some of the ways in which linguistic and social variables interact in speech communities. We will examine both multilingual and monolingual speech communities. The course will introduce students to ways of analysing language in a range of social contexts. A lecture outline is provided in this course outline. Any changes will be posted on Blackboard.

Learning objectives

Students who pass this course should be able to:

- 1. outline the major relationships between language and society;
- define the main sociolinguistic concepts used to analyse these relationships;
- 3. identify the main features of studies of sociolinguistic variation;
- describe the most common methodologies for studying language in society.

Expected workload

In order to make satisfactory progress in this course you should expect to devote, on average, 13-14 hours a week to it. This includes attendance at lectures and tutorials, preparation for tutorials, background reading and preparation for assignments and the exam. As an example of how you might spend your time, see the table below. Some students will find they need to do more than this, and students aiming for high grades will almost certainly need to do more.

A possible breakdown of tasks:

These calculations are based on 11 weeks of lectures + the mid-trimester break + the study break to a total of 15 weeks

Group work

Although you will be required to do your tutorial presentation in small groups, you will be assessed individually.

Readings

Set texts:

There is a LING 221 Lecture book which is essential for all those taking this course. It contains lecture outlines and information on assessment and the final exam etc. You cannot manage without it.

In response to feedback from students, we have also prepared a book for tutorials which incorporates readings and exercises. Although these readings are available online via Blackboard, many students find it useful to have hard copies of these articles. We therefore recommend you buy this Tutorial book as well.

You will find this the most useful single textbook to buy for this course. Holmes, Janet 2008 (3rd ed). An Introduction to Sociolinguistics. London: Longman.

All undergraduate textbooks and student notes will be sold from the Memorial Theatre foyer from 9–27 July 2012, while postgraduate textbooks and student notes will be available from the top floor of vicbooks in the Student Union Building, Kelburn Campus. After week two of the trimester all undergraduate textbooks and student notes will be sold from vicbooks on Level 4 of the Student Union Building.

Customers can order textbooks and student notes online at www.vicbooks.co.nz or can email an order or enquiry to enquiries@vicbooks.co.nz. Books can be couriered to customers or they can be picked up from nominated collection points at each campus. Customers will be contacted when they are available.

Opening hours are 8.00 am – 6.00 pm, Monday – Friday during term time (closing at 5.00 pm in the holidays). Phone: 463 5515.

Web and computer-based resources:

A programme for learning and revising key terms and concepts is available on Blackboard.

Assessment requirements

- 1. There are TWO in-course written assignments for LING 221
- (i) A critical review (550 words max) 15% DUE 12 noon, Thurs 16 August 2012
- (ii) A research assignment (2000 words max) 25% DUE 12 noon, Thurs 27 September 2012
- 2. A formal oral presentation to at least one tutorial with a written summary to the tutor (this grade will also incorporate tutorial participation see assessment criteria below). 10%
- 3. A final 2 hour examination conducted by the Faculty in the final exam period (26 October to 17 November 2012) covering all topics discussed during the course.

The required work is designed to assess how well you have achieved the course objectives. The critical review and the tutorial presentation will ensure you are familiar with basic sociolinguistic concepts, and will assess your ability to understand, interpret, evaluate and present sociolinguistic material (objectives 1 and 2). The research assignment focuses on sociolinguistic variation (objective 3); it will assist you to become familiar with a range of research methods (objective 4), and to develop skills in sociolinguistic analysis. The final exam will require you to demonstrate your familiarity with sociolinguistic concepts, will assess the breadth of your reading in sociolinguistics, and will require you to apply what you have learnt to the analysis of material presented in the exam (ie all objectives). Satisfactory completion of all these tasks will ensure you know enough sociolinguistics to proceed to more advanced study in this area.

Students must attempt all parts of the assessment in order to pass the course. A student's final grade will take account of all these pieces of work and will be awarded in consultation with her/his tutor.

Assignments should be handed in to the School Office (vZ 210) on the 2nd floor of the von Zedlitz building by 12 noon on the due date AND submitted electronically via Blackboard.

Keep a back-up copy of all assessed work.

N.B. Note that if no work is submitted for assessment before the last three weeks of teaching, there will be nothing on which to base an aegrotat consideration.

Assessment criteria for tutorial participation

Your tutor will award you a grade for your tutorial participation. About halfway through the course you can request an interim report to indicate your performance to date – NB only your final mark will be counted.

General guidelines

- Set margins to at least 2.5 cm
- Set line spacing to 1.5
- Set font size of 12 point
- Include page numbers
- Include a cover sheet
- Provide a word count at the end of the assignment (not including the Reference section)
- Type on one side of A4 paper
- Staple pages together
- Avoid presenting assignments in bulky folders or sleeves unless necessary

Penalties

In line with school policy, assignments handed in after the due date will receive a considerably reduced grade unless accompanied by a medical certificate or other evidence of exceptional circumstances. If you require an extension for good reasons, ask the course coordinator ahead of the date for handing in the assignment.

ONLY ASSIGNMENTS CARRYING A COVER-SHEET SIGNED BY THE COURSE COORDINATOR HAVE A VALID EXTENSION PERMITTED TO THEM.

The assignments are due by 12 noon on the due date, after which a penalty of 5% per working day applies. Penalties increase each day (at 12 noon) until one week after the due date when the maximum grade possible is C and no personal comment will be provided. Assignments handed in after this time receive no mark.

Plagiarism is not acceptable in assessed work, and will be penalised. The penalty will depend on the severity of the plagiarism. See below.

Mandatory course requirements

To gain a pass in this course each student must:

- Submit the written work specified for this course, on or by the specified dates (subject to such provisions as are stated for late submission of work)
- Sit the final examination
- Present their assigned reading in the tutorial
- Make a satisfactory attempt at the two graded assignments and the tutorial presentation

- Attend at least eight of the ten tutorials (we recommend students attend all tutorials)
- Undertake satisfactory preparation for tutorials

Tutorials are an essential component of the learning experience in this course and you are expected to attend all tutorials unless you are ill. You should inform your tutor if you are unable to attend a tutorial, and arrange to attend at another time if possible.

"Satisfactory" means that there is evidence that the topic has been taken seriously and a reasonable amount of effort has been devoted to the work.

Where a student has been excused from a tutorial, they are required to complete exercises to ensure the material is covered. These exercises can be found on Blackboard and in the tutorial workbook. The completed exercise should be handed to the tutor at the next tutorial. All students will find these exercises useful for revision.

All specified requirements (ie (i)-(iii) above) must be completed by 5pm on 19 October 2012 in order to satisfy mandatory requirements.

Class representative

A class representative will be elected in the first week, and that person's name and contact details will be available to VUWSA, the Course Coordinator and the class. The class representative provides a communication channel to liaise with the Course Coordinator on behalf of students.

Statement on legibility

Students are expected to write clearly. Where work is deemed 'illegible', the options are:

- the student will be given a photocopy of the work and asked to transcribe it to an acceptable standard (preferably typed) within a specified time frame after which penalties will apply;
- the student will be given a photocopy of the work and asked to transcribe it to an acceptable standard (preferably typed) and lateness penalties apply;
- if the student does not transcribe it to an acceptable standard, the work will be accepted as 'received' (so any associated mandatory course requirements are met) but not marked.

Academic integrity and plagiarism

Academic integrity means that university staff and students, in their teaching and learning are expected to treat others honestly, fairly and with respect at all times. It is not acceptable to mistreat academic, intellectual or creative work that has been done by other people by representing it as your own original work.

Academic integrity is important because it is the core value on which the University's learning, teaching and research activities are based. Victoria University's reputation for academic integrity adds value to your qualification.

The University defines plagiarism as presenting someone else's work as if it were your own, whether you mean to or not. 'Someone else's work' means anything that is not your own idea. Even if it is presented in your own style, you must acknowledge your sources fully and appropriately. This includes:

- Material from books, journals or any other printed source
- The work of other students or staff
- Information from the internet
- Software programs and other electronic material
- Designs and ideas
- The organisation or structuring of any such material

Find out more about plagiarism, how to avoid it and penalties, on the University's website: http://www.victoria.ac.nz/home/study/plagiarism.aspx

Use of Turnitin

Student work provided for assessment in this course may be checked for academic integrity by the electronic search engine http://www.turnitin.com. Turnitin is an online plagiarism prevention tool which compares submitted work with a very large database of existing material. At the discretion of the Head of School, handwritten work may be copy-typed by the School and subject to checking by Turnitin. Turnitin will retain a copy of submitted material on behalf of the University for detection of future plagiarism, but access to the full text of submissions is not made available to any other party.
