Course Prescription

An introduction to theories of social inequality and their application to New Zealand.

Course Content

The purpose of this course is to examine selected aspects of inequality in New Zealand. The first half of the course is mainly concerned with conceptual questions relating to social inequality, especially class, gender, 'racial', and ethnic divisions. The second half of the course examines these divisions in local and global contexts drawing on historical and contemporary examples of the creation and maintenance of social inequalities in New Zealand.

Learning Objectives

By the end of the course, you should be:

1. familiar with problems of defining social inequality.

2. familiar with conceptual issues relating to class, gender, race and ethnicity.

3. aware of debates about how these different facets of social inequality are or are not inter-related.

4. able to discuss how class, gender and ethnic divisions relate to selected periods of New Zealand history and major shifts in state policy in past and present times.

Communication Of Additional Information

Additional information related to the course will be available on the Blackboard website at http://www.blackboard.vuw.ac.nz.

The School website can be found at: http://www.victoria.ac.nz/sacs.

Workload

Assessment will be entirely on the basis of work completed during the course. Students should expect to set aside 13 hours per week, including class contact.

Class Representative

A class representative will be recruited in consultation with the class at the beginning of the course. The class representative's name and contact details will be available to the Victoria University of Wellington Students' Association (VUWSA), the course coordinator and the class (on BlackBoard). The class representative provides a communication channel to liaise with the course coordinator on behalf of students.

Course Withdrawal

Information on withdrawals and refunds may be found at http://www.victoria.ac.nz/home/admisenrol/payments/withdrawlsrefunds.aspx

Course Readings

The only course materials you need to purchase for this course are Students Notes, which are available from VicBooks.

All undergraduate textbooks and student notes will be sold from the Memorial Theatre foyer from 13 February to 16 March 2012, while postgraduate textbooks and student notes will be available from the top floor of vicbooks in the Student Union Building, Kelburn Campus. After week two of the trimester all undergraduate textbooks and student notes will be sold from vicbooks on Level 4 of the Student Union Building.

Customers can order textbooks and student notes online at www.vicbooks.co.nz or can email an order or enquiry to enquiries@vicbooks.co.nz. Books can be couriered to customers or they can be picked up from nominated collection points at each campus. Customers will be contacted when they are available.

Opening hours are 8.00 am – 6.00 pm, Monday – Friday during term time (closing at 5.00 pm in the holidays). Phone: 463 5515.

Mandatory Course Requirements

To meet mandatory course requirements students are required to:

- ✓ Submit Essay 1
- ✓ Submit Essay 2
- ✓ Submit the Take Home Test

Discussion Sessions

The second half of the Friday session, from 12-1pm, will be a discussion session in the same room as lectures. They will start in week 2 (on Fri March 16) after we have had a chance to digest early lecture material and some of the Course Notes. Like the lectures, the discussion sessions are not compulsory, but you are strongly recommended to attend them. There is a separate handout relating to these sessions, which is based around the lectures, Course Notes, and assistance with the assignments. Please come prepared by doing the required reading and making a contribution to discussion.

Assessments

The assessments for this course will be entirely internal and consists of the following:

ESSAY 1   due at 4pm, Thursday 5 April and is worth 30% of the total grade.

ESSAY 2   due at 4pm, Thursday 24 May and is worth 40% of the total grade.

TEST   internally examined and take home, is worth 30% of the total grade.

The Test will be handed out in last lecture on Friday 1 June and must be placed into assignment box no later than 4pm on Friday 8 June.

Essay 1

Choose ONE of the following questions, drawing on the course readings and other sources, and use particular examples of equality/inequality to illustrate your answer.

1. Social inequality is an entirely relative concept. Critically discuss.

2. Inequality requires us to explore the meaning of equality. Critically discuss.

3. Critically discuss the concept of social division in terms of aiding our understanding of social inequalities.

4. Critically discuss the importance of the state in shaping social inequalities today.

5. What is social citizenship? Critically discuss its merits in explaining and reducing social inequality in the contemporary world?

Essay 1 has a maximum length of 2500 words.

The above essay questions are deliberately general. Questions 1 and 2 are designed to get you thinking about the meaning of aspects of social inequality and equality. Question 3 asks you to assess a central concept to be used in the course; and questions 4 and 5 look explicitly at questions bridging sociology and social policy, although all the essays can be approached in cross disciplinary ways. Several of the course readings are designed to assist answering this assignment and you should draw from them explicitly, but please feel free to move beyond them. You can certainly remain at a general theoretical level in shaping your answer, and by all means draw on comparative material, but many students may be more comfortable choosing a particular society and drawing upon a specific area(s) of inequality/equality to illustrate and support your answer. Providing a narrower focus is a good rule to follow in all the questions to make their general scope more manageable. There will be time set aside within the tutorial programme to discuss the essay and how best to tackle it.

Essay 2

Devise your own essay question drawn from one of the five themes relating to social inequality given below, using available secondary research resources to answer your question. NB You do not have to restrict yourself to the examples below. In fact, I hope you will pursue your own interests, but do work within these broad topics. For example, they all have a New Zealand focus but feel free to explore comparative questions. Please check with the lecturer if you think you might be departing too far from the general themes described here.

1. Select a particular time period (or periods) and examine general patterns of social inequality within it. e.g. how comparable are patterns of disadvantage in New Zealand in the 1930s, the 1980s, or now?

2. Contrast the position of particular social groups or categories affected by social disadvantage e.g. compare and explain the position of women and men, different generations or ethnic and racial minorities, in, for example, the New Zealand labour, education or property markets.

3. Examine a particular feature of social inequality within New Zealand, e.g. the impact of changes in income and benefit levels, discrimination in the job/or property market, changes in citizenship and migration patterns, recognition of indigenous rights.

4. Compare some aspect of inequality in two or more societies in their contemporary setting and/or within a historical perspective. e.g. examine the impact of neo-liberal philosophies and policies on some aspect of social inequalities since the 1980s; assess whether gender or ethnic inequalities have been reduced since the 1960s; examine the impact of recent recessionary conditions on inequalities?

5. Take one of the examples from the four themes above and examine the policy implications of these issues. For instance, what was the relationship between changes in social policy and levels of inequality in the periods mentioned in 1 above; what policies affect the position of women and/or ethnic minorities in the markets mentioned in 2 or 3; how did State bicultural and/or multicultural ideologies/philosophies (in 4.) shape social policy change; did the 'Third Way' radically depart from neo-liberal ideas about social policy; how much control do states have to make policy given current global forces?

Essay 2 has a maximum length of 3500 words.

Suggested word lengths for the Essays are intended as an approximate guide to students. You will certainly not be penalised for clear, concise and logically argued essays under the number of words suggested. However, you will be marked down for undisciplined, verbose, lengthy essays.

Test

The Take Home Test and will consist of two essay type questions. The paper will be in two sections. In Section A students choose one question from a selection of specific topics discussed in the course; in Section B there will be a single compulsory question relating to a key issue arising from the course as a whole.
All questions on the Test paper will be drawn solely from the lecture content and the book of Course Readings, so please ensure you have good notes and that you have read the pieces in your Course Readings.
The Test has a maximum length of 2500 words (i.e. the total combined words for both answers).

The course coordinator, David Pearson, will mark all assignments.

Relationship between Assessment and Objectives

Essay 1   is designed to develop your broad understanding of the concepts of equality and inequality and how they may be analysed in relation to class, gender, ethnicity and other forms of social division embraced by objective 1. See details of essay questions above.

Essay 2   is designed to allow you to choose topics within the course framework and to develop a fuller understanding of some aspect(s) of objective 3 on p.3.

        Full details of suggested topics are provided above.

Test   is designed to examine your breadth of knowledge about the course lecture material and Course Readings as a whole, both of which embrace all objectives.

Planning and Assignments

Given the constraints of time and the competing demands of assignments over a range of courses, students should start planning their assessed work as soon as possible, and should consult the lecturers at the earliest opportunity if they have any difficulties. It is strongly recommended that you choose your second essay topic no later than the mid-trimester break and, ideally, you do not leave all your revision for the Test until the last few days of the course.

Students who have problems in planning essays are strongly encouraged to discuss this with your tutor. There is no objection to discussing a draft outline of your assignment, although no indication of grade will be given at this time. If students are experiencing other problems with their assignments and can foresee difficulties in completing work by a due date they should make every effort to discuss this as soon as possible. Hurriedly asking for an extension at the beginning of the lecture period on the day when the essay/project is due is not what we have in mind!

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism

Academic integrity means that university staff and students, in their teaching and learning are expected to treat others honestly, fairly and with respect at all times. It is not acceptable to mistreat academic, intellectual or creative work that has been done by other people by representing it as your own original work.

Academic integrity is important because it is the core value on which the University's learning, teaching and research activities are based. Victoria University's reputation for academic integrity adds value to your qualification.

The University defines plagiarism as presenting someone else's work as if it were your own, whether you mean to or not. 'Someone else's work' means anything that is not your own idea. Even if it is presented in your own style, you must acknowledge your sources fully and appropriately. This includes:

- Material from books, journals or any other printed source
- The work of other students or staff
- Information from the internet
- Software programs and other electronic material
- Designs and ideas
- The organisation or structuring of any such material

Find out more about plagiarism, how to avoid it and penalties, on the University's website: http://www.victoria.ac.nz/home/study/plagiarism.aspx

Assignment Cover Sheets

All written work submitted for assessment in Sociology and Social Policy papers must have a School Assignment Cover sheet. A sample is to be found at the back of this Course Outline. Further copies can be located on the reception counter at the Administration Office, and on the Assignment Box, on level 9 of Murphy building. You may wish to have a front sheet of your own, but a School Cover sheet must be used. This is critical for accurate identification and recording of your work.

Handing in Essays and Other Written Assignments

Students should note that late work will normally be accepted only in the case of illness or other unavoidable emergencies.

Assignments handed in after due dates without an extension will only be accepted on the basis of the programme policy on late submission.

It is the policy of the Sociology and Social Policy Programmes that all written assignments must be handed in by 4 pm on the due date. Assignments must be placed in the assignment box opposite the School office on level 9 Murphy.

Assignments MUST NOT be placed in individual staff pigeon-holes, or under staff office doors, or emailed or handed to lecturers or tutors. This is to ensure that all work is properly recorded when submitted, and to avoid problems that have arisen in the past, when work has "gone missing". At 4 pm Administration will empty the box, date-stamp your work and record its receipt, before passing it on to the appropriate markers.

STUDENTS MUST KEEP A PHOTOCOPY OF EVERY WRITTEN ASSIGNMENT

Unless students have followed this procedure, the Programme will accept no responsibility for pieces of written work claimed to have been handed in.

Grades

The Sociology and Social Policy Programmes follow University policy in giving letter grades for all internally assessed work instead of giving numerical marks. The following table sets out the range of marks within which each letter grade is assigned. Your final grade and marks for the course will be an aggregate of the grades you achieve during the course.

PASS:		FAILURE:
A+	85% or over	D	40% - 49%
A	80% - 84%	E	Below 40%
A-	75% - 79%
B+	70% - 74%
B	65% - 69%
B-	60% - 64%
C+	55% - 59%
C	50% - 54%

Late Penalties

Late submissions for student assignments in all Sociology and Social Policy undergraduate courses are subject to a penalty. The exact deduction will be calculated on the basis of one half mark per day late for each 10 marks, i.e.

10	deduction per day	.5
20	deduction per day	1
30	deduction per day	1.5
40	deduction per day	2

Where the due date is a Friday, any written work not handed in by 4 pm will be liable to a two-day penalty. To be effective, this policy will be consistently applied in all courses.

Recommended Texts

There is a very large literature on social inequalities, including class and stratification, gender, 'race' and ethnicity. It is therefore difficult to recommend specific readings that will fully embrace the range of topics covered in this course. But the following recommended books, plus your Course Notes, should prove useful background for particular sections of the lecture programme. Treat this list, and those mentioned under other headings, as an introductory, selective guide to further reading, not the last word on the subject. Please read as widely as you can, following your own interests.

Introductory Texts

All these texts are on Closed Reserve in the library.

Bottero, W. Stratification: Social Division and Inequality.
This book looks at the relationship between social stratification and social inequality and discusses the theoretical and empirical links between class, gender and ethnic/racial inequality

Cheyne, C., O'Brien, M and Belgrave, M. Social Policy in Aotearoa New Zealand, 2nd ed.
A text that provides a very good overview of past developments in social policy and a detailed analysis of post-1980s changes, drawing on all the key areas of social inequality touched on in the course.

Fitzpatrick, T. Welfare Theory (2 editions)
A text, using sociological and social policy perspectives, that looks at theoretical and practical issues relating to inequality in modern welfare states.

Payne, G. (ed) Social Divisions (2 editions)
An introductory text that includes useful overview introductory and concluding chapters on social inequality (included in Student Notes) and specific chapters on class, gender, race and ethnicity and various other forms of inequality.

Roper, B. Prosperity for All? The Keynsian Era, Neoliberal Restructuring and the Third Way in New Zealand
A book that looks at various aspects of post Second World War social inequality from a critical political economy perspective.

Wilkinson, R. & Pickett, K. The Spirit Level: Why Equality is Better For Everyone.
A recent, much debated book that looks comparatively at inequality in various societies, including New Zealand.

General Texts (by topic)

The following texts are general references organised according to the lecture format, although note many books cross subject headings. All titles listed below are in the library. Remember the invaluable Current Contents and Social Citation Indexes in the library, and use the Electronic Databases that the library provides. Please also note the Studies on Women Abstracts and the Sage Race Relations Abstracts. If you are unfamiliar with these sources ask the reference staff for assistance. All the key international and local Sociology and Social Policy journals have innumerable articles on aspects of social inequality.

There are also a number of specialist journals on aspects of this course (e.g. see Race, Class and Gender, Citizenship Studies, Ethnic and Racial Studies, Gender and Society, etc.) but given the broadness of the subject matter most social science journals will have articles of interest. Do not neglect other magazines, novels, biographies, newspapers etc. The Internet should be used with caution. Check all electronic sources as if they were hard texts. An * denotes that this title is on Three Day Loan.

Aotearoa/New Zealand Texts

Useful bibliographies of New Zealand literature on social inequality may be found in the local recommended core texts. However, the following selections are good general sources. There are many other possibilities, particularly in local academic journals like New Zealand Sociology, and the Social Policy Journal of New Zealand. Government Reports, from the Ministries of Social Policy, Te Puni Kokiri, Statistics and Women, for example, provide essential background information. Much of this information is available on the Internet. Local magazines and newspapers are also an important source of information and comment. For example, Metro, North and South and New Zealand Listener frequently have articles of interest. An * denotes that this title is on Three Day Loan.
