Teaching/learning summary

GERM 217 is a course of FOUR contact hours per week, involving two lectures, one language tutorial and an audio-visual class. Students are expected to attend all classes.

Communication of additional information

Additional information will be provided in class and/or posted on Blackboard.

Course prescription

Revision of basic German grammar. Practice of reading and listening to authentic German at an advanced level, building of German vocabulary knowledge pertaining to a number of different world fields.

Course content

The course is based on a varied approach. The four language classes are devoted to the development of different but complementary skills and aim to enable students to consolidate the language skills they have already acquired. Classroom activities will be based on analysis and elaboration of a range of authentic and adapted material, taken mainly from Jede Menge Spaß mit der Grammatik (Student Notes), and will allow students to practise reading, writing, speaking and listening to German, as well as combining these skills for effective communication in realistic contexts. A large part of the lectures and tutorials will also concentrate on the revision of the most significant grammar points. The material for this course will focus on the topics Lifestyle, Reisen and Ernährung. Students will be expected to participate actively in all four classes and to contribute to class discussion.

Learning objectives

GERM 217 presupposes some knowledge of German, usually three years of school German, a pass in UB/NCEA Level 3 German, or a pass in GERM 102, or GERM 104. The course is designed to combine skill development (listening, reading, speaking, writing) with the revision of basic and intermediate-level German grammar. Students who pass the course can be expected to be able to:

- demonstrate a sound knowledge of basic to intermediate-level German grammar and be able to apply this knowledge effectively in appropriate contexts
- understand authentic and adapted texts and audio-visual material on a familiar topic
- hold a conversation / speak on topics that are familiar, of personal interest or pertinent to everyday life
- employ appropriate vocabulary on specific topics pertaining to everyday life

Expected workload

The University Assessment Handbook has laid down guidelines as to the number of hours per week which students are expected to devote to a course in order to maintain satisfactory progress. Students enrolling in a one trimester 20-point course should work on average 13 hours per week including contact hours.

In addition to the four class hours per week students are expected to use the nine additional hours per week for revision, extra practice (e.g. using the extra practice tasks provided by the teachers), skill development (e.g. in the LLC, with a language buddy or a book!), thoroughly preparing and completing the assignments, and preparing for the written tests and the oral test. Although the study time required to perform successfully in this course will vary according to the student's prior knowledge of German, please note that all language students benefit from maximum contact with the target language.

Assessment requirements

GERM 217 is internally assessed. Assessment is by:

1. Two in-term language tests (50 minutes each), 50%
 - held on Thursday 18 April and Thursday 6 June

2. Five assignments: 30%
 - Assignments 1, 2 & 3 are due on Monday 25 March, Monday 29 April and Friday 17 May, 12noon respectively.
 - Assignment 4: Nine weekly Vocabulary Tests in weeks 3-11.
 - Assignment 5: Eight weekly Reading Tasks in weeks 3-9.

3. One oral test (10 minutes) in week 12 (times to be advised) 20%

1. Tests

The two tests are designed to assess the student's familiarity with the material studied prior to the test, in all four classes, ie lectures, tutorials and AV Classes. They may contain grammar and vocabulary exercises, reading comprehension and basic writing tasks.

Attendance at the two tests is essential. Failure to attend a test will automatically result in failing the course. If a student is prevented from attending through exceptional circumstances such as accident, illness or bereavement, an explanation must be made, if possible in writing, prior to the test. In this case an alternative test date may be arranged. (NB: In case of illness, a medical certificate is required.)

2. Assignments

In addition to the two tests, students have to complete and submit five assignments. Assignments 1-3 will be based on topics and material covered in class. The set tasks may include grammar exercises, reading or listening comprehension, or short written compositions. Assignments 4 and 5 are short weekly tasks and designed to help students to evenly spread their study throughout the course. One of these assignments is based on reading short stories from the set text of this course Die Blaumacherin and answering comprehension questions on Blackboard. The other assignment consists of weekly vocabulary tests based on vocabulary lists provided by the lecturers/tutors.

To gain maximum marks students must complete all 5 assignments. Failure to hand in an assignment results in a zero mark for that assignment. It is up to students unable to attend a particular class for any reason to find out from someone else or from Blackboard what the homework is and the date it is to be submitted by. In special circumstances such as illness or bereavement, an extension may be granted, but only after consultation with the lecturer/tutor concerned.

Dictionaries and grammars may be used in completing the assignments, but since these count towards the final grade (30%) students must otherwise complete them unaided. Any sign that this is not so will be investigated. Please take careful note of the University's statement on "Academic Integrity and Plagiarism".

3. Oral Test

This is 10 minutes in length. Students will work in pairs or small groups to present a short dialogue on a topic chosen by themselves or supplied by the lecturer. They will then be asked questions in German. The test is designed to test the student's fluency, grammatical correctness and use of vocabulary in oral German.

Penalties

The due dates for the assignments given in the Course Programme must be adhered to. Although work may be accepted late in special circumstances, the Course Coordinator should always be contacted on or before the due dates if there is a problem. The penalty for work presented late without prior approval is a 5% deduction per day.

Please note that no work for assessment will be accepted after 21 June 2013.

Marking system

The marking system by letter grade is as follows:

A+	85 -100%
A	80 - 84%
A-	75 - 79%
B+	70 - 74%
B	65 - 69%
B-	60 - 64%
C+	55 - 59%
C	50 - 54%
D	40 - 49% (fail)
E	0 - 39% (fail)

Mandatory course requirements

The minimum course requirements which must be satisfied in order to pass the course are: regular attendance at classes (a minimum of 80% of all four sections of the course, i.e. lectures, tutorials and AV classes) and completion of the tests and oral test, as stipulated on p. 4. Unless notified to the contrary, students may assume they have met the mandatory course requirements.

Class representative

A class representative will be elected in the first class, and that person's name and contact details will be available to VUWSA, the Course Coordinator and the class. The class representative provides a communication channel to liaise with the Course Coordinator on behalf of students. Class reps will attend a meeting with the Head of School to discuss how your courses are going and to raise any concerns or suggestions that they may have. You can find out more information on Class Representatives on the VUWSA website.

Academic integrity and plagiarism

Academic integrity means that university staff and students, in their teaching and learning are expected to treat others honestly, fairly and with respect at all times. It is not acceptable to mistreat academic, intellectual or creative work that has been done by other people by representing it as your own original work.

Academic integrity is important because it is the core value on which the University's learning, teaching and research activities are based. Victoria University's reputation for academic integrity adds value to your qualification.

The University defines plagiarism as presenting someone else's work as if it were your own, whether you mean to or not. 'Someone else's work' means anything that is not your own idea. Even if it is presented in your own style, you must acknowledge your sources fully and appropriately. This includes:

- Material from books, journals or any other printed source
- The work of other students or staff
- Information from the internet
- Software programs and other electronic material
- Designs and ideas
- The organisation or structuring of any such material

Find out more about plagiarism, how to avoid it and penalties, on the University's website: <http://www.victoria.ac.nz/home/study/plagiarism>

General advice

We are interested in students' opinions. Please let us know any suggestions for improving the course. Students will find all the staff approachable and should feel able to discuss with them any problems they may have.

We want to do our best to make your study of German both profitable and enjoyable. However we can only to a limited extent teach you German; more important is your ability and willingness to learn. Do take advantage of whatever opportunities occur outside class hours to practise your German: eg Kaffeestunde, the student play production, conversation with Germans, reading, German films, talks at the Goethe Society or the Goethe Institute, and so on. Students are also strongly encouraged to use the self-access materials provided by the Language Learning Centre.

Remember too that the teachers are here to help you. Do not feel shy about asking questions in class if you have not understood something. Similarly, if you have difficulties in any area, or feel dissatisfied with your performance, please do not hesitate to discuss this with one of the teachers.
