Communication of additional information

Additional information about this course and information about any changes will be announced in on campus classes and posted on the course website in Blackboard.

Prescription

This course looks at the role of the learner and the effect of individual differences on second language learning. Issues such as learner motivation, affect, aptitude and learner response to feedback are explored.

Course content

LALS 520 explores the role of learner characteristics and other determinants in language acquisition as well as current issues of interest in instructed SLA. In particular, the course addresses selected issues in linguistics, psychology, and education that bear on the abilities of children and adults to understand and use second languages, especially in educational settings. The topics provide analyses of how acquisition problems are solved by learners and of the factors that constrain or facilitate second language development. Finally, the applications of language acquisition research are considered in the field of second language pedagogy.

LALS 520 provides students with opportunities to study:

- a. The influence of cognitive processes on language learning
- b. Individual variables and their influence on language acquisition
- c. Connections between SLA research and language teaching.

Course learning objectives (CLOs)

Students who pass this course will be able to:

1. identify variables (including learner traits) that have been found to influence the pace and nature of second language acquisition
2. advise others on language education issues by drawing from research findings
3. recognise gaps in the SLA research and propose avenues for further research in SLA
4. apply SLA research findings to critically appraise classroom practices.

Teaching format

The course is delivered in two modes: on campus and by distance. On campus classes are run as workshops. For distance students, the course is available at <http://blackboard.vuw.ac.nz>. Blackboard is Victoria's online teaching and learning system. In both modes, students are expected to participate actively in activities and discussions. Further information about Blackboard is available under Frequently Asked Questions, under the Study tab of the School website.

Mandatory course requirements

In addition to achieving an overall pass mark of 50%, students must:

1. submit all three assessments
2. attend all the ten classes (on-campus)*
3. course members studying by distance must make a contribution to each of the ten Discussion Boards in the week of each module.

*If an absence is unavoidable, then the course member should participate in the Blackboard Discussion Board for that week. Contact Anna beforehand to make this arrangement.

Workload

It is anticipated that students will invest 150 hours in this course, which includes attending classes / contributing to the discussion board on Blackboard, reading the essential and recommended texts, and preparing the assessment items. Probably around 90 hours should be allocated to assessment on the course. Of this, around 20-25 hours may be required for each of assignments 1 and 2, and around 40 hours for assignment 3.

Assessment

The following table outlines the assessment components for LALS 520:

	Component	Value	Word count	Due date	Learning objectives
1.	A critical appraisal of a classroom practice	45%	2000-2500	1 May, 5 pm	2, 3
2	A case study report, comparing two learners	45%	2000-2500	5 June, 5 pm	1, 3
3	Five article responses	10%	200 words each	Throughout the course (see assessment notes on Blackboard)	4, 3, 2

The purpose of these assessment components is to allow you to investigate in depth topics of your choosing from the course, and to explore the pedagogical implications of the research findings discussed in the course. Details of the assessments will be given out in the first class on campus and posted on Blackboard at the beginning of the course.

The assignment details and marking criteria will be made available on Blackboard in the first week of class.

Submission and return of work

All assignments will be submitted through Blackboard, both by distance and face-to-face students. Feedback on each assignment will be sent back via email within two weeks after due date. Instructions on how to use the Blackboard assignment tool are on the Blackboard website. As a backup measure only, assignments may be submitted as email attachments to lals@vuw.ac.nz

Extensions and penalties

Extensions

Late submission of assignments will not be accepted unless the student makes an appointment as soon as practically possible with the course coordinator to explain the lateness (preferably before the assignment is due to be submitted). The circumstances under which an extension will be considered are outlined in section 3.2.1 of the Assessment Handbook.

(See: www.victoria.ac.nz/documents/policy/staff-policy/assessment-handbook.pdf).

Penalties

No specific penalty will be imposed if you obtain permission to submit an assignment before the due date. Late work will not be accepted unless prior arrangements have been made with the course coordinator. Also, consult the course coordinator in case your text exceeds the word limit. Without prior arrangements in that regard, the course coordinator maintains the right to give only minimal feedback on the text. No assignment will be accepted after 19 June 2015.

Materials and equipment and/or additional expenses

No specific materials are needed for LALS 520, but regular access to the internet is important.
