Prescription

This course introduces a variety of research methodologies, approaches, sources and theories which are employed in the study of cultural heritage. It provides an essential platform for those students planning to do dissertation or thesis research and writing.

Course learning objectives (CLOs)

Students who pass this course should be able to:

1. understand the rationale behind the use of qualitative and quantitative research methods;
2. choose appropriate methods for particular research settings; and
3. understand the principles and practicalities of research management from a variety of perspectives.

By the end of the course each student will have completed a research proposal.

Teaching format

The course is delivered through 20 two-hour discussion based seminars and 2 three-hour workshops.

Mandatory course requirements

In addition to achieving an overall pass mark of 50%, students must complete all assignments. Any student who is concerned that they have been (or might be) unable to meet any of the MCRs because of exceptional personal circumstances, should contact the course coordinator as soon as possible.

Workload

As a general rule, each course requires a time commitment equivalent to a full working day (inclusive of teaching or seminar time) for every week of the academic year. The total workload for the course, including class time should be approximately 300 hours. This includes 46 hours of class time. Workload guides for assessment are outlined below:

Assessment

The course is internally assessed.

Assessment items and workload per item		%	CLO(s)	Due date
1	Essay (1000 words) 25 hrs	10%	3	23 March

Marking Criteria

An assessment schedule will be prepared for each assignment and distributed to students indicating the criteria against which the assignment will be assessed and the marks which will be awarded for each element of the work.

Submission and return of work

Assignments are to be submitted via Blackboard. Marks and feedback will be posted on Blackboard and hard copies returned in class.

Extensions and penalties

Extensions

Late assignments will only be accepted if a suitable reason is given well in advance of the due date. The only exception will be on medical grounds (including a medical certificate) or in other exceptional circumstances.

Penalties

Any late work that does not meet the above requirements will have their mark reduced by 1% for each day it is overdue.

Practicum/placement/field trip/internship arrangements

The course includes field trips and other activities in museums and heritage organisations—see the schedule in the course content for details.
