Course Dates
Teaching period: July 13th – October 16th
Mid term break: August 24th – Sept 6th
Study week: October 19th – 23rd
Assessment period: Oct 27th – Nov 15th

Additional information
Religious Studies is in the Hunter Building. The programme administrator, Aliki Kalliabetsos, is in HU 318 (ph: 463 5299). Notices regarding the course or any information on changes will be posted on the notice board outside her office. Tutorial times shall be posted on the notice board in the first week of the trimester.

Office hours
The main office is open Monday - Friday, 9.30am – 12:00 noon and 2:30 – 3:30. You can arrange to meet with Dr Marshall by appointment.

Course delivery
This course shall be taught by means of one two hour lecture per week and 7 tutorial sessions scheduled throughout the trimester.

Course description
An introduction to the life, thought and writings of Paul, early Christianity’s most formative theological thinker. The course will examine Paul’s conversion and its impact on his Jewish world view, the hermeneutical challenges associated with making sense of Paul’s writings, and key themes in Paul’s theological thought. The course will include case studies on Paul’s interactions with the church at Rome and, to a lesser extent, the church at Corinth. The course will engage throughout with key debates in contemporary Pauline studies.

Course content: The course consists of six units, which will be covered in lectures, tutorials, assignments, and in your own background reading:

1. Paul: Convert and Apostle
   • Paul’s pre-Christian background and career
   • Paul’s encounter with Christ
   • Paul’s missionary career
   • Paul’s legacy in Christian theology

2. Reading Paul: The Hermeneutical Challenge
• Letter-writing and morality in antiquity
• Guidelines for reading Paul’s letters
• The sources, shape and character of Paul’s theology
• The centre of Paul’s theology
• Paul’s use of scripture

3. Case Study: Paul’s Interactions with the Roman Church
• The towering importance of Romans for Christian theology
• Difficulties in reading Romans
• Old and new perspectives on Paul
• Paul and the human condition

4. Paul’s Message of Salvation in Christ
• The Saving Event: Christ-crucified and risen
• Justice, justification and faith
• New life in the Spirit, and “the Corinthian problem”
• The shape of Pauline spirituality

5. Paul in Practice
• Paul: Patron saint of women?
• Eschatological ethics
• The task of Christian moral discernment
• Paul, social radical or social conservative?

6. Paul and the Future
• Paul and Israel
• The resurrection of the dead
• New creation
• Universalism in Paul?

Course learning objectives
By the end of the course students passing this course should be able to:
• explain the nature of Paul’s relationship to contemporary Jewish, Hellenistic and Christian contexts
• identify the characteristic features of Paul’s theology
• appreciate the special complexities entailed in reading and interpreting Pauline literature
• understand major currents in current Pauline research
• reflect critically on the relevance of Paul’s life and thought for religious life and interfaith engagement today.

Mandatory course requirements
To gain a pass in this course each student must:
• Attend a minimum of 5 tutorials,
• Submit two written essays, 5 tutorial assessments,
• Sit the class test
Rationale for assessment
The assessment of this course relates directly to these objectives.

• The tutorial assessments will take the form of class exercises, based on the prescribed reading for the session and on key themes explored in lectures. The aim is to encourage students to complete the set reading and to identify the key issues and facts covered in the material. Tutorial discussions will focus on the material in the Reader and on biblical texts that illustrate the themes discussed in lectures. It is a requirement of this course that students attend at least 5 of the 7 tutorials.

• The essays allow students to research a topic of particular interest to them. Essays should demonstrate the students' level of proficiency with regard to finding, understanding, and using sources. In so doing students will develop the skills of critical reading, analysis and organizing material necessary for continued study. Students who do not understand the grades they have been assigned or are concerned about their progress are encouraged to meet with their tutors for a discussion.

• The class test allows students to demonstrate their grasp of the material covered in the course and their understanding of the themes addressed, and creates an opportunity to review and reflect on what they have learned in the course as a whole.

Work-load (Recommendation of the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences)
For 300-level 24 points one trimester courses, 20 hours per week are recommended. An average student should spend 17 hours per week for preparation, reading and writing in addition to attendance at lectures and tutorials.

[300 – level 2 trimester 24 points 20 hours]

Assessment requirements
The course is internally assessed by means of two written assignments, five tutorial exercises and a class test, weighted as follows:

• One 2000 word assignment (20%): Due August 3
• One 2800 word assignment (30%): Due September 7
• 5 Tutorial assessments (10%): in tutorial time
• Final class test (40%), held in class time on October 12

Required texts
Tutorial discussions will be based on material supplied in the course reader and either of the following two short books:

N.T. Wright, Paul: In Fresh Perspective (Minneapolis: Fortress Press, 2005)

The first book above is available at Manna Books, 185 Willis Street. The second should be available at the university bookshop. Another recent book by the same author that covers similar ground is:

Reli 350 Course Reader
This should be obtained from the Student Notes at a cost of approximately $40.00. For the first two weeks of the trimester, all undergraduate readers will be sold from the Memorial Theatre foyer. After week two, all undergraduate readers shall be sold from the Student Notes Distribution Centre on the ground floor of the Student Union Building. Students can order student notes online at www.vicbooks.co.nz or can email an order or enquiry to enquiries@vicbooks.co.nz. Books can be couriered or they can be picked up from the shop. Opening hours are 8:00 am – 6:00 pm, Monday-Friday during term time. Phone 463 5515.

Students should have access to a copy of the New Testament, preferably the NRSV translation (available online at www.bible.oremus.org).

Additional Bibliography
Additional references for assignments and background reading are attached at the end of the course guide. One extremely useful reference work is:

There are many fine theologies of Paul available. Especially recommended is:

A very much shorter and clear summary of Paul’s thought is:

For a feminist reading of Paul, see:

For an excellent survey of Christian theology in general, see:

Students should check out the Trinity Newman Collection in the Religious Studies library, HU 320, and the library in Ramsey House, 8 Kelburn Parade.

General University policies and Statutes
Students should familiarise themselves with the University’s policies and statutes, particularly the Assessment Statute, the Personal Courses of Study Statute, the Statute on Student Conduct and any statutes relating to the particular qualifications being studied; see the Victoria University Calendar or go to the Academic Policy and Student Policy sections on:

http://www.victoria.ac.nz/home/about/policy

The AVC (Academic) website also provides information for students in a number of areas including Academic Grievances, Student and Staff conduct, Meeting the needs of students with impairments, and student support/VUWSA student advocates. This website can be accessed at:

http://www.victoria.ac.nz/home/about/avcadademic/Publications.aspx

Student Support
Staff at Victoria want students to have positive learning experiences at the University. Each faculty has a designated staff member who can either help you directly if your academic progress is causing you concern, or quickly put you in contact with someone who can. Staff in the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences (Murphy 411) are available to offer assistance. Assistance for specific groups is also available from the Kaiwawao Māori, Manaaki Pihipihinga or Victoria International.

Manaaki Pihipihinga Programme: This programme offers:
- Academic mentoring for all Māori & Pacific students at all levels of undergraduate study for the faculties of Commerce & Administration and Humanities & Social Sciences. Contact Manaaki-Pihipihinga-Programme@vuw.ac.nz or phone 463 6015 to register for Humanities & Social Science mentoring and 463 8977 to register for mentoring for Commerce and Administration courses
- Postgraduate support network for the above faculties, which links students into all of the post grad activities and workshops on campus and networking opportunities
- Pacific Support Coordinator who can assist Pacific students with transitional issues, disseminate useful information and provide any assistance needed to help students achieve. Contact; Pacific-Support-Coord@vuw.ac.nz or phone 463 5842.

Manaaki Pihipihinga is located at: 14 Kelburn Parade, back court yard, Room 109 D (for Humanities mentoring) or Room 210 level 2 west wing railway station Pipitea (commerce mentoring space). Māori Studies mentoring is done at the marae.

Student Services
In addition, the Student Services Group (email: student-services@vuw.ac.nz) is available to provide a variety of support and services. Find out more at:www.victoria.ac.nz/st_services/

VUWSA employs Education Coordinators who deal with academic problems and provide support, advice and advocacy services, as well as organising class representatives and faculty delegates. The Education Office (tel. 463-6983 or 463-6984, email at education@vuwsa.org.nz) is located on the ground floor, Student Union Building.

Taping of Lectures
All students in the School of Art History, Classics and Religious Studies are welcome to use audio-tapes to record lectures. If you want to do this, please see your lecturer, tutor or the relevant programme administrator and complete a disclaimer form which advises of copy right and other relevant issues.

Class representatives
Class representatives are elected in the first week or two of the term. They are supported by the VUW Students’ Association, and have a variety of roles, including assistance with grievances and student feedback to staff and VUWSA. Contact details for your class rep will be listed on the Religious Studies notice board.

Aegrotat regulations
These apply to internally assessed courses. An Aegrotat pass will normally be approved only when a candidate has completed at least 30% of the course assessment. Students who are ill, or who have difficult personal circumstances may be having problems completing assessment. The aegrotat provisions apply to all courses and apply to assessment which falls within the last three weeks of teaching or the final examination period, including preparation time for final tests and examinations.

Aegrotat provisions are detailed in section 4.5 of the Assessment Statute (2009 Calendar, p. 100) and also on p. 23 of the 2009 Assessment Handbook. Students can refer to the University’s website for further information: http://www.vuw.ac.nz/timetables/aegrotat.aspx. Application forms and information pamphlets should be obtained from the Faculty Student and Academic Services Office (MY 411) or the Manager, Student & Academic Services (MY 410).
Student Learning Support Services: A range of workshops, drop-ins and other assistance is provided by SLSS, covering such things as study techniques, essay writing, exam preparation and note taking skills. They are at Level 0, Kirk wing, Hunter courtyard, tel: 463 5999

Guidance in essay writing and presentation of bibliographies
Please refer to Religious Studies guidelines for essays, attached.

Evaluation
This course will be evaluated by UTDC.

The lecture programme
Lectures may be varied from time to time. As much notice as possible will be given when changes occur and, if necessary a revised programme will be issued at lectures.

Essays

Due dates:

- Essay 1: due August 3 (20% of total grade)
- Essay 2: due Sept 7 (30% of total grade)

Submission of essays and assignments

Essays and assignments must be placed in the locked assignment box located near the programme administrator’s office (HU 318) and students must date and sign the essay register to indicate submission. No responsibility will be taken for assignments left in the box or pushed under doors for which there is no record. Students should keep a copy of all their work until it is returned.

Penalties for late essays / assignments

- 1 percent point per 24 hours will be deducted for late essays, up to 2 weeks from due date.
- To avoid these deductions, an extension may be sought with an explanation in writing. The reason for the extension does not need to be medical; in the event that it is, a medical certificate must be submitted.
- Requests for extensions may be made to the tutor or the course co-ordinator
- If an essay is handed in 2 weeks after the due date and an extension has not been sought, the matter will be referred to the course co-ordinator who will make the final decision as to whether the essay shall be accepted for assessment or not.

ASSIGNMENT TOPICS (Learning objectives 1-5)

ESSAY 1 (2000 words max): Due August 3

Choose ONE of the following questions: Note: You are not expected to do a detailed exegesis of the texts mentioned. Instead try to identify broad themes or principles in the texts that are relevant to answering the question. Always bear in mind the “occasional” or situated nature of Paul’s letters: his comments must be viewed in the context of the specific context he is addressing. Also, if you do question 1 or 3, remember that there may be differences between the way Luke views Paul and the way Paul views himself.

1. Paul's attitude to other religions: What do we learn from Luke's account of Paul's preaching in Athens (Acts 17:16-34) and Paul’s argument in Romans 1:18-32 about his attitude to other religions? Does his perspective have any relevance to interfaith engagement today?

2. Paul, sex and marriage: What is Paul’s teaching on sex, marriage, singleness and divorce in 1 Corinthians 7? To what extent is this chapter an adequate, helpful or relevant guide for relationship counselling today?

4. Paul and church discipline: What do we learn from the Corinthian correspondence (1 Cor 5-6; 2 Cor 2, 7) about Paul’s attitude to congregational discipline and dispute resolution?

5. Paul and possessions: What do we learn from Acts 20:17-38 and 2 Cor 8-9 about Paul’s attitudes towards material possessions?
ESSAY 2 (2800 words max): Due Sept 7. Choose ONE of the following topics (OR an approved alternative):

1. “Romans is thoroughly determined by a concrete historical situation” (N. Elliott). What do we know about the origins, recent history, and character of the Christian community in Rome to which Paul writes? How does this knowledge help us read Romans appropriately?

2. Write an essay on the meaning and role of the “principalities and powers” in Paul’s writings.

3. “When Paul looks at Christ he sees both an obedient man and a gracious God. What sort of unity these two can form is a further question that has troubled theologians from the beginning” (C.K. Barrett). In what ways does Paul affirm both the humanity and the deity of Christ, and what role do each play in his theology?

4. “The clearest witness to the lordship of Jesus Christ consists in human life in which his image is reproduced” (C.K. Barrett). What role does the example, spirit and teaching of Jesus play in the ethics of Paul?

5. Write an essay on the intention behind and significance of Paul’s collection for the poor saints in Jerusalem.

6. Why do several modern scholars construe Paul’s theology as counter-imperial? To what extent is this a departure from traditional ways of understanding Paul’s political orientation?

Criteria for Assessment of Essay Work
Your essays will be evaluated on the following criteria (in descending order of importance)

• Coverage of Relevant Content: your essay should cover the essential content thoroughly, and reflect awareness of the range of key issues relevant to the subject being discussed. The issues most pertinent to answering the essay question must receive adequate depth of treatment.

• Integration of Ideas and Development of Main Line of Argument: an essay should have a beginning, a middle and an end, and sustain a main line of argument throughout. This will require you to assimilate your reading, synthesise the key points, and develop an overall argument that addresses the question asked in a logical and persuasive manner. The essay structure should reflect the particular questions asked in the essay topic.

• Critical Reflection: an essay is essentially an exercise in independent, critical thinking. The essence of critical reflection is the ability to evaluate, in a reasoned and thoughtful manner, the assumptions, perspectives and arguments of others. It entails moving beyond an immediate subjective reaction to something (e.g., “I really like what Stanton said” or “Jones is too liberal”) to giving objective reasons for why a particular line of argument is to be accepted, rejected or qualified at certain points (e.g., “Wright’s perspective is helpful and illuminating because...”, or “Wright’s argument is open to criticism at the following points...”, or “Jones’s approach is stimulating and helpful, but his underlying assumptions are questionable, for the following reasons”). In short, critical reflection is a matter of having sound reasons for the position you adopt or the evaluation you offer.

• Extent and Quality of Reading and Research: a 200 level essay should be based on thorough research; the sources used should, where possible, reflect a variety of perspectives on the topic under discussion. The bibliography should include at least 7-10 items.

• Style and Presentation: your essay should be clearly written, grammatically sound, and well presented. Clarity and accuracy enhance the appeal of any essay. IT IS ESSENTIAL THAT YOU FOLLOW CONSISTENT FOOTNOTING AND BIBLIOGRAPHICAL CONVENTIONS.

• Effective Footnoting: in essays, subsidiary material should be printed in footnotes (or endnotes). Footnotes should be used (i) to cite the sources from which you have derived key facts, opinions or quotations; (ii) to add comments, explanations, examples, or references that are relevant to your argument but which would interrupt its flow if included in the main text; and (iii) to document the differing views of other authors on the point being made and the sources where these can be followed up.

Final Class Test (Learning objectives 1-5) Octber 12

The final test will be held on the last session of the lecture programme. It will consist of both short answer questions and essay questions. The short answer questions will cover the “facts” and terminology covered in the course, and the essay questions will allow the opportunity for in-depth reflection on selected themes and topics.

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism

Academic integrity means that university staff and students, in their teaching and learning are expected to treat others honestly, fairly and with respect at all times. It is not acceptable to mistreat academic, intellectual or creative work that has been done by other people by representing it as your own original work.

Academic integrity is important because it is the core value on which the University’s learning, teaching and research activities are based. Victoria University’s reputation for academic integrity adds value to your qualification.

The University defines plagiarism as presenting someone else’s work as if it were your own, whether you mean to or not. ‘Someone else’s work’ means anything that is not your own idea. Even if it is presented in your own style, you must acknowledge your sources fully and appropriately. This includes:

- Material from books, journals or any other printed source
- The work of other students or staff
- Information from the internet
- Software programs and other electronic material
- Designs and ideas
- The organisation or structuring of any such material

Find out more about plagiarism, how to avoid it and penalties, on the University’s website: http://www.victoria.ac.nz/home/study/plagiarism.aspx

Statement on the use of Turnitin (For reference see s.3.1 of the 2009 Assessment Handbook.)

Student work provided for assessment in this course will be checked for academic integrity by the electronic search engine <http://www.turnitin.com>. Turnitin is an online plagiarism prevention tool which compares submitted work with a very large database of existing material. It identifies material that may have been copied from other sources including the Internet, books, journals, periodicals or the work of other students. Turnitin is used to assist academic staff in detecting misreferencing, misquotation, and the inclusion of unattributed material, which may be forms of cheating or plagiarism.
At the discretion of the Head of School, handwritten work may be copy typed by the School and subject to checking by Turnitin. You are strongly advised to check with your tutor or the course coordinator if you are uncertain about how to use and cite material from other sources. Turnitin will retain a copy of submitted materials on behalf of the University for detection of future plagiarism, but access to the full text of submissions will not be made available to any other party.
How to cite books, articles and internet resources for essays in Religious Studies

What and when to cite
In order to avoid plagiarism (which is serious even when inadvertent), you MUST cite your sources in ALL cases. This means you should basically do two things:

(1) In all cases where you use the exact words of a source, however few (including short phrases, rather than whole sentences), you must use quote marks around all words that are not yours; and

(2) You should footnote your source for all direct quotes (see (1)), facts, ideas, ways of approaching your problem, sources of inspiration, etc. – in other words, you should acknowledge your source in absolutely ALL cases where your source is anything other than your own mind. Err on the side of fastidiousness. Where necessary, you can use the footnote to explain more exactly what you owe to the source in question ("My approach to this question is modelled on that found in . . . "); "The order of treatment in the following is derived from . . . " etc.).

In addition, it is good practice to phrase your writing in the body of your essay so that your debts to your sources are clear, where possible. Use phrases such as, "According to Smith," "Following Scrimgeour, we might say that . . . " "Worple informs us that . . . " "Lockhart contends that . . . " "Bagshot remarks insightfully that . . . " "Binns has shown that . . . " etc.

How to cite
It is mandatory to use a correct citation style in academic writing. The Programme standard in Religious Studies at VUW is the version of Chicago Style for the Humanities. The only exceptions to this Programme standard will be the correct and consistent use of an alternative, standard style when expressly permitted by your course coordinator.

Chicago Humanities style is defined in The Chicago Manual of Style 15th ed. rev. (University of Chicago Press, 2003). The full guide (a hefty volume) is available in the VUW library at Call No. Z253 C532 15ed (ask at the Reference desk). However, the following information should be sufficient for most of your basic needs.

Note that the citation style differs for a footnote and for the bibliography at the end of your essay. For each type of source, we have listed each example in both forms. Each example footnote contains a sample page number so you can be sure how to include the number of the page cited in your footnote.

Note also that as with all academic citation style conventions, every detail of the formatting for Chicago style is fixed. You must thus ensure you follow the examples below in every detail: order, punctuation, formatting (especially italics), spacing and so on.

Some of the details used in these examples have been modified, and some sources therefore do not really exist in the form given below.

Book – single author

Footnote:

Bibliography:

Book – two or more authors

Footnote:

Bibliography:

Chapter or article in edited multi-author volume
Footnote:

Bibliography:

Translated book
Footnote:

Bibliography:

Journal article – single author
Footnote:

Bibliography:

Journal article – two or three authors
Footnote:

Bibliography:

Web site
Footnote:
Paul Kingsbury, "Inducing a Chronology of the Pali Canon,"

Bibliography:
Kingsbury, Paul. "Inducing a Chronology of the Pali Canon."

Reference work (e.g. encyclopaedia or dictionary)
Footnote:

Footnote:

The abbreviation "s.v." is for the Latin sub verbo ("under the word").

Reference works are usually not included in the bibliography.

Sacred texts
Standard citation convention is set for the sacred texts of each major tradition. You must be sure to cite sacred texts in the correct format. Unless your lecturer for a specific course states otherwise (e.g. if conformity to a more complex standard is required for courses specialising in a particular tradition), the following conventions will apply.

The Bible

In quoting the Bible, you should use in-text citation (i.e. give your source in brackets in the body of your text, rather than using a footnote). NOTE that the Bible and the Qur'an are the only exceptions to the general rule AGAINST in-text citation in this Chicago Humanities style. (You should otherwise ALWAYS use footnotes, not in-text citation.)

The Bible is cited by book, chapter and verse. For example:

> . . . as it says in the Bible (1 Kgs 2:7).

Note that books of the Bible are abbreviated according to standard abbreviations. A list of abbreviations should usually be available in the edition of the Bible you are using.

Note also that the punctuation mark comes after the close of the parentheses. This is also the case for the full stop in a direct quote:

> ". . . Absolom thy brother" (1 Kgs 2:7).

When citing multiple passages, list the abbreviated title of each new biblical book followed by the chapter number and colon, with all verses in that chapter separated by a comma and space. A semicolon should separate references to subsequent chapters or books. Do not include the conjunction “and” or an ampersand (“&”) before the last citation. List passages in canonical and numerical order. For example:

> . . . as it says in the Bible (Matt 2:3; 3:4–6; 4:3, 7; Luke 3:6, 8; 12:2, 5).

It is preferable, unless you are discussing differences of translation and interpretation, to use a single version of the Bible throughout a piece of work. In this case, you can indicate that fact by a note with your first citation, and thereafter omit mention of the version:

Footnote:

Where you have to refer to more than one version of the Bible, you can indicate the different versions in footnotes, or by a set of abbreviations that you establish in a footnote early in the essay.

List the versions of the Bible you use in your bibliography. They should appear alphabetically according to title. For example:

This item would be listed alphabetically under "New".

The Qur'an

The name of the text is best written, "Qur'an."

In quoting the Qur'an, you should use in-text citation (i.e. give your source in brackets in the body of your text, rather than using a footnote). NOTE that the Qur'an and the Bible are the only exceptions to the general rule AGAINST in-text citation in this Chicago Humanities style. (You should otherwise ALWAYS use footnotes, not in-text citation.)
When quoting the Qur'an, give the abbreviation "Q.", then cite the number of the sura (chapter), then the number(s) of the ayat (verse). For example:

"Allah is the Light of the heavens and the earth...." (Q. 24:35).

"Praise be to Allah, Lord of the Worlds; The Compassionate, the Merciful; Master of the Day of Judgment" (Q. 1:2-4).

State in the first footnote what "translation" edition is being used for the entire document. For example:

Footnote:
In this essay, all citations from the Qur'an will be taken from An Interpretation of the Qur'an: English Translations of the Meaning (Bilingual Edition), trans. Majid Fakhry (New York: New York University Press, 2000).

If you use more than one source for Qur'anic text in your essay, then you need to provide a separate, footnoted reference to each citation, specifying which version that citation is from.

In your bibliography, list each "translation" edition of the Qur'an you use alphabetically under its title. For example:

Bibliography:

This item would be listed alphabetically under "Interpretation".

Buddhist and Indian texts
For undergraduate purposes, simply cite the English translation you are using as if it is an ordinary translated book. However, note that many Indian or Buddhist texts you will cite are compilations of multiple texts into a single volume. In such cases, you must also include the name of the text in your footnote citation. The name given to the text in English by the translator will suffice; but include the name in the original language also if it is easily accessible. For example:

Footnote:

In your bibliography, list only the whole translated works to which you refer in your essay, according to the usual format. In other words, if you cite more than one sutta etc. from a single volume, you need not list every individual text, but just the volume. For example:

Bibliography:

How to cite in the body of your essay
When you refer to one of your sources in the course of your argument, you should always give your source in a footnote, which is indicated by a superscript number attached to the appropriate part of the sentence.

Note that some other stylistic conventions use what is called “in-text citation”, where references are given in parentheses at the end of the sentence; you will see this method of citation often as you read. HOWEVER, IN-TEXT CITATION IS NOT PART OF THE CHICAGO STYLE INTRODUCED HERE (with the sole exceptions of passages from the Bible or the Qur'an), and you should consistently use footnotes indicated by superscript numbers ONLY.
Footnote style has been given above. Note that footnote numbers should always come after any punctuation mark at the end of the word they attach to; thus, it is correct to write a footnote like this, but wrong to write it like this. One of the advantages of superscript numbered footnoting is that it allows you to make tangential comments, as in this example.

When you refer to the same source several times in a row, you can use "Ibid." and the page number for all subsequent notes after the first. If you are referring to the same page number in several successive notes, then "Ibid." alone is sufficient.

If you cite source A, then cite one or more other sources, and then return to source A, it is best to repeat only the author’s name, a shortened title, and the page number cited, rather than to repeat the full citation. See the footnotes attached to this paragraph (notes 6-9) for examples.

In other words, only use abbreviated citations where you are citing the same source more than one time. Avoid old abbreviations like loc. cit., op. cit. and so on, which can require the reader to keep track of sources over a number of references and pages, and are thus confusing.

1 Random correct placed footnote.
2 Random incorrectly placed footnote.
3 Constance Prevarication, The Book of Tangential Comments (Dargaville: Primrose Path Publications, 2004), 27. It is interesting to note that in this recent work, Prevarication reverses her previous hard-line stance on the literary sidetrack, and not only countenances it in principle, but herself indulges in it extensively in practice.
4 Ibid., 36. [This means the reference is to the same source, but with a different page number.]
5 Ibid. [This means page 36, exactly like the preceding footnote.]
