Class times and locations
Lectures:                     Monday and Thursday, 11 -11.50am, Hugh Mackenzie LT 206
Tutorials:                    Will be held weekly from week 2 (8 March) to week 11 (24
                              May). Students will sign up to tutorials in the first week using S-Cubed. Tutorials are scheduled at a range of times through the week, and rooms will be advised through Blackboard.

Course delivery
HIST112 is taught in two 50-minute lectures per week and one 50 minute tutorial per week in the teaching period beginning Monday 1 March, finishing Friday 4 June. Tutorials meet from week 2 (8 March) to week 11 (24 May). A detailed Tutorial Programme is included in the HIST112 Book of Readings. A Lecture Programme is included in this Course Outline.

Communication of additional information
Additional information concerning the course will be announced in lectures and posted on the Blackboard site for the course.

Course content
A survey of the origins and histories of New Zealand and its peoples from the beginnings of human settlement to the present. Topics covered include Maori-European encounters and conflicts, politics and identities, changes in everyday life, and the shifting relations between New Zealand and the Pacific, Australasian and British worlds. The course will also consider debates in the historical literature and the various sources used in historical analysis.

Learning objectives
Students passing the course will have:

- developed a broad understanding of some of the key processes and patterns in New Zealand’s social, political, cultural and economic history
- developed an understanding of the key patterns in historical understandings of New Zealand’s history, and the ways in which such understandings change and are debated
- developed a knowledge of some key sources for New Zealand history
- developed skills in researching, debating and presenting historical ideas in written and oral forms – emphasising clarity, imagination, and the accurate and appropriate use of referencing (footnotes and bibliography)

Expected workload
In accordance with Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences Guidelines, this course has been constructed on the assumption that students will devote 12 hours per week to HIST112. This includes 2 hours of lectures and a 1 hour tutorial per week.

Readings

Essential texts for HIST112 are:
- Writing History Essays
- HIST112 Book of Readings

The latest edition of Writing History Essays can be downloaded from: http://www.victoria.ac.nz/history/degrees/docs/Writing%20History%20Essays.pdf

For the first two weeks of trimester all undergraduate textbooks and student notes will be sold from the Memorial Theatre foyer, while postgraduate textbooks and student notes will be available from the top floor of VicBooks in the Student Union Building, Kelburn Campus. After week two all undergraduate textbooks will be sold from VicBooks and student notes from the Student Notes Distribution Centre on the ground floor of the Student Union Building.

Customers can order textbooks and student notes online at www.vicbooks.co.nz or can email an order or enquiry to enquiries@vicbooks.co.nz Books can be couriered to customers or they can be picked up from the shop. Customers will be contacted when they are available.

Opening hours are 8.00 am – 6.00 pm, Monday – Friday during term time (closing at 5.00 pm in the holidays). Phone: 463 5515.

Recommended Reading:

The following works provide very useful general histories of New Zealand. Students in HIST112 could consider purchasing one or more of these books for use during the course. All but the Byrnes, ed., New Oxford History of New Zealand, will be available on the secondhand market. If you were to purchase only one, Philippa Mein Smith would probably be your best choice.

Philippa Mein Smith, A Concise History of New Zealand, Melbourne, 2005
A very valuable broad overview incorporating recent research in New Zealand history.

The final work of the late Michael King. A single volume history of New Zealand and New Zealanders from the beginning of human habitation to the present. An excellent introduction to the broad sweep of New Zealand history.

The very latest general history of New Zealand. In a series of thematic chapters the volume tests the notion of New Zealand’s history as a quest for ‘national identity’.

A two volume history of New Zealand, broad, wideranging and provocative.

Illustrated thematic survey of the twentieth century. It usefully summarises recent New Zealand historiography.

Provides comprehensive coverage and detailed bibliographies for each chapter and a useful series of maps and tables.

Illustrated topical chapters across the 19th and 20th centuries.

Survey history of Aotearoa/New Zealand focusing on last 150 years, written from a Maori perspective. First published 1990.

Materials and equipment
No other materials or equipment will be required, except for the usual necessities for university study: pens, paper, and a reliable backup system (i.e. a USB drive or similar) for your computing!

Assessment requirements

HIST112 is internally assessed.

There are four assessment tasks in HIST112:

1. Tutorial Exercise:
   Worth 10% of final grade due on allocated date between weeks 4 – 11 of course (22 March – 24 May). The due date for your tutorial exercise will be allocated in week 2 of the course.

2. Research and Review Assignment
   1200 words, including Bibliography. Worth 25% of final grade, due 5pm, Monday 29 March.

3. Essay
   2,200 words, including Bibliography. Worth 35% of final grade, due 5pm, Friday 21 May.

4. Class test
   (5 short paragraph answers) held in scheduled lecture hour, 11 -11.50am, Thursday 3 June. Worth 30% of final grade, and based on tutorial readings and discussion.

The Research and Review Assignment, and the Essay, are to be handed in at the assignment posting slot at the History office, Old Kirk 405 (Room 405, Level 4, Old Kirk Building). Tutorial exercises are to be handed in to the tutor at the conclusion of the relevant tutorial session.

The Tutorial Exercise is designed to develop knowledge and skills in identifying and assessing sources used in creating history; the Research and Review Assignment is designed to develop skills in understanding patterns of historical understanding, and in discerning the changing nature of historical debate (through considering the place of the individual in history; the Essay is designed to advance skills in research using a broader range of materials and a wider thematic topic, and to develop skills in formulating and presenting historical explanation in written form; the Class test is designed to assess knowledge across a range of topic areas and to recognise and comment on the range of sources and arguments particularly as discussed in the Tutorial Programme.
All the assignments in HIST112 are designed to develop students’ knowledge of New Zealand, the sources from which such history has been created, the changing nature of historical understandings and debates, and to develop skills in researching and presenting history, including accurate and appropriate use of historical referencing (footnotes and bibliography).

The marking schedule for the assignments is as set out in Writing History Essays.

Penalties:
Students will be penalised for late submission of essays - a deduction of:

- 5% for the first day late and,
- 2% thereafter for a maximum of eight days.

Thereafter work can be accepted for mandatory course requirements but will not be marked. However, penalties may be waived if there are valid grounds, e.g., illness (presentation of a medical certificate will be necessary) or similar other contingencies. In such cases, prior information will be necessary, i.e. wherever possible extensions must be sought BEFORE the due date. In such cases, you must fill out a form available from the History office (Old Kirk 405).

Mandatory course requirements:
To gain a pass in this course each student must:

a) Submit the written work specified for this course, on or by the specified dates (subject to such provisions as are stated for late submission of work)
b) Attend 7 of the 10 tutorials.

The tutorial attendance requirement sets a minimum standard. Students are strongly encouraged to attend all tutorials. Tutorial participation is a central part of the course. Tutorial readings and discussion form the basis for the end of course test.

Class Representative
A class representative will be elected in the first week, and that person’s name and contact details will be available to VUWSA, the Course Coordinator and the class. The class representative provides a communication channel to liaise with the Course Coordinator on behalf of students.

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism
Academic integrity means that university staff and students, in their teaching and learning are expected to treat others honestly, fairly and with respect at all times. It is not acceptable to mistreat academic, intellectual or creative work that has been done by other people by representing it as your own original work.

Academic integrity is important because it is the core value on which the University’s learning, teaching and research activities are based. Victoria University’s reputation for academic integrity adds value to your qualification.
The University defines plagiarism as presenting someone else’s work as if it were your own, whether you mean to or not. ‘Someone else’s work’ means anything that is not your own idea. Even if it is presented in your own style, you must acknowledge your sources fully and appropriately. This includes:

- Material from books, journals or any other printed source
- The work of other students or staff
- Information from the internet
- Software programs and other electronic material
- Designs and ideas
- The organisation or structuring of any such material

Find out more about plagiarism, how to avoid it and penalties, on the University’s website: http://www.victoria.ac.nz/home/study/plagiarism.aspx

Use of Turnitin

Student work provided for assessment in this course may be checked for academic integrity by the electronic search engine http://www.turnitin.com. Turnitin is an online plagiarism prevention tool which compares submitted work with a very large database of existing material. At the discretion of the Head of School, handwritten work may be copy-typed by the School and subject to checking by Turnitin. Turnitin will retain a copy of submitted material on behalf of the University for detection of future plagiarism, but access to the full text of submissions is not made available to any other party.

In this course, you are required to submit an electronic copy of the Research and Review Assignment, and the Essay, through the class website on Blackboard, as well as a printed copy handed in at the History office.

GENERAL UNIVERSITY POLICIES AND STATUTES

Students should familiarise themselves with the University’s policies and statutes, particularly the Assessment Statute, the Personal Courses of Study Statute, the Statute on Student Conduct and any statutes relating to the particular qualifications being studied; see the Victoria University Calendar or go to the Academic Policy and Student Policy sections on:

http://www.victoria.ac.nz/home/about/policy

The AVC(Academic) website also provides information for students in a number of areas including Academic Grievances, Student and Staff conduct, Meeting the needs of students with impairments, and student support/VUWSA student advocates. This website can be accessed at:

CLASS TEST – THURSDAY 3 JUNE, 11AM, Hugh Mackenzie 206
ASSIGNMENTS

1. TUTORIAL EXERCISE

Due on allocated date during weeks 4 to 11 of course (22 March- 24 May). The date for your presentation will be allocated to you in week 2. Hand in to tutor at end of tutorial in which exercise is presented. Worth 10% of final grade.

Students are required to prepare, present and submit one tutorial exercise relating to sources used in History during the Tutorial Programme - see HIST112 Book of Readings.

The exercise requires you

- to locate a source relating to the subject of the week’s tutorial discussion and make a 3 minute oral presentation to the tutorial group about it;
- to answer four brief questions concerning the source on the Tutorial Exercise template (see below as last page of handout). Further copies are available on the blackboard site for the course and from your tutor.

Sources can be primary or secondary:

- journal articles, books, videos/DVDs, official publications, located using the VUW Library catalogue (www.victoria.ac.nz/library);
- entries in Te Ara: the Encyclopedia of New Zealand (www.teara.govt.nz), Dictionary of New Zealand Biography (www.dnzb.govt.nz), McLintock’s Encyclopaedia (also available on www.teara.govt.nz but be aware this is a 1966 publication in a 21stC digital format);
- images in Timeframes (www.natlib.govt.nz) or located using Matapihi (www.matapihi.org.nz), moving images held by the New Zealand Film Archive (www.filmarchive.org.nz);
- material objects – flags, monuments, objects on display at Te Papa or elsewhere;
- entries in digital sources such as Te Ao Hou (www.teaohou.natlib.govt.nz) a 1950s-70s source now available in digital format, Papers Past (http://paperspast.natlib.govt.nz), etc.

These sources – and others – will be introduced in the ‘Searching for History in text and type’ Cybercommons workshop held in week 3 of the course (15-19 March).

Where do I begin to look for relevant sources?

In the first instance consult the sources listed above.

Second, in week 3 of the course (15-19 March), we will be running tutorial sessions ‘Searching for History in text and type’. These sessions are designed specifically to introduce you to the sources you will find useful for these exercises. You will receive a handout listing the sites visited at the end of these sessions.
Third, use the sources listed in the ‘History in Wellington – Whanganui-a-Tara’ handout distributed in the first lecture (and available on Blackboard site for the course http://blackboard.vuw.ac.nz).

Fourth, see the links provided on the Blackboard electronic site for the course at http://blackboard.vuw.ac.nz (External links, E-DNZB, NZHistory Net).

The chosen source cannot be an article or book reference which appears in the HIST112 Book of Readings—i.e. a reading for the week or a reference given for Research & Review Assignment or Essay (but could be a source located through using footnotes to such items).

All sources must be in the public domain—i.e., in a place where someone else can find them. Your reference should be complete, accurate and sufficient to enable it to be located easily (and should follow the same format as for a reference given in a footnote or item in a bibliography for an essay—see Writing History Essays for further guidance).

Your brief presentation to the class, and the questions you are asked to complete as the written form of the exercise are as follows:

- what is the source and where is it located (answer in same format as reference given in a footnote or bibliography).
- how was it located?
- how might the source assist in answering questions posed by tutorial topic of the week?
- identify the strengths and weaknesses of this source. How reliable is this source? How much weight should be given to this source in any historical explanation?

The exercise is required to be handed in at the end of that tutorial—in.e. on the day of presentation, on the template attached to this Course Outline (additional copies are available from your tutor and from the blackboard site for the course).

The aims of the exercise are:

- to develop knowledge, and searching skills, in sources of New Zealand history;
- to link knowledge of sources (especially primary sources) to wider understandings built by historians. (i.e., how do the ‘residues’ of history as lived: the raw materials referred to historians as primary sources, become ‘material’ for History as told?);
- to develop creative and critical abilities in locating and using a variety of sources in history-making;
- to provide an additional focus for tutorial discussions.
2. RESEARCH AND REVIEW ASSIGNMENT: PEOPLE, TEXT AND CONTEXT

Due Monday, 29 March, 5pm.
Hand in at posting slot, History office, Old Kirk 405.
The Research and Review assignment is worth 25% of final grade.
1200 words, including Bibliography.

Choosing one of the people listed below, your task in this assignment is to research the life of an historical figure, the context in which that person became known to their contemporaries, and the ways in which the person’s life has been remembered and interpreted in History.

Having found out something about the person and about the history written about them, you must now imagine you are advising the government of the day as to whether or not the person should be the subject of a newly commissioned statue to be paid for by public funds. You are writing the briefing paper as an historian providing professional advice rather than as a lobbyist or politician.

The assignment requires you to locate, read and accurately cite a variety of sources of historical information (using footnotes and a bibliography); to understand and appraise varying historical interpretations; and place an historical subject in context.

The general texts for the course should be consulted along with the particular works listed below. Your assignment should include a bibliography listing all sources used in preparation of the assignment. See Writing History Essays for guidance, including correct citation for footnotes and bibliography (accessible at www.victoria.ac.nz/history, and as a booklet from the Student Notes Shop).

Note that the Dictionary of New Zealand Biography – in print and www.dnzb.govt.nz/dnzb - has entries on all but Tuki-tahua and Huru-kokoti.

1. James Cook, 1728-1779

2. Tuki-tahua and Huru-kokoti, fl. 1790s
   J McAloon, Resource frontiers and settler capitalism, in Eric Pawson and Tom Brooking, eds., Environmental Histories of New Zealand
3. Charlotte Badger, fl. 1806-1808
   Kay Daniels, Convict women, Sydney, 1988
   Deborah Oxley, Convict maids: the forced migration of women to Australia, Melbourne, 1996, Introduction and chapters 7-9 especially useful.
   Kirsty Reid, Gender, crime and empire: convicts, settlers and state in early colonial Australia, Manchester, 2007
   Anne Salmond, Between worlds: early exchanges between Maori and Europeans 1773-1815, Auckland, 1997, especially chapter 15

4. Samuel Marsden, 1765-1838

5. Jane Kendall, 1784-1866
   Judy Corbalis, Tapu, London, 1996 (a novel based on historical events and characters)

6. Jean-Baptiste Pompallier, 1802-1871
   Jessie Munro, Suzanne Aubert, Auckland, 1996
7. Wharetutu Newton ?-1870
   Robert McNab, Murihiku and the southern Islands, Invercargill, 1907

8. Hone Heke (Hone Wiremu Heke Pokai) ?-1850
   Alan Ward, A Show of Justice, Auckland, 1974

9. Marianne Williams, 1793-1879
   Caroline Fitzgerald, ed., Letters from the Bay of Islands: the story of Marianne Williams, Auckland, 2004

10. Robert FitzRoy, 1805-1865
    Alan Ward, A Show of Justice, Auckland, 1974
    Paul Moon, FitzRoy: Governor in crisis, 1843-1845, Auckland, 2000

11. Edward Gibbon Wakefield, 1796-1862
    Patricia Burns, Fatal Success, Auckland, 1989

12. Ernst Dieffenbach, 1811-1855
    Gerda Bell, Ernest Dieffenbach, Rebel and humanist, Palmerston North, 1976
The aims of the Research and Review Assignment are:

- to develop research skills in History
- to develop skills in reading carefully and questioningly
- to consider the role of the individual in their historical context
- to consider different historical interpretations (selection, emphasis, attribution of cause, meaning, action, statement)
- to provide an opportunity to present conclusions in clear and imaginative form (and to develop writing skills).

3. ESSAY

Due Friday, 21 May, 5pm.
Hand in at posting slot, History office, Old Kirk 405.
The Essay is worth 35% of final grade.
2,200 words including Bibliography.

Answer one of the following questions. The essay should be around 2,000 words in length and include a Bibliography listing all the works used in the preparation of the assignment – a total of around 2,200 words.

See Writing History Essays for general guidelines and instructions on how to cite references in footnotes and Bibliography (available from Student Notes Shop or at www.victoria.ac.nz/history).

The recommended general texts in the Course Outline are a useful starting point for all essay questions.

1. How, and when, was New Zealand first settled? How can we know?

Andrew Sharp, Ancient Voyagers in the Pacific, Harmondsworth, 1957
David Lewis, We, the Navigators, Honolulu, 1994
2. Describe and account for change and regional variations in Maori society between first settlement and 1769. What are the strengths and weaknesses of the bases of our knowledge in this area?

Anne Salmond, Two Worlds, Auckland, 1991
Anne Salmond, Between Worlds, Auckland, 1997

3. Which did most to shape long term relations between Maori and European peoples in Aotearoa/New Zealand: muskets, bibles or microbes?
