BLACKBOARD/COMMUNICATION OF ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

The BlackBoard resource will be used for basic communication between the course coordinator and the class. It will also be used for posting summary lecture notes, often a copy of the power point slides used during lectures. Other additional information related to SOSC 216 will be communicated via BlackBoard or e-mail.

CLASS REPRESENTATIVE

A class representative will be recruited in consultation with the class at the beginning of the course. The class representative’s name and contact details will be available to the Victoria University of Wellington Students’ Association (VUWSA), the course coordinator and the class (via BlackBoard). The class representative provides a communication channel to liaise with the course coordinator on behalf of students.

COURSE CONTENT AND LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Ordinary life is pretty complex stuff. (Harvey Pekar in American Splendour)

It does get tiresome. That’s the truth of it; I’d be flat out bullshitting you if I said different. There are a lot of times when I’d like to be absolutely incognito, same as everybody else. Occasions like when I’m with my partner say. Maybe we’ve gone to a restaurant for dinner and it would be nice if people were looking at us because we’re a great couple. Feeling happy for us, two people out having a great time together, which we are. But no, that’s not the reason. The reason they are looking our way, is that I am eating with my feet. (Glenn Busch, The Man With No Arms and Other Stories, 2007: 16)

Everyday life is by and large a very orderly thing. We take this for granted, consequently many sociologists feel they can quickly pass over the study of everyday life. However, there are good reasons to follow Garfinkel’s (1967) suggestion that we ought to get around to studying this taken-for-granted realm. This course aims to show just how interesting the ordinary can be, giving students a sample of the theoretical debates and empirical research in the sociology of everyday life. The aims are to:

1. Introduce the sociology of everyday life, in particular to present time, space, and the body as a basic framework for sociological analysis.

2. Introduce students to analytical questions regarding everyday life: how do we pose sociological questions about ordinary activities? What kind of data can we use and what guides our analysis of it?

WORKSHOP PROGRAMME

The workshops, run in various class sessions, are equivalent to tutorials. Attendance is not compulsory. The workshops will be based on the readings contained in the course book of readings (contents listed below). The course coordinator will specify in advance which readings each workshop will be based on. NOTE: There is little point in turning up to the workshops unless you have read and thought about the required reading.

Busch, Glenn. 2007. ‘Steve Roome’, pp 13-43 in The Man With No Arms &
Other Stories. Lyttelton: Dinard Press

ASSESSMENT REQUIREMENTS

SOSC 216 is internally assessed (there is no final examination) and involves three pieces of work: an in-class test (20%), a practical exercise (40%), and an essay (40%). Any further guidance statements on assessment will be posted on BlackBoard.

1. In-class test
   Grade weight: 20%
   Due: In-class, Monday March 29

   The test will be on Monday March 29 in normal class time. It will be based on material presented from sessions 1 to 8, including material discussed in workshop 1.
2. Practical Exercise
   Grade weight: 40%
   Due: 4pm, Friday May 7
   Suggested length: 2500 words

Observation Exercise

This assignment involves building observational skills and thinking about how to describe and analyse social interaction. Instructions are as follows:

Select a setting in which you regularly participate, or about which you have some interest. You should be able to observe this setting without drawing attention to yourself, ie. Make sure the setting you choose does not involve issues of access or confidentiality. NOTE: you are there to observe, NOT to openly question anyone. Spend time observing, and when convenient take notes on what you see. Make a sketch map of the site.

Now write up your description, paying attention to the following questions:

1. How are the boundaries of the setting established? What sort of activities does the physical layout encourage, discourage, or is it neutral towards?

2. How do people use the space you are studying? What do they show they are attending to? How do they communicate with one another or avoid communication? Do they look at one another or avoid it? What distance do they keep between one another? What are the key resources and constraints present in the setting? Do people use the setting as a resource for engaging in activities not specifically intended (but not necessarily inappropriate) in that setting?

3. In what ways are people using the space to co-operate with one another to define themselves and the setting as a particular social interaction? How do people organise their activities in a collective fashion? How is the ‘sense’ of the setting achieved?

4. If you were to visit your setting at a different time what difference would that make to what is taking place?

5. What makes the setting you have studied ‘everyday’? What aspects of what you have observed might you expect to see elsewhere?
3. Essay

Grade weight: 40%

Due: 4pm, Tuesday, June 8

Suggested length: 2500 words

There is no set topic for this essay – you are free to work up an essay on a topic of your own choice. If you have difficulty doing so, or if you wish to discuss the practicalities of the topic you choose, please feel free to consult the course coordinator. Some options include:

1. Having read the course book of readings you may wish to develop an essay on aspects of everyday life, from one, or more, of the readings.

3. You could choose to focus on one of the basic frameworks – time, space, body – and read and write on some of the recent discussions in these areas.

4. Following on from the way EDL studies use close description, you could work up a stimulating exploration of a singular topic: ‘At the beach …’; ‘On the internet …’; ‘In the car …’; ‘Waiting in the queue …’; ‘At my gym …’; ‘At work …’; ‘On the phone …’; ‘At my local café …’; ‘Watching tv …’; ‘Shopping at …’ or any such everyday activity.

MANDATORY COURSE REQUIREMENTS

To gain a pass in this course each student must:

- Sit the in-class test
- Submit the Practical Exercise
- Submit the Essay.

While attendance at lectures is not compulsory, students are expected to regularly attend lectures, and will be advantaged if they do so.

EXPECTED WORKLOAD

University guidelines stipulate that a half year stage two course should require 14 hours per week of student work (this includes class time).
COURSE WITHDRAWAL PROCEDURES

If you decide for ANY reason at ANY stage to withdraw from SOSC 216 (or any other course) please see the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences office on the 4th floor of the Murphy Building for an Add/Drop Course form. HANDING IN ESSAYS AND OTHER WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS

When?
It is the policy of the School of Social and Cultural Studies that all written assignments must be handed in by 4 pm on the due date.

Where?
Assignments must be placed in the assignment box located to the side of the lifts on level 9, Murphy Building.

Assignments MUST NOT be placed in individual staff pigeonholes, or under staff office doors, or handed to lecturers or tutors. This is to ensure that all work is properly recorded when submitted, and to avoid problems that have arisen in the past when work has “gone missing”.

At 4 pm the assignment box is emptied, the work date-stamped and its receipt recorded, and then handed to the appropriate markers.

SCHOOL ASSIGNMENT COVER SHEET

Please include a School Assignment Cover sheet when submitting your assignments. You may wish to have your own front sheet, but please ensure you place the School’s cover sheet on the top as this ensures critical identifying information is provided. A sample School Assignment Cover sheet is at the end of this Outline. Further copies may be found at the School Administration office, and on the Assignment Box, on level 9 of Murphy building.

Students MUST keep a photocopy of every written assignment
Unless students have followed this procedure, the School will not accept responsibility for pieces of written work claimed to have been handed in.

EXTENSIONS

If you are given an extension, a new submission date will be identified and you will have to submit the work in the same manner as above by 4 p.m. on that day. Failure to do so will result in penalties being applied in the same manner as those for the original submission date.

LATE PENALTIES

Late submissions for student assignments in all Sociology and Social Policy undergraduate courses are subject to a penalty. The exact deduction will be calculated on the basis of one half mark per day late for each 10 marks, i.e. 1 mark will be deducted each day for an assignment worth 20% of the total course mark.

Please note that assignments will not be accepted for marking more than 7 days after the due date or 7 days after an approved extension date. They must, however, be submitted to meet mandatory course requirements.

GENERAL UNIVERSITY STATUTES AND POLICIES

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY AND PLAGIARISM

Academic integrity means that university staff and students, in their teaching and learning are expected to treat others honestly, fairly and with respect at all times. It is not acceptable to mistreat academic, intellectual or creative work that has been done by other people by representing it as your own original work.
Academic integrity is important because it is the core value on which the University’s learning, teaching and research activities are based. Victoria University’s reputation for academic integrity adds value to your qualification.

The University defines plagiarism as presenting someone else’s work as if it were your own, whether you mean to or not. ‘Someone else’s work’ means anything that is not your own idea. Even if it is presented in your own style, you must acknowledge your sources fully and appropriately. This includes:

- Material from books, journals or any other printed source
- The work of other students or staff
- Information from the internet
- Software programs and other electronic material
- Designs and ideas
