INTERNATIONAL RECOGNITION
Discovering the international reputation of Victoria University of Wellington helped Li make his decision about where to study.

“I chose Victoria University of Wellington after talking with people who had done Marine Biology and getting the feel of what it was like. I spoke to a student who had come all the way from Germany to study here, after hearing about the University’s Marine Ecology programme. I thought, if you’re coming all the way from Germany—why wouldn’t I stay in Wellington and study here?”

A WORLD-CLASS EXPERIENCE
Li has made the most of his access to the world-class academics at Victoria University of Wellington, and has learned everything he can in his time here.

“I think that the lecturers, who teach such specialised subjects, really love it and they teach because they want to. If you ask a question, they talk to you because they like that you’re showing interest and they want to share what they know. You start to appreciate just how well versed they are in their field.”

COMBINING STUDY WITH SPORT
The range of clubs at Victoria University of Wellington provides a chance to try new things, and joining one of these clubs has taken Li around the world.

“A friend played ultimate frisbee in one of the Wellington leagues so I got involved through him, and when I came to Victoria University I joined the team here. We went to the University Games and the captain for the New Zealand under-19 team saw me play and suggested I try out. I made the team and now I get to travel the world to play.”

TYPICAL DAY
“My lecture times vary between mornings and afternoons, and I often have labs in the afternoon so my start time is always different. I have friends who live close to the Kelburn campus, so I’ll pop round if I have a break for lunch, or just hang out in the Library, which is a great space to do some study. On a nice day, I’ll organise to meet with some friends and throw a frisbee around on Boyd-Wilson field.”

“Don’t be afraid to make mistakes, because you don’t have to have it all sorted when you get to university. It’s actually while being here that I’ve figured out what I love.”

Victoria University of Wellington has three campuses in Wellington City, all within walking distance of each other. Each campus has a distinct feel.

Kelburn, the main campus, is home to the Humanities and Social Sciences, Education, Health, Science and Engineering faculties, New Zealand School of Music Te Kōkī (NZSM), and hosts a wide range of student services as well as a purpose-built student hub for socialising or studying.

The Pipitea campus is located in the heart of the city, right next door to the New Zealand Parliament, Supreme Court of New Zealand and central business district. This is where Business and Law students spend most of their time.

Te Aro is the Architecture and Design hub, in a purpose-built campus to get those creative thoughts flowing. It is also next to Cuba Street—Wellington’s culinary and creative soul.

HOMESTAY
A homestay means you live with a local family—homestays are great for practising your English. Most homestays are not within walking distance of the University, so you may have to travel to get there.

You'll get your own fully-furnished bedroom and most of your meals are provided (you just have to buy your own lunch during the week).

Host Families NZ facilitate homestay accommodation for the University.

PRIVATE ACCOMMODATION
Also known as ‘flattering’ in New Zealand – this could be in an apartment, townhouse or a house. There are many options available in Wellington.

UNDER-18 ACCOMMODATION
If you are under the age of 18 years when you begin your studies, you are required to live in a homestay or catered hall of residence.

LIVING COSTS
The amount you will spend on living costs depends a lot on your needs and habits. There is a range of lifestyles. The following amounts are in New Zealand dollars and based on 40 weeks (two trimesters) in Wellington:

- Essential living costs (keeping it basic, but comfortable): $18,000
- Generous living costs (allowing for weekend trips and enjoying the night life): $27,000.

For more information about accommodation and how to apply, go to www.victoria.ac.nz/accommodation

PLANNING SCHOOL SUBJECTS

All of our degrees have recommended school subjects, however, in nearly all cases, there are introductory or bridging courses offered at the University for those with limited background in a subject area.

You can still enrol in a specific degree/major/course if you have not studied a related subject at school, but for some subjects (such as Mathematics, Chemistry and Physics), it is useful if you have studied these at school. It is also very important that you take four or five University Entrance approved subjects.

For tips on planning school subjects and a list of recommended school subjects for each of the degrees we offer, go to

- www.victoria.ac.nz/study/course-planning
- Explore your study options at the University
- www.victoria.ac.nz/international/study/undergraduate

TEACHER EDUCATION

If you plan to become an early childhood teacher, you can apply to study the Bachelor of Education (Teaching) Early Childhood. Once you complete your degree, you’ll be eligible for provisional teacher registration.

If you plan to become a primary or secondary school teacher, you should first study a degree in the subject area you are interested in teaching. Once you have completed your degree, you can study a one-year teaching qualification, such as the Graduate Diploma (Primary or Secondary), to become a registered teacher.

REAL-WORLD COURSES AT VICTORIA UNIVERSITY OF WELLINGTON

“All the commerce courses I’ve taken have broken the narrow stereotypes that I had when I left secondary school. The lecturers push students to consider the real-world aspects, especially the limitations, of the theories that we cover in class.”

FINDING YOUR FOCUS

“Having focused mainly on science at secondary school, the first year of commerce was a big change. I took all seven core courses plus a Japanese course. I found marketing and Japanese particularly interesting, so I am including them as interest courses as part of my degree.”

“I received a fully-funded language and culture trip to Japan in January 2016. This allowed me to meet and make friends with some really interesting and talented students studying varying degrees from diverse backgrounds.”

BALANCING STUDY AND SOCIAL LIFE

“Make sure you make friends. Victoria University of Wellington offers many additional courses through student learning that help with everything from essay writing to presentation skills, so there is always someone out there to help you when study gets tough.”

“I am a member of Beta Alpha Psi and the Business and Investment Club. Both clubs often run events where we can network or listen to industry professionals. These have helped me to gain a better knowledge of how to apply what I have learned in the University to the real world. I intend to work as an investment analyst in investment banking or financial markets.”
HOW DEGREES WORK

Some of our degrees are flexible—allowing you to mix and match different subjects to form one degree and even giving you the chance to choose majors from other degrees.

Some degrees are quite specialised and focus on one particular area of study. Most of your first-year courses in these degrees are already set, which leaves a small amount of space for elective courses.

DEGREES

A degree is a qualification awarded when you complete a programme of university study. Your first university degree is called an undergraduate, or Bachelor’s degree and usually requires 360 points in three years of full-time study. Some degrees take longer—for example, a Bachelor of Laws takes four years.

MAJORS

A major is the main subject you focus on throughout your degree. For example, you can take a Bachelor of Arts with a major in History or a Bachelor of Commerce with a major in Management. You will take courses in your major subject through to your final year. Your major will normally make up about a third of the courses in your degree.

DOUBLE MAJORS

Many students choose to major in two subjects within one degree—for example, a Bachelor of Arts with a double major in History and French. This requires the same number of points as a degree with only one major, and should not take any extra time. Some of our degrees let you take a second major from another degree—for example, you can do a Bachelor of Science with a double major in Physics and German.

MINORS

In some of our degrees, you can take a minor, which is similar to a major, but with fewer courses. You can include a minor in the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Commerce, Bachelor of Design Innovation and Bachelor of Science.

CONJOINT PROGRAMMES

A conjoint degree programme is a specialised programme which, due to cross-crediting, allows two degrees to be completed in a shorter amount of time. For example, a conjoint Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Laws would take five years to complete.

ELECTIVES

If you still have room in your programme, you can include other subjects in which you are interested (often called electives).

Rank and guaranteed entry scores do not apply to International students
All international students apply for admission and first-year enrolment through Victoria International.

If you are an international student at a secondary school in New Zealand studying for the National Certificate of Achievement (NCEA), Cambridge International Examinations (CIE) or the International Baccalaureate Diploma (IB), you will need to meet the minimum requirements for the qualification you are studying towards to be admitted to the University. Check the minimum requirements listed below to see what you need to gain admission. The Guaranteed Entry Scores (GES) for NCEA, CIE and IB do not apply to international students.

If you do not meet the minimum requirements, you may consider either staying on at school to achieve your qualification or enrolling in the Victoria Foundation Studies Programme, taught by ACG New Zealand International College. Successful completion of this programme also meets the minimum academic requirements for admission to Victoria University of Wellington.

ENGLISH REQUIREMENTS

If you gain University Entrance (UE) and have studied at a New Zealand secondary school for at least one year, you meet Victoria’s English language requirements. You do not need to provide any further proof of English proficiency.

If you plan on studying an Education degree, you will need to have studied at a New Zealand secondary school for at least two years or achieve IELTS overall band of 7.0 with no subscore below 7.0.

STUDENT APPLYING WITH NCEA

You will need to achieve University Entrance through the National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA):

For specialised lists of standards, go to www.nzqa.govt.nz

Attain NCEA Level 3:

AN NCEA LEVEL 3 CERTIFICATE

- LITERACY
  - 10 credits at Level 2 or above (5 in reading, 5 in writing)

- NUMERACY
  - 10 credits at Level 1 or above

- 14 CREDITS AT LEVEL 3 IN AN APPROVED SUBJECT 1

- 14 CREDITS AT LEVEL 3 IN AN APPROVED SUBJECT 2

- 14 CREDITS AT LEVEL 3 IN AN APPROVED SUBJECT 3

- 14 credits at Level 3 in each of three Approved Subjects, from the approved subject list

- University Entrance Numeracy: At least 10 credits at Level 1 or higher from specific standards

- University Entrance Literacy: At least 10 credits at Level 2 or higher; 5 credits must be in reading and 5 in writing from specific standards.

The Guaranteed Entry Scores (GES) do not apply to international students. You only need to achieve the above in order to meet the minimum requirements for admission.

STUDENTS APPLYING WITH CIE

You will need to achieve University Entrance through the Cambridge International Examinations (CIE):

- Attain a minimum of 120 points on the UCAS Tariff at A or AS level from any syllabus groups, which are broadly equivalent to those in the list of approved subjects for NCEA
- D grade or better in syllabuses from at least three different syllabus groups (excluding Thinking Skills)
- E grade or better in any one of AS-level English Language, Language and Literature in English, or Literature in English
- D grade or better in IGCSE or GCSE Mathematics.

The Guaranteed Entry Scores (GES) do not apply to international students.

STUDENTS APPLYING WITH IB

You will need to achieve University Entrance through the International Baccalaureate Diploma (IB):

- Attain the full IB Diploma (you need to achieve a minimum of 24 points)
- Achieve a grade of 3 or higher in IB English.

The Guaranteed Entry Scores (GES) do not apply to international students.

FOUNDATION STUDIES PROGRAMME

If you do not meet the minimum requirements, you may consider enrolling in the Victoria University of Wellington Foundation Studies Programme.

The Victoria University of Wellington Foundation Studies Programme is taught exclusively by ACG New Zealand International College and offers successful students guaranteed entry to Victoria University of Wellington’s undergraduate programmes.

The programme offers flexibility with four intakes per year and 6, 8 and 12 and 18-month course options (two, three, four or six terms), depending on your academic background and level of English. The curriculum develops subject knowledge and skills as well as entrepreneurial enterprise, leadership and team skills to equip you for university. When you apply for the Victoria University of Wellington Foundation Studies Programme you will receive two offers of place at the time of application: a letter of offer for the foundation programme and a conditional letter of offer for an Undergraduate degree at Victoria University of Wellington. An unconditional offer of place will be issued as soon as you have successfully completed the Foundation Studies Programme and met admission requirements.

Apply for this programme through ACG New Zealand International College

www.acgedu.com/victoriapathways
HOW DO I APPLY?

International students must submit an application to Victoria International. The International Admissions team at Victoria International assesses all international student applications. To submit an application, follow these steps:

STEP 1
COMPLETE AN INTERNATIONAL STUDENT APPLICATION

Go to our website and follow the instructions on how to apply as an international New Zealand secondary school student.

www.victoria.ac.nz/international/applying

STEP 2
RECEIVE A CONDITIONAL OFFER OF PLACE AND AN INVITATION TO ENROL ONLINE

You will have a conditional Offer of Place until your NCEA, IB or CIE results have been released. With a conditional Offer of Place, you are able to enrol online into courses you want to study, apply for accommodation, pay your tuition fees and prepare all the documents for your new visa. See the Visa section on the right-hand side for more information.

STEP 3
RECEIVE AN UNCONDITIONAL OFFER OF PLACE

After your results are released in January and the International Admissions team has checked you have met the entry requirements, you will receive an unconditional Offer of Place. If you have applied for admission with NCEA, you do not need to send your results to our team—we will verify your results online when they are released in January.

If you have applied for admission with CIE, you need to send your Cambridge Centre and candidate numbers to our team—we will then verify your results online when they are released in January.

If you have applied for admission with IB, you need to submit your results to us electronically. Our institution code is: 001649. Request your IB results to be released to us here:

STEP 4
ACCEPT YOUR OFFER OF PLACE

You can do this online at:

www.victoria.ac.nz/international/pre-arrival/your-offer

STEP 5
PREPARE FOR STUDY AT VICTORIA UNIVERSITY OF WELLINGTON

Once you have received your unconditional Offer of Place, you should have already prepared all your visa application materials and now you will need to apply for your visa. See the Visa section on the right-hand side for more information. Check your inbox regularly for more information from Victoria International about preparing for your study.

APPLICATION DEADLINES

You can submit your application when you are in your final year of secondary school study.

We recommend you apply before 1 December. However, applications can be received after this date.

You need to submit your application to Victoria International before you will be able to enrol online for courses. Online enrolment is open between 1 October and 10 December for limited-entry programmes and limited-entry courses. For all other programmes and courses for international students, online enrolment is open between 1 October and the beginning of February.

Early application deadlines

The Bachelor of Education (Teaching) Early Childhood application deadline is 1 December. Education students must have supporting referees, make declarations about health/disability issues and any criminal convictions, and attend at an assessment exercise.

Classical Performance and Jazz Performance students must audition and have an early application deadline. Check audition application dates on the New Zealand School of Music Te Kōkī website:

www.victoria.ac.nz/nzsm

VISA INFORMATION

All international students must have a valid student visa to enrol at Victoria University of Wellington. You cannot enrol with a secondary school visa.

A valid visa must:

- state the name of the programme you will be enrolling in (e.g. Bachelor of Commerce)
- state the name of the institution you will be enrolling at (e.g. Victoria University of Wellington).

You can apply for a student visa through Victoria International if you:

- are already in Wellington at the time of application
- hold a valid New Zealand student visa.

You need an unconditional Offer of Place to study at Victoria University of Wellington to apply for your student visa. You will receive this when your NCEA, CIE or IB results have been verified by Victoria International in January.

We recommend that you pay your tuition fees as soon as you receive your Offer of Place. You need evidence that you have paid your fees (or have funding for them, like a scholarship or student loan) to apply for your student visa. When you have paid your fees, we’ll send you a Summary of Deposit to use as proof of payment for your visa application.
